

New Oxford Item.

H. I. SMITH, EDITOR.

AN INDEPENDENT LOCAL JOURNAL.

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.

Volume XII.

New Oxford, Pa., Friday, July 18, 1890.

Number 1.

When you go to

YORK

don't fail to visit

LINK & BOND'S
MUSIC STORE.

and if you need anything like a

Piano,

Organ,

Violin,

Guitar,

Banjo,

Accordeon,

Sheet Music

—or—

Music Books,

you will find that they will give you more for your money than you can get anywhere else, and they will show a better variety to select from.

Link & Bond,

A few doors East of Court House,
20 East Market street.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. G. R. MARKEL,

HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, Graduate of the Hahnemann Medical College, of Philadelphia. Will attend promptly to calls night or day. Consultations in English and German. Office on E. High St., New Oxford.

DR. T. STRAHAN,

Physician and Surgeon, will attend to professional calls night or day. Office on Philadelphia street, near Centre Square, New Oxford.

DR. I. M. BUSH,

Veterinary Surgeon, graduate of the Chicago Veterinary College, will visit New Oxford every other Thursday, and will treat domestic animals of all kinds, calls promptly attended to. Orders left with C. A. Klingel, next door to IREX office, will receive prompt attention.

J. L. BUTT,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office with J. A. Kitzmiller, on second floor of pangle building on Baltimore street. Prompt attention given to settlement of estates of decedents, minors, &c.; also, to conveying, liens and collections. 222 East 5th

J. A. KITZMILLER,

(Successor to H. B. Woods, Esq.) ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, has removed his office to the second story of Spangler's building, Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa., recently occupied by H. B. Woods, Esq. Will attend to collections and all other business entrusted to him.

S. MC. SWOPE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office on Baltimore street, opposite the court house. 17-2-82

REMOVED.

WM. ARCH. MCLEAN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office on the first floor in the Schich property, southwest corner of the Diamond, 7nov84

G. J. BENNER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office above G. W. Spangler's store, southeast corner of Square. 7nov84

CHAS. S. DUNCAN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Will continue the practice of law at the office of his father, the late W. A. Duncan, on Baltimore street. All legal business entrusted to him will receive prompt attention. 8mas85

JOHN M. KRAUTH,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office on Baltimore street, south of Court House. 12dec85

LAW, LOAN & REAL ESTATE OFFICES.—In connection with law practice, will do a Real Estate and Loan business. Sale Books are opened to all desiring to sell or buy Real Estate, without charge for reference. Both parties desiring to make and parties desiring to obtain loans will receive attention on application to D. McCONAUGHY, Attorney, 17 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg, Pa.

D. J. A. MELHORN,

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, New Oxford, Pa. Office on Main street, (blue front) near the R. R. depot. Special attention given to the writing of deeds, bonds, mortgages and other legal documents. All claims and legal business promptly and fairly attended to. Legal advice cheerfully given.

We do all kinds of

Job Printing

at very low prices.

—GIVE US A CALL.—

A Great Event

In our life is the discovery of a remedy for some long-standing malady. The poison of Scrofula is in your blood. You inherited it from your ancestors. Will you transmit it to your offspring? In the great majority of cases, both Consumption and Catarrh originate in Scrofula. It is supposed to be the primary source of many other derangements of the body. Begin at once to cleanse your blood with the standard alternative.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For several months I was troubled with scrofulous eruptions over the whole body. My appetite was bad, and my system so prostrated that I was unable to work. After trying several remedies in vain, I resolved to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and did so with such good effect that less than one bottle and strength. The rapidity of the cure astonished me, as I expected the process to be long and tedious. —Frederico Mariz Fernandez, Villa Nova de Gaya, Portugal.

Restored My Health

For many years I was a sufferer from scrofula, until about three years ago, when I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, since which the disease has entirely disappeared. A little child of mine, who was troubled with the same complaint, has also been cured by this medicine. —H. Brandt, Avoca, Nebr.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by Druggists. $1.50 per bottle. Worth $5 a bottle.

HOTELS & C.

Engle Hotel.

Gen. Sq., New Oxford, Geo. Sunday, Proprietor. House thoroughly refitted and furnished. The bar stocked with choice wines, liquors and cigars, while the table will be supplied with the choicest delicacies the market affords. Ample stabling. 24Jan90.

NATIONAL HOTEL,

AT THE RAILROAD, LITTLESTOWN, PA. J. H. WEST, Agent. Good accommodations at moderate charges. Bar stocked with choice wines, liquors and cigars. A large and well-fitted sample room. First-class Billiard and Pool Tables. Extensive stabling and shedding attached.

CENTRAL HOTEL.

HANOVER, PA.

D. C. FLEMING, PROPRIETOR,
(formerly of the City Hotel, York.)
Free bus; steam heat; good stable accommodations. 28.

GLOBE HOTEL,

York street, Gettysburg, Pa. W. J. REIGART, (successor to F. S. Rame.) Good accommodations at moderate charges. Good sample room, back to and from all depots and first-class living attached to hotel. Having recently refitted and renovated the above well-known hotel, I will be pleased to accommodate the traveling public in general.

To the General Public!

J. W. Barnitz,

having purchased the Drug Store of F. G. Cook, respectfully solicits a share of the public patronage. An entire new stock of

Drugs, Chemicals, Hair Brushes,
Fancy Articles, Patent Medicines, Perfumery,
Dye
Stuffs, &c.,

such as are kept in a first-class drug store. All articles will be sold at reasonable rates.

S. Morgan Smith, Sons & Co's

Snow —CHEAPER than the cheapest!

Drift

Better than the best!

Has immense sales wherever introduced. Try it! For sale at

O. A. SMITH'S FAMILY GROCERY,
New Oxford, Pa.

The accident at the farm of Henry Anglemiller, near Mercersburg, last week, by which Anglemiller's daughter, Mrs. George Miller, had both her feet cut off, was most peculiar and distressing. Anglemiller was starting to mow a field of grass which adjoined his house. In making the first cut, he thoughtlessly stopped alongside a shed which contained a dozen skeps of bees. The perspiration on the horses attracted the bees, and they left their hives and swarmed on the man and horses. Anglemiller shouted for help, and his daughter came running out of the house. She threw her dress over her head to protect herself from the bees, ran in front of the machine and stooped down to loosen the traces and liberate the horses. As she did so the maddened horses sprang forward and cut both of her feet off at the ankle joint.—They each hung by a small piece of skin, and double amputation was made by the physicians. She rallied from the shock, and it is thought she will recover. She is about 30 years old, and has four children, the youngest only four months old. Her father is in a very serious condition from the bee stings. The horses will likely die.

The seizure a few days ago by United States Marshal Harrah, of Pittsburgh, of thirteen barrels of whiskey shipped by Strouse & Co., of Philadelphia, to their agent in Allegheny county, because the barrels were stamped so as to make it appear that the whisky was two years older than it really was, is likely to be followed by startling disclosures.

On Wednesday information was brought to Internal Revenue Collector Warmcastle, of the Twenty second district, that two wholesale liquor firms, whose names are withheld; but who are said to be among the most reputable in the county, have been employed in the same business, and there is reason to believe the fraud is generally practiced all over the county. By changing the stamps which are placed on the barrels with a stencil the dealers obtain more than double the market price for the quantity of the whisky they sell. It is a violation of law, punishable by fine of $1000 for every barrel on which the stamp has been changed.

Considerable excitement was occasioned Saturday afternoon in the village of Foster, on the Northern Division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, about thirty miles from Scranton, by the finding of a woman's body in the woods near the railroad track. A party of men passing through a patch of woods discovered the almost unrecognizable remains of Mrs. Marshall Henry, who had left her home in Foster about 2 o'clock in the afternoon to pick raspberries. She had been bitten by a rattlesnake and her body was swollen to unnatural proportions. The marks of the snake's fangs were visible on her arms.

THE DOCTOR AND POSTMASTER were talking about a case of serious illness, due to a neglected cold and was rapidly going into consumption, which was promptly cured by Pan-Tina cough and consumption cure. Price 25 and 50 cents. Trial bottles free.

Experience has shown that sufferers with dyspepsia, biliousness and liver complaint, in fact all diseases arising from a disordered system, that nothing equals Dr. Lee's Liver Regulator for these troubles. Try it. Trial bottles free at Barnitz's drug store.

Something remarkable happened near Sydney, Ohio, to a cow. There were two large trees close together on the edge of a clover field. A fence touched either tree, but the gap had no fence. The cow squeezed into the gap, and without passing through began to browse. She soon began to swell with gas generated by the green clover, and to get her out one of the trees had to be cut down.

John Roth, a pauper in the county hospital at Galena, Ill., according to the testimony of the county physician and of Superintendent Byrne has not tasted food, solid or liquid, in eight weeks.

Hugh McGeehan, of Lancaster, and Nora Breidenbach, formerly of Reading appeared before a Lancaster Alderman last Thursday evening with a marriage license and asked to be made man and wife. The Alderman performed the ceremony, and the bridal couple then proposed to take their wedding trip in a buggy driving around town. After spending some in this way the groom got out to "see a man." A moment later a young friend of the bride came along and she invited him in the buggy to take a ride. They drove away, and the enraged groom promptly went before Alderman Barr and made complaint against his wife for larceny. The runaway couple were arrested at an early hour Friday morning, and the bride of a night spent the morning hours in the station house, and is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing. Nora now says she is done with Hugh, and Hugh declares emphatically that marriage is not a success.

J. F. Bentel, a well known business man of Freedom, Pa., was arrested in Pittsburgh Thursday night for forgery, while celebrating his wedding feast. The arrest broke up the feast. The bride offered to settle the alleged case of forgery by payment of the amount on the spot, but the groom refused to permit this, and gave bail. The amount is but $150 and Bentel says it is a case to squeeze him. He gave a note endorsed by a Mr. Bauman for that sum and on account of property litigation the note went to protest. Bauman repudiated the signature on the back of the note and an officer appeared upon the scene and arrested the groom just as he was about to respond to a toast to the health of the bride. Mr. Bentel is a member of one of the oldest and best known families in Beaver county, and his arrest caused a sensation.

On Saturday, June 1, Samuel G. Hale, aged about 73 years, who resided with his son, John Hale, in New Cumberland, Cumberland county, disappeared from his home and no trace of him could be found until the middle of last week when Mrs. Jacob Leach and daughter, Barbara, who were picking berries on the river hills, near Eichberger's distillery about two miles from his son's home, discovered the body of a man at the foot of a tree. They at once sent word to Mr. Hale, believing that it was the body of his father. He proceeded to the spot and identified the corpse by the clothing and a letter. The man had been dead for some time and the body was greatly decomposed. An empty vial was found by one side and a coiled rope on the other side, leaving no doubt that it was a case of suicide.

Incredible cruelties have been practiced on Chinese soldiers in Formosa. The men were mainly opium-smokers recruited from the dregs of the big cities. After the war ended most of the soldiers were given passage back from Formosa, but were not supplied with food, and the result was starvation and disease. Many of the sick were crowded into coffins and buried alive. A European witnessed one case where the victim struggled to prevent the coffin-lid being nailed down.

The July session of the Board of Pardons was held at Harrisburg last Tuesday. The greater portion of the time was taken up in the discussion of the case of John W. Rudy, of Lancaster, for murder in the first degree. Late at night the Board recommended that in this case the death sentence should be commuted to imprisonment for life.

The little town of Rockville, in Tioga county, was almost totally wiped out by fire last Tuesday. The fire started in F. C. Avery's hotel and burned that building, the hotel barns, the Methodist church, C. B. Hanyan's store and barns and eleven dwellings, besides ten or twelve barns. Twenty-three buildings in all were burned.

A Georgia man has been pardoned after serving sixteen years of a life sentence for a murder of which he was innocent.

At Osaka, Japan, fifty-nine people were drowned on June 15 during the launching of a new sailing vessel. The occasion excited considerable interest and about 250 people crowded on the boat. The owner, however, became apprehensive and ordered 100 of them ashore. When the launch commenced it was ebb tide and as the ropes used in securing her were too short the vessel keeled. The people on board immediately rushed to the other side, which had the effect of turning the vessel completely over, and those on board were precipitated in the water. Those on shore rendered every assistance possible, but their efforts were generally unavailing. Fifty-five bodies have been recovered. Four persons are still missing. About twenty persons were more or less injured.

An awful cyclone struck the region of St. Paul, Minn., Sunday afternoon and it is thought that about forty lives have been lost. It is reported that from eleven to twenty-five were killed at Coleman Lake, twenty to thirty at Little Canada, two or more at Lake Joanna, and several at Bass Lake. It is said the cyclone was confined to a district only three and a half miles long, and that the worst damage was within a limit of a half mile. Great damage to property is reported.

A terrific cyclone prevailed at Muscat, Arabia, and in the adjacent country last Wednesday. Great damage was done in the city and surrounding country, many houses being demolished. The loss of life was appalling. Reports thus far received show that over 700 persons were killed.

Muscat is the chief city of Oman, capital of the States of the Imam or Sultan of Muscat, and a seaport of great commerce importance on the Indian Ocean near the east angle of Arabia. The population, including intervening villages, is variously estimated from 25,000 to 60,000 people. Muscat is the hottest place in the world. The thermometer in the shade rarely descends below 90°

Information has been received at the Navy Department that trouble is imminent between Salvador and Guatemala, arising out of the recent change in the government of the former country. It being thought advisable to have some American war vessels near at hand, orders were last week issued for the United States steamers Ranger and Thetis, now at San Francisco, to proceed at once to the west coast of Central America. These vessels will not be expected to interfere in the troubles between the two countries except so far as may be necessary for the protection of American interests and to afford a place of refuge to American subjects in case it should be required.

During the past six months the sheep-owners of Irwin and Mineral townships, Venango county, have had their flocks devastated by two fierce mastiffs. Two hunters came upon their tracks last week and the dogs have ceased their labors. During their unmolested career in the mutton business they have slaughtered no less than 700 sheep and lambs, whose value may be set down at $2,000.

Andersonville prison has been purchased by Captain Crawford, a Grand Army man of Macon, Ga. It will be used as a national park and club house by the members of his post.

Experiments by authorities and physicians at the Hygienic Institute of the University of Pisa prove that whitewashing the walls destroys all germs of cholera and typhoid.

The immense plant of the Allen-Bradley Distilling Company, at Louisville, Ky., was destroyed by fire Monday. The loss is not less than $150,000; fully insured.

The house, barn and butcher shops of Joseph R. Royer, of Lexington, Lancaster county, were burned Thursday morning with contents. Loss $4,000; partially insured.

Two-thirds of the town of Delano, Cal., was destroyed by fire Friday. Loss, $100,000.

New Oxford Item.

H. I. SMITH, EDITOR.

AN INDEPENDENT LOCAL JOURNAL.

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.

Volume XII.

New Oxford, Pa., Friday, July 18, 1890.

Number 1.

When you go to

YORK
don't fail to visit
LINK & BOND'S
MUSIC STORE,
and if you need anything like a

Piano, Organ,
Violin, Guitar,
Banjo,
Accordeon,
Sheet Music

—or—
Music Books,
you will find that they will give you more for your money than you can get anywhere else, and they will show a better variety to select from.

Link & Bond,
A few doors East of Court House,
20 East Market street.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. G. R. MARKEL,
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
Graduate of the Hahnemann Medical College, of Philadelphia. Will attend promptly to calls night or day. Consultations in English and German. Office on E. High St., New Oxford.

DR. T. STRAHAN,
Physician and Surgeon, will attend to professional calls night or day. Office on Philadelphia street, near Centre Square, New Oxford.

DR. I. M. BUSH,
Veterinary Surgeon, graduate of the Chicago
Veterinary College, will visit New Oxford every other Thursday, and will treat domestic animals of all kinds. Calls promptly attended to. Orders left with G. A. Kitzmiller, next door to ITEM office, will receive prompt attention.

J. L. BUTT,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office
with J. A. Kitzmiller, on second floor of pan-gler building on Baltimore street. Prompt attention given to settlement of estates of decedts, minors, &c.; also, to conveyancing, liens and collections. 22mar89

J. A. KITZMILLER,
(Successor to H. B. Woods, Esq.) ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, has removed his office to the second story of Spangler's building, Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa., recently occupied by H. B. Woods, Esq. Will attention collections and all other business entrusted to him.

S. MC. SWOPE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office on Baltimore street, opposite the court house. 17-2-82

REMOVED.
WM. ARCH. MCLEAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office
on the first floor in the Schleich property, southwest corner of the Diamond.

G. J. BENNER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Office
above G. W. Spangler's store, southeast corner of Square. 7nov81

CHAS. S. DUNCAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Will continue the practice of law at the office of his father, the late W. A. Duncan, on Baltimore street. All legal business entrusted to him will receive prompt attention. 8mar85

JOHN M. KRAUTH,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gettysburg, Pa. Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office on Baltimore street, south of Court House. 12dec85

LAW, LOAN & REAL ESTATE
OFFICES.—In connection with law practice, will do a Real Estate and Loan Business. Side
Books are opened to all desiring to sell or buy Real Estate, without charge for reference. Both parties desiring to make and parties desiring to obtain loans will receive attention on application to D. McCONAUGHY, Attorney, 17 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg, Pa.

D. J. A. MELHORN,
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, New Oxford, Pa. Office on Main street, (blue front), near the R. R.
depot. Special attention given to the writing of deeds, bonds, mortgages and other legal documents. All claims and legal business promptly and fairly attended to. Legal advice cheerfully given.

We do all kinds of
Job-Printing
at very low prices.
—GIVE US A CALL.—

A Great Event

In one's life is the discovery of a remedy for some long-standing malady. The poison of Scurfida is in your blood. You inherited it from your ancestors. Will you transmit it to your offspring? In the great majority of cases, both Consumption and Catarrh originate in Scurfida. It is supposed to be the primary source of many other derangements of the body. Begin at once to cleanse your blood with the standard alternative,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For several months I was troubled with scurfious eruptions over the whole body.
My appetite was bad, and my system so prostrated that I was unable to work. After trying several remedies in vain, I resolved to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and did so with such good effect that less than one bottle

Restored My Health

and strength. The rapidity of the cure astonished me, as I expected the process to be long and tedious."—Frederico Mariz Fernandes, Villa Nova de Gama, Portugal.

"For many years I was a sufferer from scurfida, until about three years ago, when I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, since which the disease has entirely disappeared.
A little child of mine, who was troubled with the same complaint, has also been cured by this medicine."—H. Brandt, Avoca, N. H.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by Druggists. $1.50 a bottle. Worth $5 a bottle.

HOTELS & C.

Eagle Hotel.
Cen. Sq., New Oxford, Geo. Sunday,
Proprietor. House thoroughly refitted and refurnished. The bar stocked with choice wines, liquors and cigars, while the table will be supplied with the choicest delicacies the market affords. Ample stabling. 24jan90.

NATIONAL HOTEL,
AT THE RAILROAD, LITTLESTOWN, Pa. J. H.
WEST, Agent.—Good accommodations at moderate charges. Bar stocked with choice wines, liquors and cigars. A large and well-fitted sample room. First-class Billiard and Pool Tables.
Extensive stabling and shedding attached.

CENTRAL HOTEL.
HANOVER, PA.
D. C. FLEMING, PROPRIETOR,
(formerly of the City Hotel, York.)
Free bus; steam heat; good stable accommodations. mar. 25.

GLOBE HOTEL,
York street, Gettysburg, Pa. WM. REIGART, (successor to F. S. Ramey.) Good accommodations at moderate charges. Good sample room, back to and from all depots and first-class living attached to hotel. Having recently refitted and reupholstered the above well-known hotel, I will be pleased to accommodate the traveling public in general.

To the General Public!

J. W. Barnitz,

having purchased the Drug Store from F. G.
Cook, respectfully solicits a share of the public patronage. An entire new stock of

Drugs, Chemicals, Hair Brushes,
Fancy Articles, Patent Medicines, Perfumery,
Dye

Stuffs, &c., such as are kept in a first-class drug store.
All articles will be sold at reasonable rates.

S. Morgan Smith, Sons & Co.'s

Snow —CHEAPER than—the cheapest!

Drift

Better than the best!

Has immense sales wherever introduced.
Try it! For sale at

O. A. SMITH'S
FAMILY GROCERY,
New Oxford, Pa.

The accident at the farm of Henry Anglemiller, near Mercersburg, last week, by which Anglemiller's daughter, Mrs. George Miller, had both her feet cut off, was most peculiar and distressing. Anglemiller was starting to mow a field of grass which adjoined his house. In making the first cut, he thoughtlessly stopped alongside a shed which contained a dozen skeps of bees.
The perspiration on the horses attracted the bees, and they left their hives and swarmed on the man and horses.
Anglemiller shouted for help, and his daughter came running out of the house.
She threw her dress over her head to protect herself from the bees, ran in front of the machine and stooped down to loosen the traces and liberate the horses. As she did so the maddened horses sprang forward and cut both of her feet off at the ankle joint.—They each hung by a small piece of skin, and double amputation was made by the physicians. She rallied from the shock, and it is thought she will recover. She is about 30 years old, and has four children, the youngest only four months old. Her father is in a very serious condition from the bee stings. The horses will likely die.

The seizure a few days ago by United States Marshal Harrah, of Pittsburg, of thirteen barrels of whiskey shipped by Strouse & Co., of Philadelphia, to their agent in Allegheny county, because the barrels were stamped so as to make it appear that the whisky was two years older than it really was, is likely to be followed by startling disclosures.

On Wednesday information was brought to Internal Revenue Collector Warmcastle, of the Twenty second district, that two wholesale liquor firms, whose names are withheld, but who are said to be among the most reputable in the county, have been employed in the same business, and there is reason to believe the fraud is generally practiced all over the county. By changing the stamps which are placed on the barrels with a stencil the dealers obtain more than double the market price for the quantity of the whisky they sell. It is a violation of law, punishable by fine of $1000 for every barrel on which the stamp has been changed.

Considerable excitement was occasioned Saturday afternoon in the village of Foster, on the Northern Division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, about thirty miles from Scranton, by the finding of a woman's body in the woods near the railroad track. A party of men passing through a patch of woods discovered the almost unrecognizable remains of Mrs. Marshall Henry, who had left her home in Foster about 2 o'clock in the afternoon to pick raspberries. She had been bitten by a rattlesnake and her body was swollen to unnatural proportions. The marks of the snake's fangs were visible on her arms.

THE DOCTOR AND POSTMASTER were talking about a case of serious illness, due to a neglected cold and was rapidly going into consumption, which was promptly cured by Pan-Tina cough and consumption cure. Price 25 and 50 cents. Trial bottles free.

Experience has shown that sufferers with dyspepsia, biliousness and liver complaint, in fact all diseases arising from a disordered system, that nothing equals Dr. Lee's Liver Regulator for these troubles. Try it. Trial bottles free at Barnitz's drug store.

Something remarkable happened near Sydney, Ohio, to a cow. There were two large trees close together on the edge of a clover field. A fence touched either tree, but the gap had no fence. The cow squeezed into the gap, and without passing through began to browse. She soon began to swell with gas generated by the green clover, and to get her out one of the trees had to be cut down.

John Roth, a pauper in the county hospital at Galena, Ill., according to the testimony of the county physician and of Superintendent Byrne has not tasted food, solid or liquid, in eight weeks.

Hugh McGeehan, of Lancaster, and Nora Breidenbach, formerly of Reading appeared before a Lancaster Alderman last Thursday evening with a marriage license and asked to be made man and wife. The Alderman performed the ceremony, and the bridal couple then proposed to take their wedding trip in a buggy driving around town. After spending some in this way the groom got out to "see a man." A moment later a young friend of the bride came along and she invited him in the buggy to take a ride. They drove away, and the enraged groom promptly went before Alderman Barr and made complaint against his wife for larceny. The runaway couple were arrested at an early hour Friday morning, and the bride of a night spent the morning hours in the station house, and is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing. Nora now says she is done with Hugh, and Hugh declares emphatically that marriage is not a success.

J. F. Bentel, a well known business man of Freedom, Pa., was arrested in Pittsburg Thursday night for forgery, while celebrating his wedding feast.
The arrest broke up the feast. The bride offered to settle the alleged case of forgery by payment of the amount on the spot, but the groom refused to permit this, and gave bail. The amount is but $150 and Bentel says it is a case to squeeze him. He gave a note endorsed by a Mr. Bauman for that sum and on account of property litigation the note went to protest. Bauman repudiated the signature on the back of the note and an officer appeared upon the scene and arrested the groom just as he was about to respond to a toast to the health of the bride. Mr. Bentel is a member of one of the oldest and best known families in Beaver county, and his arrest caused a sensation.

On Saturday, June 1, Samuel G.
Hale, aged about 73 years, who resided with his son, John Hale, in New Cumberland, Cumberland county, disappeared from his home and no trace of him could be found until the middle of last week when Mrs. Jacob Leach and daughter, Barbara, who were picking berries on the river hills, near Eich-elberger's distillery about two miles from his son's home, discovered the body of a man at the foot of a tree.
They at once sent word to Mr. Hale, believing that it was the body of his father. He proceeded to the spot and identified the corpse by the clothing and a letter. The man had been dead for some time and the body was greatly decomposed. An empty vial was found by one side and a coiled rope on the other side, leaving no doubt that it was a case of suicide.

Incredible cruelties have been practiced on Chinese soldiers in Formosa.
The men were mainly opium-smokers recruited from the dregs of the big cities. After the war ended most of the soldiers were given passage back from Formosa, but were not supplied with food, and the result was starvation and disease. Many of the sick were crowded into coffins and buried alive. A European witnessed one case where the victim struggled to prevent the coffin-lid being nailed down.

The July session of the Board of Pardons was held at Harrisburg last Tuesday. The greater portion of the time was taken up in the discussion of the case of John W. Rudy, of Lancaster, for murder in the first degree. Late at night the Board recommended that in this case the death sentence should be commuted to imprisonment for life.

The little town of Rockville, in Tioga county, was almost totally wiped out by fire last Tuesday. The fire started in F. C. Avery's hotel and burned that building, the hotel barns, the Methodist church, C. B. Hanyan's store and barns and eleven dwellings, besides ten or twelve barns. Twenty-three buildings in all were burned.

A Georgia man has been pardoned after serving sixteen years of a life sentence for a murder of which he was innocent.

At Osaka, Japan, fifty-nine people were drowned on June 15 during the launching of a new sailing vessel. The occasion excited considerable interest and about 250 people crowded on the boat. The owner, however, became apprehensive and ordered 100 of them ashore. When the launch commenced it was ebb tide and as the ropes used in securing her were too short the vessel keeled. The people on board immediately rushed to the other side, which had the effect of turning the vessel completely over, and those on board were precipitated in the water. Those on shore rendered every assistance possible, but their efforts were generally unavailing. Fifty-five bodies have been recovered. Four persons are still missing. About twenty persons were more more or less injured.

An awful cyclone struck the region of St. Paul, Minn., Sunday afternoon and it is thought that about forty lives have been lost. It is reported that from eleven to twenty-five were killed at Coleman Lake, twenty to thirty at Little Canada, two or more at Lake Joanna, and several at Bass Lake. It is said the cyclone was confined to a district only three and a half miles long, and that the worst damage was within a limit of a half mile. Great damage to property is reported.

A terrific cyclone prevailed at Muscat, Arabia, and in the adjacent country last Wednesday. Great damage was done in the city and surrounding country, many houses being demolished. The loss of life was appalling.
Reports thus far received show that over 700 persons were killed.

Muscat is the chief city of Oman, capital of the States of the Imam or Sultan of Muscat, and a seaport of great commerce importance on the Indian Ocean near the east angle of Arabia. The population, including intervening villages, is variously estimated from 25,000 to 60,000 people. Muscat is the hottest place in the world. The thermometer in the shade rarely descends below 90°.

Information has been received at the Navy Department that trouble is imminent between Salvador and Gaute-mala, arising out of the recent change in the government of the former country. It being thought advisable to have some American war vessels near at hand, orders were last week issued for the United States steamers Ranger and Thetis, now at San Francisco, to proceed at once to the west coast of Central America. These vessels will not be expected to interfere in the troubles between the two countries except so far as may be necessary for the protection of American interests and to afford a place of refuge to American subjects in case it should be required.

During the past six months the sheep-owners of Irwin and Mineral townships, Venango county, have had their flocks devastated by two fierce mastiffs. Two hunters came upon their tracks last week and the dogs have ceased their labors. During their unmolested career in the mutton business they have slaughtered no less than 700 sheep and lambs, whose value may be set down at $2,- 000.

Andersonville prison has been purchased by Captain Crawford, a Grand Army man of Macon, Ga. It will be used as a national park and club house by the members of his post.

Experiments by authorities and physicians at the Hygienic Institute of the University of Pisa prove that white-washing the walls destroys all germs of cholera and typhoid.

The immense plant of the Allen-Bradley Distilling Company, at Louisville, Ky., was destroyed by fire Monday. The loss is not less than $150,- 000; fully insured.

The house, barn and butcher shops of Joseph R. Royer, of Lexington, Lancaster county, were burned Thursday morning with contents. Loss $4,000; partially insured.

Two-thirds of the town of Delano,
Cal., was destroyed by fire Friday.
Loss, $100,000.

THE OLD METHODS OF FARMING.

How awfully hard were the old ways of farming. Assad recollection presents them to light—The old iron plow that was drawn by the oxen—Those solemn old oxen that wouldn't go right; The planting of corn, the broadcast hand sowing, The cutting out weeds with a hoe from the corn, The backaching work of hills up "taters," That made us long so for the sound of the horn, The old tin resounder that called us to dinner—How blest was the time that we heard the tin horn.

And then came the haying, with wearisome labor Of cutting with scythe the grass to make hay; Of raking with hand rake, of pitching and loading, And sweating to death as we mowed it away. Then harvesting grain with low-fingered cradles, The binding with straw—'twas hard and so slow; The threshing with flails or the tramping with oxen, And cleaning from chaff when a strong wind would blow. The old fashioned harvest, that awful hard harvest, The back breaking harvest we're willing should go.

How different now are the methods of farming! We turn over ground with a steel riding plow, We hoe with a sulky, cut grass while we're riding, Rake and load with the horses and put in the mow. How sweet is the sound of the twine bending reaper. To those who remember the cradle's bright gleam, And the noise of the thresher, the puff of the engine, And they turn out the grain so fast and so clean, The vibrating thresher, the swift running thresher, The steam power thresher that threshes so clean.

TO DRIVE UNRULY OXEN.

Unruly oxen may be driven by means of a ring in the nose. Rings for this purpose are made of copper or steel and hinged to open and shut and are fastened with a screw. Any good blacksmith could make one for a dollar or less. A line with a snap hook to catch in the ring will serve to guide the animal and restrain his excessive playfulness or willfulness.

SHEEP AND WATER.

Sheep may live for a long time without either water or salt, but they will thrive much better with a plentiful supply of both. The salt should be placed under sheds or in some dry place where the sheep can find it and help themselves whenever they want it. Water from stagnant pools and ponds is not healthful to either man or beast, although there are many cattle in the Western States who rarely get a drink of pure, wholesome water during the summer months.—New York Sun.

TRANSPLANTING EVERGREENS.

It is impossible to transplant an evergreen when it is not in leaf; but the period of dormant leaf action is not the best for success, as we have found in transplanting deciduous trees and vines. By waiting until the new buds begin to start, the planting, if well done, sets the tree back less than at any other time. The idea of fall or early spring planting is to allow nature to settle the earth about the roots, which the careful planter will do much better himself. When new growth begins the transplant is thereby notified to take extra care to pack soil in and among the roots so that there shall be no places where they come in contact with dry air. When new growth begins on evergreens there is little more foliage than before, while this is nature's signal that the soil is warmed sufficiently to stimulate the roots to furnish the moisture that sunshine and drying winds evaporate from the leaves.—Boston Cultivator.

DEHORNING HUMANELY.

When calves are very small to clip off the small germs of the horns with a sharp knife or nippers made for the purpose causes but little pain, and the wound soon heals.

The chemicals used to destroy the germs of horns are very convenient, but we cannot say whether they have any advantage over the nipping system.

Saving off the horns of grown cattle close up to the head disfigures them and is revolting to the sight. And yet it is perhaps better to deprive dangerous and vicious cattle of their horns than to allow them to hook and torture each other, and sometimes destroy the lives of those who manage them. If there was a law requiring all calves to be dehorned in the most humane manner possible, stock would everywhere be more manageable and more thrifty and less dangerous. Cows would be more gentle, calves in less danger of being hooked and injured, less space would be required for cattle in barns and pens, and the advantage to the stock and the owners would be immense at a small expense, and a great amount of suffering among the weaker cattle and calves would be avoided.—Picayune.

HOW TO ANALYZE SOIL.

"The most practical and satisfactory analysis that can be made of a soil is by growing common farm plants with and without manures," says Professor Hayward, of the Maryland Agricultural College. "Soil tests made by dividing a certain area of uniform land into small plots and using different fertilizing materials on these are much more valuable to the farmer than any chemical analysis can be. If the soil is rich and contains a sufficient quantity of the different elements of plant food in an available form, for the growth of the crop no marked effects will be seen from the addition of a single fertilizing element. But on lands that have been cropped for a series of years, especially if the same crops have been grown year after year, the probabilities are that a one-sided exhaustion has taken place, and that the addition of the right element of plant food will return a good crop. If, by a little careful work on a small area, a farmer can determine what his field of twenty, thirty, or fifty acres most needs it may save him from buying a complete fertilizer, and thereby spending money for plant-food that is already in the soil in sufficient quantity.

HOW TO MAKE A GOOD COW.

How to make a good cow. Here is a different process. Begin with your scrub if you will. But feed her well and keep her warm and comfortable. Breed her to some good bull reared by some Christian farmer—that is one who will do as he would be done by, even to his cattle; for this is the essence of Christianity, as taught by the Great Teacher. When the cow is dried off previous to calving, don't stop feeding, but keep her in good, sleek condition. When the calf comes in it will have a belly full of good, rich milk, and will start well. Continue the well-doing by feeding sweet skimmed milk and as soon as it will eat a little crushed oats give a few by hand, and treat the young thing gently and gain its confidence and good will. Give it good pasture, specially provided and prepared for young stock. Give it milk always sweet, (and it will never need alum to dry up its bowels) until it is four or five months old. Give it a stall in the stable in the winter, with the best of the hay and its regular ration of oats. Continue until the second year, and breed it to a bull better, if possible, than its sire. Perhaps you think this will never pay? Well, count up the cost of it, put the amount in your pocket, and go around and try to buy as good an animal with the sum, and you don't get one, for your neighbors are not selling such young heifers for the cost of them. You will find it cheaper to rear them than to buy them, anyhow. And you must have them, or you will be going around declaring that "farming don't pay."—New York Times.

FARM AND GARDEN NOTES.

Butter, like fresh vegetables, should go into consumption at once.

"A bird will leave the cherry for the mulberry," says one grower of the latter fruit.

"Management." This one word has more meaning on the farm than is generally suspected.

Hoed crops among trees are advocated by Western orchardists, after which alfalfa and hogs may occupy the orchard.

Plant flowers, shrubs and vines about the house to add to its attractiveness, and otherwise improve and ornament your surroundings.

Cleanliness is especially essential about the poultry yard. The yard should be raked and the house thoroughly cleansed at least twice a week.

Trees for planting that have been dug and properly cared for will grow the better for being planted after the soil has become dry and warm.

It is said that rags saturated with kerosene and fastened into a split stick that has been driven into the squash, melon and cucumber hills will keep bugs off.

Varieties of cow-pea may be found that can be profitably grown, especially for milch cows. By modern methods we may and perhaps will make it pay for certain purposes.

Beets, onions and other root crops are improved by carefully selecting such roots for seed as we wish to grow, and doing this for several years will fix the type so that the roots will come true.

A comstalk rots very slowly. Before such material is added to the manure heap it should be cut into small pieces. If cut and crushed in the fodder-cutter the stalks make excellent absorbent material for liquid manure.

On all fields where the mowers are to be used the advantage of the land having been previously rolled will not be noticeable. Fields that have been rolled can be mowed easier, and the work done more completely than where the land is rough.

A prominent horticulturist states that by placing tomato leaves around the trunks of trees, and also by sprinkling roses and cabbages with a decoction prepared by steeping tomato leaves in water, insects did not disturb them. This is worthy a trial.

It is an old foggy notion to keep your hens out of the small fruit orchard. You should have a large orchard so that you will not miss what little fruit your hens destroy. In fact the ravages of your fowls upon the insects that infest your orchard is very noticeable and we would prefer the fowls to the insects.

It is better to sow a little plaster frequently than a great deal at one time. There is much question which time is best for this operation, and by repeating the sowing some one will be just right. The cost is slight. Plaster is everywhere the cheapest manure for clover, and 100 pounds per acre, if finely ground, is enough at one time.

He Drew the Line at Elephant's Eggs.

Pat Maher, the wild Irishman of Vine street hill, has long borne the reputation of being the champion egg-eater of this city, and boasts that he once ate six dozen raw eggs, shells and all, at one sitting. But the boys got the best of Pat one evening recently. As usual, they offered to give him all the liquor he could drink if he would swallow a certain number of eggs.

"Eat a dozen eggs, shells and all, in our presence, and you can get drunk at our expense," said the spokesman of the rounders.

"Wan dozen hin eggs!" exclaimed Pat, with a contemptuous laugh. "Why, that will be nothin' but a lunch. Ho, ho, ho!"

"We didn't say hen eggs. You are to eat one dozen eggs of whatever kind are furnished you."

"All roight, boys, I'm wid yez. Oi'm just as equal t' goose or turkey eggs uz Oi am t' the fruit o' th' hin. O'm ready, lads. Trot out yer banket."

The "boys" did. They went over to the bar and procured a monstrous ostrich egg that had long ornamented the sideboard. It was fully seven inches long and four inches in its smallest diameter. The contents of the shell had of course long been removed, but this fact was not apparent on casual inspection. The egg was carefully carried to the table by which sat Mr. Maher, beaming and smiling over the free drunk which was soon to be his.

"Here's the first egg, Pat," said the spokesman, quietly: "the waiters will be along with the other eleven presently."

Mr. Maher gazed with bulging eyes at the giant egg, then at the gang, each of whom preserved an impassive face. Solemnly he pushed his chair back from the table, buttoned his coat, and fixed his battered plug firmly on his head. Then, with one reproachful finger directed at the shell upon the table, he said:

"Boys, it's not roight, it's not roight. Oi didn't ask that thim eggs be all hin eggs. Oi would a'been satisfied wid dook eggs or goose eggs—on'thing in reason. But whin ye bring th' progeny ur-th' illyphant before me it is toime four me to renounce me bargain wid ye. Oi wdn't eat wan o' them illyphant eggs if Oi cud."

Pat got no free liquor that evening.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sufficient.

"Have you a family?" asked a Western judge of a man who was making final proof in a United States land office.

"Yes, sir," replied the man.

"Of what does it consist?"

"Well," said the man, evidently confused, and looking up toward the ceiling, as if to refresh his memory, "it consists of my wife, ten children, two hired men, a gang plow, a seeder, a Bain wagon and a span of mules. I believe that's all."

"That is enough," replied the judge, with a smile, and the settler got his papers without further questioning.

A Good Sign.

Whiffers—Do you think your railroad suit for $10,000 damages will be decided in your favor?

Bliifers—I guess so. I notice my lawyer has given an order for a new yacht.—New York Weekly.

Good Advice.

About to make a trip to Europe, eh?

"Yes: and as you are an old traveler, I thought I would ask you what is good for sea-sickness."

"There's only one thing that will prevent it. I know this, for I have crossed the ocean seventeen times."

"What is that?" eagerly.

"Just before buying your ticket, take a dose of strychnine."

Choose such pleasures as recreate much and cost little.

Entitled to the Best.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Great finds of carbonates and galena are reported near Barker, Mont.

Six Novels Free, sent by Cratin & Co., Phila., Pa., to any one in U. S. or Canada, post paid, upon receipt of 25 Dobbins's Electrical Soap wrappers. See list of novels on circulars around each bar. This soap for sale by all grocers.

Lord Tennyson is now giving more attention to gout than to poetry.

We will give $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

Queen Christine, of Spain, is thirty five, very pretty and very popular.

Peculiar

That Hood's Sarsaparilla does possess curative powers Peculiar to itself is conclusively shown by the wonderful cures it has effected, unsurpassed in the history of medicine. This absolute merit it possesses by reason of the fact that it is prepared by a Combination, Proportion and Process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, known to no other medicine, and by which the full medicinal power of all the ingredients used is retained. If you have never taken Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial will convince you of its merits.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

ENTS stopped free by Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No pain after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 601 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

After dinner smoke "Tansill's Punch."

CURE PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY
LUMBAGO,
Rheumatism, Headache, Toothache,
SPRAINS,
Neuralgia, Swellings, Frost-bites,
BRUISES.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

RUSSELL YEAR BOOK & CO'S

NOW READY. Describes their latest improved Threshers, Trashing Machines, Saw Mills, Mill Engines, Horse Powers, Stationary Engines, Pumps or Automobiles, and BOILERS. Address: RUSSELL & CO., MASSILLON, OHIO.

BUFF COCHINS. Partridge Cochins, Plymouth Rocks, Langshans, Finest Fit Games, Brahmas, Leghorns, Red Game, etc. Eggs $2 per doz. Send for illustrated catalogue. James M. Barker, Nashville, Tenn.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Eggs $2 per doz. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

GET MARRIED. Hundreds of perfect, advertise each month in the most recent matrimonial paper published. Sample copy free. THE AMERICAN MARRIAGE BUREAU, 25 Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

NO MORE BROKEN LAMP CHIMNEYS. Send 10c for the Pat. Electro Magnetized Lamp Chimney Protector and you will have no more broken chimneys. T. C. BOOTH, Mfr., 11 Howard St., N. Y. City.

PATENTS. E. A. Lehmann, Washington, D.C. Send for circular.

OPIUM HABIT. Only Certain and easy CURE in the World. Dr. J. L. STEPHENS, Lebanon, O.

TREE SALESMEN. "Whole Root vs. Piece Root Trees" PAY. STARK NURSERY, Louisiana, Mo.

WANTED. Reliable men to sell Nursery stock, local or traveling. O. D. Green & Co., Syracuse, N.Y.

EYE. Weak or Sore, cured at once with Magic Eye Water. Bottle by mail. Dr. Specialty Co., Denver, Colo.

CHALLIES.

5,000 pieces of Excellent quality, PRINTED CHALLIE DRESS GOODS, 24 inches wide, in many choice patterns, including FAST BLACKS, with White Figures, all at

5 cts. PER YARD.

Send for samples. Postage on 12 yds. 20c. extra, making an entire dress pattern cost 80c.

SHEPARD, NORWELL & CO.,
BOSTON, MASS.

P. N. 25 '90

THE WONDERFUL CHAIR CO.
COMBINING ARTICLES OF FURNITURE, INVALIDS, WHEEL CHAIRS, AND COACHES.
We retail at the lowest wholesale factory prices, and ship goods to be paid for on delivery. Send stamp for Catalogue. New goods delivered. LUCYER MFG. CO., 145 N. 5th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

GAS, OIL AND WATER!
— PORTABLE —
DRILLING MACHINES,
TOOLS, SUPPLIES, Etc.,
For drilling all kinds of Wells, from 10 to 2500 feet deep. Machines in 10 sizes. Send for descriptive Catalog and Price List. Star Drilling Machine Co. AKRON, OHIO.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE.
BEST IN THE WORLD. Sold Everywhere.

HOME STUDY. Book-keeping, Business Forms, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Short-hand, etc., thoroughly taught by MAIL. Circulars free. Bryant's College, 437 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOLDIERS. and Heirs write us for new Pension laws. Sent free. Descriptors returned. Success or no fee. A. W. McCormick & Sons, Washington, D. C., & Cincinnati, O.

BEECHAM'S PAINLESS PILLS EFFECTUAL.

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For BILIOUS & NERVOUS DISORDERS SUCH AS

Sick Headache, Weak Stomach, Impaired

Digestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver, etc.,

ACTING LIKE MAGIC on the vital organs, strengthening the muscular system, and arousing with the rosebud of health

The Whole Physical Energy of the Human Frame.

Beecham's Pills, taken as directed, will quickly RESTORE FEMALES to complete health.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Price, 25 cents per Box.

Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England. B. F. ALLEN CO., Sole Agents for United States, 365 & 367 Canal St., New York, who (if your Druggist does not keep them) will send Beecham's Pills on receipt of price, but inquire first. (Attention this paper.)

EVERY WATERPROOF COLLAR OR CUFF

THAT CAN BE RELIED ON.

BE UP TO THE MARK

Not to Split!

Not to Discolor!

BEARS THIS MARK.

TRADE MARK.
ELLULOID MARK.

NEEDS NO LAUNDERING. CAN BE WIPE CLEAN IN A MOMENT.
THE ONLY LINEN-LINED WATERPROOF COLLAR IN THE MARKET.

"Who wins the eyes, wins all!"
If you regard APPEARANCES you will certainly use SAPOLIO in house-cleaning. Sapolio is a solid cake of scouring-soap. Try it in house-cleaning.

YOU ARE JUDGED

by your house just as much as by your dress. Keep it neat and clean and your reputation will shine. Neglect it and your good name will suffer. Do not think that house-cleaning is too troublesome; it is worth all it costs, especially if you reduce the outlay of time and strength by using SAPOLIO.

PENSIONS. If you want your pension without delay, put your claim in the hands of JOSEPH H. HUNTER, ATTORNEY, WASHINGTON, D. C.

MARRY. MARRIAGE PAPER and particulars of marriage association that pays $500 to $800 free. Gunner's Monthly, Toledo, O.

CARPENTERS' 5c PENCIL for 2c. Staup Gage Tool Co., Plane Makers, VINELAND, N. J.

A preserver and truly early dose Big G as the only specific for a certain cure of this disease. G. H. INGRAHAM, M. D., Amsterdam, N. Y.
We have sold Big G for many years, and it has given the best of satisfaction. D. R. DYCHE & CO., Chicago, Ill.
Trade Price $1.20. Sold by Druggists.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

THE OLD METHODS OF FARMING.

How awfully hard were the old ways of farming. Assad recollection presents them to light—The old iron plow that was drawn by the oxen—Those solemn old oxen that wouldn't go right—The planting of corn, the broadcast hand sowing, The cutting out weeds with a hoe from the corn, The backaching work of hills up "taters," That made us long so for the sound of the horn, The old tin resounder that called us to dinner—How blest was the time that we heard the tin horn.

And then came the haying, with wearisome labor Of cutting with scythe the grass to make hay, Of raking with hand rake, of pitching and loading, And sweating to death as we mowed it away, Then harvesting grain with low-fingered cradles, The binding with straw—twas hard and so slow, The threshing with flails or the tramping with oxen, And cleaning from chaff when a strong wind would blow, The old fashioned harvest, that awful hard harvest, The back breaking harvest we're willing should go.

How different now are the methods of farming! We turn over ground with a steel riding plow, We hoe with a sulky, cut grass while we're riding, Rake and load with the horses and put in the mow, How sweet is the sound of the twine bending reaper, To those who remember the cradle's bright gleam, And the noise of the thresher, the puff of the engine, And they turn out the grain so fast and so clean, The vibrating thresher, the swift running thresher, The steam power thresher that threshes so clean.

TO DRIVE UNRULY OXEN.

Unruly oxen may be driven by means of a ring in the nose. Rings for this purpose are made of copper or steel and hinged to open and shut and are fastened with a screw. Any good blacksmith could make one for a dollar or less. A line with a snap hook to catch in the ring will serve to guide the animal and restrain his excessive playfulness or willfulness.

SHEEP AND WATER.

Sheep may live for a long time without either water or salt, but they will thrive much better with a plentiful supply of both. The salt should be placed under sheds or in some dry place where the sheep can find it and help themselves whenever they want it. Water from stagnant pools and ponds is not healthful to either man or beast, although there are many cattle in the Western States who rarely get a drink of pure, wholesome water during the summer months.—New York Sun.

TRANSPLANTING EVERGREENS.

It is impossible to transplant an evergreen when it is not in leaf; but the period of dormant leaf action is not the best for success, as we have found in transplanting deciduous trees and vines. By waiting until the new buds begin to start, the planting, if well done, sets the tree back less than at any other time. The idea of fall or early spring planting is to allow nature to settle the earth about the roots, which the careful planter will do much better himself. When new growth begins the planter is thereby notified to take extra care to pack soil in and among the roots so that there shall be no places where they come in contact with dry air. When new growth begins on evergreens there is little more foliage than before, while this is nature's signal that the soil is warmed sufficiently to stimulate the roots to furnish the moisture that sunshine and drying winds evaporate from the leaves.—Boston Cultivator.

DEHORNING HUMANELY.

When calves are very small to clip off the small germs of the horns with a sharp knife or nippers made for the purpose causes but little pain, and the wound soon heals. The chemicals used to destroy the germs of horns are very convenient, but we cannot say whether they have any advantage over the nipping system. Sawing off the horns of grown cattle close up to the head disfigures them and is revolting to the sight. And yet it is perhaps better to deprive dangerous and vicious cattle of their horns than to allow them to hook and torture each other, and sometimes destroy the lives of those who manage them. If there was a law requiring all calves to be dehorned in the most humane manner possible, stock would everywhere be more manageable and more thrifty and less dangerous. Cows would be more gentle, calves in less danger of being hooked and injured, less space would be required for cattle in barns and pens, and the advantage to the stock and the owners would be immense at a small expense, and a great amount of suffering among the weaker cattle and calves would be avoided.—Picayune.

HOW TO ANALYZE SOIL.

"The most practical and satisfactory analysis that can be made of a soil is by growing common farm plants with and without manures," says Professor Hayward, of the Maryland Agricultural College. "Soil tests made by dividing a certain area of uniform land into small plots and using different fertilizing materials on these are much more valuable to the farmer than any chemical analysis can be. If the soil is rich and contains a sufficient quantity of the different elements of plant food in an available form, for the growth of the crop no marked effects will be seen from the addition of a single fertilizing element. But on lands that have been cropped for a series of years, especially if the same crops have been grown year after year, the probabilities are that a one-sided exhaustion has taken place, and that the addition of the right element of plant food will return a good crop. If, by a little careful work, on a small area, a farmer can determine what his field of twenty, thirty, or fifty acres most needs it may save him from buying a complete fertilizer, and thereby spending money for plant-food that is already in the soil in sufficient quantity.

HOW TO MAKE A GOOD COW.

How to make a good cow. Here is a different process. Begin with your scrub if you will. But feed her well and keep her warm and comfortable. Breed her to some good bull reared by some Christian farmer—that is one who will do as he would be done by, even to his cattle; for this is the essence of Christianity, as taught by the Great Teacher. When the cow is dried off previous to calving, don't stop feeding, but keep her in good, sleek condition. When the calf comes in it will have a belly full of good, rich milk, and will start well. Continue the well-doing by feeding sweet skimmed milk and as soon as it will eat a little crushed oats give a few by hand, and treat the young thing gently and gain its confidence and good will. Give it good pasture, specially provided and prepared for young stock. Give it milk always sweet, (and it will never need alum to dry up its bowels) until it is four or five months old. Give it a stall in the stable in the winter, with the best of the hay and its regular ration of oats. Continue until the second year, and breed it to a bull better, if possible, than its sire. Perhaps you think this will never pay? Well, count up the cost of it, put the amount in your pocket, and go around and try to buy as good an animal with the sum, and you don't get one, for your neighbors are not selling such young heifers for the cost of them. You will find it cheaper to rear them than to buy them, anyhow. And you must have them, or you will be going around declaring that "farming don't pay."—New York Times.

FARM AND GARDEN NOTES.

Butter, like fresh vegetables, should go into consumption at once. "A bird will leave the cherry for the mulberry," says one grower of the latter fruit. "Management." This one word has more meaning on the farm than is generally suspected.

Hood crops among trees are advocated by Western orchardists, after which alfalfa and hogs may occupy the orchard.

Plant flowers, shrubs and vines about the house to add to its attractiveness, and otherwise improve and ornament your surroundings.

Cleanliness is especially essential about the poultry yard. The yard should be raked and the house thoroughly cleaned at least twice a week.

Trees for planting that have been dug and properly cared for will grow the better for being planted after the soil has become dry and warm.

It is said that rags saturated with kerosene and fastened into a split stick that has been driven into the squash, melon and cucumber hills will keep bugs off.

Varieties of cow-pea may be found that can be profitably grown, especially for milch cows. By modern methods we may and perhaps will make it pay for certain purposes.

Beets, onions and other root crops are improved by carefully selecting such roots for seed as we wish to grow, and doing this for several years will fix the type so that the roots will come true.

A cornstalk rots very slowly. Before such material is added to the manure heap it should be cut into small pieces. If cut and crushed in the fodder-cutter the stalks make excellent absorbent material for liquid manure.

On all fields where the mowers are to be used the advantage of the land having been previously rolled will not be noticeable. Fields that have been rolled can be mowed easier, and the work done more completely than where the land is rough.

A prominent horticulturist states that by placing tomato leaves around the trunks of trees, and also by sprinkling roses and cabbages with a decoction prepared by steeping tomato leaves in water, insects did not disturb them. This is worthy a trial.

It is an old foggy notion to keep your hens out of the small fruit orchard. You should have a large orchard so that you will not miss what little fruit your hens destroy. In fact the ravages of your fowls upon the insects that infest your orchard is very noticeable and we would prefer the fowls to the insects.

It is better to sow a little plaster frequently than a great deal at one time. There is much question which time is best for this operation, and by repeating the sowing some one will be just right. The cost is slight. Plaster is everywhere the cheapest manure for clover, and 100 pounds per acre, if finely ground, is enough at one time.

He Drew the Line at Elephant's Eggs.

Pat Maher, the wild Irishman of Vine street hill, has long borne the reputation of being the champion egg-eater of this city, and boasts that he once ate six dozen raw eggs, shells and all, at one sitting. But the boys got the best of Pat one evening recently. As usual, they offered to give him all the liquor he could drink if he would swallow a certain number of eggs.

"Eat a dozen eggs, shells and all, in our presence, and you can get drunk at our expense," said the spokesman of the rounders.

"Wan dozen hin eggs!" exclaimed Pat, with a contemptuous laugh. "Why, that will be nothin' but a lunch. Ho, ho, ho!"

"We didn't say hen eggs. You are to eatone dozen eggs of whatever kind are furnished you."

"All roight, boys, I'm wid yez. Oi'm just as equal t' goose or turkey eggs uz Oi am t' the fruit o' th' hin. O'm ready, lads. Trot out yer basket."

The "boys" did. They went over to the bar and procured a monstrous ostrich egg that had long ornamented the sideboard. It was fully seven inches long and four inches in its smallest diameter. The contents of the shell had of course long been removed, but this fact was not apparent on casual inspection. The egg was carefully carried to the table by which sat Mr. Maher, beaming and smiling over the free drink which was soon to be his.

"Here's the first egg, Pat," said the spokesman, quietly; "the waiters will be along with the other eleven presently."

Mr. Maher gazed with bulging eyes at the giant egg, then at the gang, each of whom preserved an impassive face. Solemnly he pushed his chair back from the table, buttoned his coat, and fixed his battered plug firmly on his head. Then, with one reproachful finger directed at the shell upon the table, he said:

"Boys, it's not roight, it's not roight. Oi didn't ask that thim eggs be all hin eggs. Oi would a'been satisfied wid dook eggs or goose eggs—anything in reason. But whin ye bring th' progeny uv th' illyphant before me it is time for me to renounce me bargain wid ye. Oi wudn't eat wan o' them illyphant eggs if Oi cud."

Pat got no free liquor that evening. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sufficient.

"Have you a family?" asked a Western judge of a man who was making final proof in a United States land office.

"Yes, sir," replied the man.

"Of what does it consist?"

"Well," said the man, evidently confused, and looking up toward the ceiling, as if to refresh his memory, "it consists of my wife, ten children, two hired men, a gang plow, a seeder, a Bain wagon and a span of mules. I believe that's all."

"That is enough," replied the judge, with a smile, and the settler got his papers without further questioning.

A Good Sign.

Whifters—Do you think your railroad suit for $10,000 damages will be decided in your favor?

Blifters—I guess so. I notice my lawyer has given an order for a new yacht.—New York Weekly.

Good Advice.

About to make a trip to Europe, eh?

"Yes; and as you are an old traveler, I thought I would ask you what is good for sea-sickness."

"There's only one thing that will prevent it. I know this, for I have crossed the ocean seventeen times."

"What is that?" eagerly.

"Just before buying your ticket, take a dose of strychnine."

CHOOSE such pleasures as recreate much and cost little.

Entitled to the Best.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Great finds of carbonates and galena are reported near Barker, Mont.

Six Novels Free, sent by Cragin & Co., Phila., Pa., to any one in U. S. or Canada, post paid, upon receipt of 25 Robbins's Technical Soap wrappers. Send list of novels on circulars around each bar. This soap for sale by all grocers.

Lord Tennyson is now giving more attention to gout than to poetry.

We will give $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

Queen Christine, of Spain, is thirty five, very pretty and very popular.

Peculiar

That Hood's Sarsaparilla does possess curative powers Peculiar to itself is conclusively shown by the wonderful cures it has effected, unsurpassed in the history of medicine. This absolute merit it possesses by reason of the fact that it is prepared by a combination, proportion and process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, known to no other medicine, and by which the full medicinal power of all the ingredients used is retained. If you have never taken Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial will convince you of its merits.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared only by O. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

FITS stopped free by Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. KLINE, 301 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

After dinner smoke "Tansill's Punch."

CURES PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY
LUMBAGO,
Rheumatism, Headache, Toothache,
SPRAINS,
Neuralgia, Swellings, Frost-bites,
BRUISES.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

RUSSELL & CO.'S YEAR BOOK
NOW READY. Describes their latest improved Machinery, Engines, Milling, Stationary Engines, Plan or Automatic, and Mill-ERS. Address:
RUSSELL & CO., MASSILLON, OHIO.

BUFF COCHINS, Partridge Cochins, Langshans, Finest Pit Game, Bantams, Leghorns, Red Bantams. Eggs $2 per 13. Send for illustrated catalogue. James M. Barker, Nashville, Tenn.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

GET MARRIED Hundreds of persons advertise each month in the most refined matrimonial paper published. Sample copy free. THE AMERICAN MARRIAGE BUREAU, 165 Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

NO MORE BROKEN LAMP CHIMNEYS. Send 10c. for the Pat. Electro Magnetized Lamp Chimney Protector and you will have no more broken chimneys. T. C. BOOTH, Mfr., 14 Howard St., N. Y. City.

PATENTS F. A. Lehmann, Washington, D. C. Send for circular.

OPIUM HABIT. Only Certain and Sure Cure in the World. Dr. J. L. STEPHENS, Lebanon, O.

TREE SALESMEN "Whole Root vs. Piece Trees." P. A. STARK NURSERIES, Louisville, Mo.

WANTED—Reliable men to sell Nursery stock, local or traveling. O. D. Green & Co., Syracuse, N. Y.

EYE Weak or Sore, cured at once with Magic Eye Water. Bottle by mail 25c. Specialty Co., Denver, Colo.

BEECHAM'S

PAINLESS PILLS

EFFECTUAL.
WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

FOR BILIOUS & NERVOUS DISORDERS SUCH AS
Sick Headache, Weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver, etc.,
ACTING LIKE MAGIC on the vital organs, strengthening the muscular system, and arousing with the rosbud of health the Whole Physical Energy of the Human Frame.
Beecham's Pills, taken as directed, will quickly RESTORE FEMALES to complete health.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 25 cents per Box.
Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.
B. F. ALLEN CO., Sole Agents for United States, 305 & 307 Canal St., New York, who (if your druggist does not keep them) will mail Beecham's Pills on receipt of price—but inquire first. (Mention this paper.)

EVERY WATERPROOF COLLAR OR CUFF

THAT CAN BE RELIED ON

BE UP TO THE MARK

Not to Split!
Not to Discolor!
BEARS THIS MARK.

TRADE MARK.

NEEDS NO LAUNDERING. CAN BE WIPED CLEAN IN A MOMENT.
THE ONLY LINEN-LINED WATERPROOF COLLAR IN THE MARKET.

"Who wins the eyes, wins all."

If you regard

APPEARANCES

you will certainly use SAPOLIO in house-cleaning. Sapolio is a solid cake of scouring-soap. Try it in house-cleaning.

YOU ARE JUDGED

by your house just as much as by your dress. Keep it neat and clean and your reputation will shine. Neglect it and your good name will suffer. Do not think that house-cleaning is too troublesome; it is worth all it costs, especially if you reduce the outlay of time and strength by using SAPOLIO.

PENSIONS If you want your pension without delay, put your claim in the hands of JOSEPH H. HUNTER, ATTORNEY, WASHINGTON, D. C.

MARRY—MARRIAGE PAPER and particulars of marriage association that pays $500 to $5000 free. Gunnell's Monthly, Toledo, O.

CARPENTERS' Pencil For 2-c. sta. ap. Gask Tech. Co., Place Makers, VIKELAND, N. J.

CHALLIES.

5,000 pieces of Excellent quality. PRINTED CHALLIE DRESS GOODS. 24 inches wide, in many choice patterns, including PAST BLACKS, with White Figures, all at

5 cts. PER YARD.

Send for samples. Postage on 12 yds. 20c. extra, making an entire dress pattern cost 80c.

SHEPARD, NORWELL & CO.,
BOSTON, MASS.

P N U 25 '90

LUBURG CHAIR FOR BABY
COMBINING ARTICLES OF FURNITURE.
(INVALID SUPPLIES)
AND WHEEL CHAIRS.
We retail at the lowest wholesale factory prices, and ship goods to be paid for on delivery. Send stamp for Catalogue. Name goods desired.
LUBURG MFG. CO., 145 N. 5th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

GAS, OIL, AND WATER!

—PORTABLE—
DRILLING MACHINES,
TOOLS, SUPPLIES, Etc.,
For drilling all kinds of Wells, from 10 to 2500 feet deep. Machines in 6 sizes. Send for descriptive Catalog and Price List.
Star Drilling Machine Co.
AKRON, OHIO.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD
Got the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

HOME STUDY. Book-keeping, Business Forms, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Short-hand, etc., thoroughly taught by MAIL. Circulars free. Bryant's College, 457 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOLDIERS and Heirs write us for new Pension laws. Sent free. Deserters relieved. Success or no fee. A. W. McCormick & Sons, Washington, D. C., & Cincinnati, O.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1890.

The citizens of Manor, a village of 500 inhabitants near Greensburg, Pa. are panic-stricken, owing to the prevalence of a malignant type of typhoid fever. There are now over two hundred cases in the town and there has been an average of four deaths per day within the last two weeks. The cause of the scourge is attributed to the impurity of the water. At Whitney, a little mining village, there are one hundred cases of diphtheria and nearly every case is attended with fatal results.

A terrible explosion occurred late Tuesday afternoon at King's powder mills, on the Little Miami Railroad, twenty-nine miles east of Cincinnati, Ohio. Ten persons were killed and thirty or more seriously injured. Two empty freight cars were being rolled on to a side track, where a car containing five hundred kegs of gunpowder was standing. As the cars struck there was a terrific explosion, and immediately afterward another car containing eight hundred kegs of gunpowder exploded, making thirteen hundred kegs altogether.

An explosion occurred Friday night on the steamer Tioga, which was unloading at her wharf at the foot of Washington street, Chicago, and it is known that at least nine men met death in the fierce heat that followed, while many others were seriously injured. At midnight nine bodies had been taken out of the vessel, many of them so badly mutilated that identification was almost impossible, and several wounded men had been sent to the hospital. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

A dispatch from Ysleta, Texas, says a pitched battle occurred there Friday between two local factions, both of whom claim control of the town government. They held an election in April and each side claimed the election. Both sets of officials were sworn in and the town has had two governments ever since. Several fights have taken place and it has been expected the trouble would culminate in a bloody conflict. At last accounts both sides were holding their ground, and it is impossible for any one to venture out to discover the number of dead and wounded. The telegraph operator counted six bodies from his window.

The details of the terrible cyclone which swept over the city of St. Paul, Minn., and vicinity on Sunday night show that disaster was even greater than at first reported. The steamer Sea Wing was capsized on Lake Pepin and about 125 passengers perished. Cottages at the summer resorts were crushed like eggshells, buildings and trees leveled, and many other persons killed and injured. It is expected that the total loss of life will reach 200.

A director of the Maryland Penitentiary said Friday that ex-State Treasurer of Maryland Archer is not only a very sick man but that his mind is becoming affected and that he will be insane or perhaps dead inside of three months. Archer is serving a term of five years upon a charge of embezzlement to which he pleaded guilty on Monday last.

A terrible accident occurred late Sunday afternoon at Baden, 12 miles from San Francisco, near a cemetery in San Mateo county, Cal. A wagon containing fifteen people was run into by a train. The people were tossed in all directions. Six were killed outright and others were injured.

A Halifax, N. S., special says: A terrible disaster happened in Dartmouth Friday night. The ferry landing stage, while crowded with 150 persons collapsed and precipitated the throng into the water, causing the loss of about fifty lives.

One hundred and fifty men, women and children at a church picnic at Solon, a few miles north of Iowa city, Iowa, were prostrated Sunday, with serious symptoms of poisoning. The use of the water from the well long since abandoned is given as the cause of the sickness.

A horrible affair occurred at Ballyneale, Ireland, last week. A man named John Hart, living at the place, murdered his mother and then chopped her body to pieces. When the crime was discovered Hart was found lying besides the remains eating a portion of them.

There was another "race riot" down in Georgia last Thursday. Four negroes were killed but no white men.

The Brewery of the Henry Muller Brewing Company, Philadelphia, was damaged by fire Friday morning to the extent of $100,000. Two men are reported as badly hurt.

Gen. Fremont died in New York on Sunday afternoon, of inflammation of the bowels. He was born in Savannah, Georgia, in 1813, and was 77 years and 6 months old.

Gen. Clinton B. Fiske, who was the national Prohibition candidate for President of the United States in 1883, died at his residence in New York last Tuesday.

Fire on Saturday in the Stamboul quarter, Constantinople, destroyed a thousand houses and ruined 125 timber merchants. It is feared that many lives were lost.

James D. Ward, a drover, lately residing in Chicago, was thrown from a freight train near Wimer, Lancaster county, Monday morning. He was on his way to Philadelphia.

The large seven-story warehouse of the Security Warehouse Company at Minneapolis, Minn., owned by Wood and Moore, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, entailing a loss of nearly a million dollars.

An unknown tramp was found dead in Farmer Ballinger's barn, near Green village, Franklin county, Tuesday. An inquest revealed the fact that death resulted from natural causes.

A riot is reported near Kearsse, in Barnwell county, S. C. Three hundred negroes armed with rifles, are said to confront twenty-five white men. One negro has been killed. Assistance has gone from the neighboring towns.

The government of Salvador has declared the country in a state of siege. War with Guatemala is said to be imminent.

A passenger train from Columbus and a construction train collided near Madisonville, Ill., Monday, owing to a misunderstanding of orders. Five members of the crew were killed.

Flames broke out in the Gould block in Dallas, Tex., and consumed an entire block of fine business houses. The loss is estimated at half a million dollars.

An unknown young man, believed to have been from Buffalo, committed suicide by jumping over the American Falls at Niagara.

Four colored men were killed and eight wounded in a race riot at Starr's Miles' Fayette county, Ga. Two white men were seriously wounded and it is expected that the war will go on.

Andrew Erickson, fell thirty-five feet headforemost into a stone quarry at Rockford, Ill., the other day, and though he landed on his head was not seriously hurt.

George Cunningham, of Millville, and Jacob Cunningham, of Philadelphia, were drowned while swimming in the river near Millville Friday.

The cholera epidemic in Spain has slightly increased. Eleven new cases and three deaths are reported at Rolova and three new cases and three deaths at Candia.

Two hundred and fifty houses have been burned at Maidan, Nizhni Novorod, Russia. Six men and a girl lost their lives.

In the past five days $2,500,000 in gold bars has been shipped from New York to Europe.

Within the past two months there has been 445 cases of cholera in Spain. Of these 251 have been fatal.

Several hundred armed, masked and mounted Mexicans are devastating the country within a radius of thirty miles of Las Vegas, New Mexico, and the Government has been appealed for aid.

A car load of barbed wire has just been unearthed at Johnstown and shipped to its destination.

FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL.—Mr. A. N. Hazen, Washington, D. C., says the famous Red Flag Oil is a perfect family medicine, and has no equal for rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains, cuts, burns and all bodily pain. Price 25c.

Consumption.—Are you troubled with this terrible disease? If so, take healthy exercise, live in open air, use Pan-Tina cough and consumption cure and be cured; don't delay. Price 25 and 50 cents. Trial bottles free at J. W. Barnitz's drug store.

The grippe is now epidemic in Iceland. Many fatal cases are reported.

The floods in Southern Hungary are doing much damage along the Danube. Ten persons have been drowned.

Fire last Tuesday night destroyed a number of buildings along the water front of Seattle, Washington. Loss, $100,000.

A night blooming cereus in bloom at the residence of Mr. Z. H. Cashman, Hanover street, attracted considerable attention Wednesday evening. There were four flowers on the plant.

While a little 3 year-old son of John Cunningham, Spring garden township, York county, was playing in his father's barn yard Sunday morning a colt kicked him in the forehead with both feet, crushing the frontal bone to such an extent that the brain oozed from the wound. Several doctors were summoned, and the little fellow was chloroformed and his skull trepanned, a piece of the skull about the size of a silver half dollar, which had been imbedded in the brain tissue, was removed, the brain which was mutilated was also removed and the pure brain was replaced, the scalp sewed up and the child made as comfortable as possible.

Frederick had a large parade of firemen on the Fourth, and excursion trains were run on all the railroads. The train on the Frederick division, was almost wrecked near Taneytown on the return trip about midnight.

Friday week Hugh Miller, 9 years old, a son of Rev. Simon S. Miller, reformed minister at Bozeshoro, fell down and cut his lip while he was running. Although it bled so freely that there was considerable trouble in quieting the flow of blood, no importance was attached to the injury. The cut opened on Sunday night, and from that time on it was found impossible to stop the bleeding, which continued until Monday, when the boy died from exhaustion.

George Wallace Delamater, Louis A. Watres, Chauncey F. Black and W. H. Barclay have notified Col. R. H. Thomas that they will be on hand on the respective political days during the great interstate exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry, which will open at Williams' Grove on Monday, August 25th, and continue six days.

MARRIED.

June 20th, by Rev. J. A. Metzger, Mr. Edmund F. Little, of Berwick township, this county, to Miss Ellie A. Radisill, of Penn township, York county.

July 12, at Conowago Chapel, by Rev. Thos. W. Hayes, S. J., Mr. Charles Hombach to Miss Ella Elise, both of Meckersburg.

DIED.

Deaths free,—tributes, verses, &c., 5 cents a line

June 19th, in St. Louis, Mo., Mr. James Felix, a brother of Mr. Henry Felix, of this place, aged about 65 years.

July 10, in Gettysburg, Mr. John Hoffman, aged 49 years, 8 months and 23 days.

July 6, near Elmira, after a severe and lingering illness, Mrs. Jane M. Daniel, wife of Mr. Daniel A. Hartman, aged 43 years 10 months and 14 days.

July 6, in Liberty township, Mr. Jacob Martin, aged 51 years.

July 9, in Littlestown, C. Wade Erb, aged 22 years, 3 months and 16 days.

July 9, in Highland township, Mrs. Annie M., wife of Thomas Newmann, aged 31 years, 9 months and 22 days.

HERE IS SOMETHING YOU OUGHTN'T MISS!

In all our great Clearing Out Sales of our summer stock of Shoes and Slippers, we never put prices down as low as now. So be on hand this week. Ladies button shoes at $1, always sold for $1.60. Ladies fine lace shoes at $1; you never bought them for less than $1.35. Ladies fine button shoes at $1.25, we have only a few pair of them left; they are worth $2 if they are worth anything. Ladies fine shoes, kid and Dongola, at $1.50; you would be glad to get them at any other store for $2.25. Ladies fine shoes at $1.75 and $2; they are hand sewed. These shoes we always considered our leaders at $2.75 and $3. Look at the reduction. Our $3.50 hand-sewed shoes at $2.50. Our $4.50 hand-sewed shoes at $3.50. Misses' heel and spring heel shoes (Hanover make) at $1; they cost more to make. You may not think this is true. Go and ask at the factory what they cost. Misses fine shoes (same make) at $1.25. Others will ask you $1.75 and $2 for them. Misses hand-sewed shoes at $1.75 and $2 for them. These shoes are cheap at $2.50 and $3. Boys shoes from 90c. up. They have all been reduced from 25 to 35 per cent. Infants' shoes from 25c. up. Children's spring heel shoes from 40c. up, all Hanover make and are sold for less than they cost to make. They're a job. Ladies fine slippers at 60c., worth $1. Ladies slippers at 75c., worth $1.25, and so on up. All are reduced from higher prices. Men's fine shoes at $1.15, worth $1.75. Men's fine shoes at $1.50, worth $2. Men's fine hand-sewed shoes from $2 up to $5, in calf and kangaroo. Every pair warranted. Farmers heavy plow shoes at $1.

D. MYERS.

At And'w Dellone & Bro.'s Old Stand Broadway, Hanover, Pa.

Trespass Notice.

The undersigned hereby gives notice to all persons not to in any way trespass on his land in Oxford township, either for hunting, gathering fruit or berries. All parties so offending will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

JACOB SMITH.

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any purgative known to me." E. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colds, Constipation, Sore Throat, Diarrhea, Eructation, Bilis Worms, gives sleep, and promotes healthy habits. It is a safe and reliable medicine.

See CASTORIA COMPANY, 152 Fulton Street, N. Y.

WE ARE BOUND TO DO IT!

TO PLEASE
TO SUIT
TO FIT TO SELL TO EVERYBODY.

FROM OUR IMMENSE STOCK OF

SPRING & SUMMER CLOTHING!

for Men, Boys and Children, which we have just received. Our styles and patterns of suits cannot be equaled by any other merchant in town. We manufacture all our own clothing and know that our goods are sewed never to rip. If you have not been to see us, it will pay you to come and take a look at our fine clothing before you intend to purchase. No charges are made for that. If you are not convinced that we will sell you better goods for less money than anybody else we don't want you to buy.

Men's suits at $3 to $4; Men's all wool suits at $5 to $6; Men's fine Worsteds suits at $7; Men's fancy chevrot suits at $7.50; Men's Prince Albert suits at $12 to $15; Men's imported worsteds suits, with sack or frock coats at $8; Men's extra fine worsteds suits, with sack or frock coats at $10 and up; Boys' suits $3 to $5; Boys' fine chevrot suits, all colors, at $5.50; Boys' black worsteds suits at $6 and upwards; Child's suit at $1.25, from 5 to 14 years; Child's suits at $1.50, $1.75, $2 and up.

Enough HATS to fit everybody, and to suit anybody in style and price.

The largest and finest line of Neckwear in town. Give me a call.

D. MYERS, The Reliable CLOTHIER.

And'w. Dellone & Bro.'s Old Stand, next to Shirk's Hardware, HANOVER, Pa.

READY TO GO SPRING BARGAINS!

We will commence the season with Bargains!

We will continue the season with Bargains!

We will end the season with Bargains!

Fine goods and plenty of them! All the leading and representative styles for Spring and Summer! Dry goods, Groceries, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Paints and Oils, &c. Ladies Fine Dress Goods and Fine Shoes are specialties. Every department full of new novelties—rich in Quality and Style.

—YOU ARE SURE TO FIND WHAT YOU WANT.—

Our Aim—to keep the best.

Our Ambition—to please our trade.

Our Principle—fair dealing.

Our Price—the lowest.

OUR WELCOME WORD FOR ALL—BARGAINS!

Very truly,

S. A. SLAYBAUGH, Hampton, Pa.

GEO. H. HEPLER,

—DEALER IN—

Tin Plate and Sheet-Iron, Russian Sheet Iron and Zinc, Japanned and Stamped Ware, Pieced Tinware, &c., &c.

A specialty with me is first-class made TINWARE—Wash Boilers, Buckets, Coffee Pots, &c., &c. I have also a lot of CHEAP TINWARE from which to make selections. Special attention to mail order business. Roofing and Spouting a specialty.

GEO. H. HEPLER,

Carlisle street, New Oxford, Pa.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease CONSUMPTION, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is available. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings county, New York.

SALESMEN WANTED.

LOCAL OR TRAVELING! To sell our nursery stock, salary, expenses and steady employment guaranteed.

Chase Brothers Company.

Rochester, N. Y.

G. A. KLINGLER, FASHIONABLE BARBER AND HAIR DRESSER

Shampooing and dyeing done in the finest styles. Razors honed and put in order at lowest rates. Saloon next door to the Irem office Centre Square, New Oxford, Pa.

The Irem Job Printing Department turns out all kinds of work—cheap.

Enjoyable Trip

W. M. R. R. EMPLOYEES'

Annual Excursion

JULY 19. SATURDAY! JULY 19.

BAY RIDGE!

Steamer Columbia

4 Hours at the Beach 4

PROF. ZEIGLER'S ORCHESTRA!

6 UNIFORMED BANDS 6

—FARE— $1.50 For the round trip, $1.50

Train leaves New Oxford at 6.12 a. m.

No intoxicants on the boat or grounds.

The citizens of Manor, a village of 500 inhabitants near Greensburg, Pa. are panic-stricken, owing to the prevalence of a malignant type of typhoid fever. There are now over two hundred cases in the town and there has been an average of four deaths per day within the last two weeks. The cause of the scourge is attributed to the impurity of the water. At Whitney, a little mining village, there are one hundred cases of diphtheria and nearly every case is attended with fatal results.

A terrible explosion occurred late Tuesday afternoon at King's powder mills, on the Little Miami Railroad, twenty-nine miles east of Cincinnati, Ohio. Ten persons were killed and thirty or more seriously injured. Two empty freight cars were being rolled on to a side track, where a car containing five hundred kegs of gunpowder was standing. As the cars struck there was a terrific explosion, and immediately afterward another car containing eight hundred kegs of gunpowder exploded, making thirteen hundred kegs altogether.

An explosion occurred Friday night on the steamer Tioga, which was unloading at her wharf at the foot of Washington street, Chicago, and it is known that at least nine men met death in the fierce heat that followed, while many others were seriously injured. At midnight nine bodies had been taken out of the vessel, many of them so badly mutilated that identification was almost impossible, and several wounded men had been sent to the hospital. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

A dispatch from Ysleta, Texas, says a pitched battle occurred there Friday between two local factions, both of whom claim control of the town government. They held an election in April and each side claimed the election. Both sets of officials were sworn in and the town has had two governments ever since. Several fights have taken place and it has been expected the trouble would culminate in a bloody conflict. At last accounts both sides were holding their ground, and it is impossible for any one to venture out to discover the number of dead and wounded. The telegraph operator counted six bodies from his window.

The details of the terrible cyclone which swept over the city of St. Paul, Minn., and vicinity on Sunday night show that disaster was even greater than at first reported. The steamer Sea Wing was capsized on Lake Pepin and about 125 passengers perished. Cottages at the summer resorts were crushed like eggshells, buildings and trees leveled, and many other persons killed and injured. It is expected that the total loss of life will reach 200.

A director of the Maryland Penitentiary said Friday that ex-State Treasurer of Maryland Archer is not only a very sick man but that his mind is becoming affected and that he will be insane or perhaps dead inside of three months. Archer is serving a term of five years upon a charge of embezzlement to which he pleaded guilty on Monday last.

A terrible accident occurred late Sunday afternoon at Baden, 12 miles from San Francisco, near a cemetery in San Mateo county, Cal. A wagon containing fifteen people was run into by a train. The people were tossed in all directions. Six were killed outright and others were injured.

A Halifax, N. S., special says: A terrible disaster happened in Dartmouth Friday night. The Ferry landing stage, while crowded with 150 persons collapsed and precipitated the throng into the water, causing the loss of about fifty lives.

One hundred and fifty men, women and children at a church picnic at Solon, a few miles north of Iowa city, Iowa, were prostrated Sunday, with serious symptoms of poisoning. The use of the water from the well long since abandoned is given as the cause of the sickness.

A horrible affair occurred at Ballyneale, Ireland, last week. A man named John Hart, living at the place, murdered his mother and then chopped her body to pieces. When the crime was discovered Hart was found lying besides the remains eating a portion of them.

There was another "race riot" down in Georgia last Thursday. Four negroes were killed but no white men.

The Brewery of the Henry Muller Brewing Company, Philadelphia, was damaged by fire Friday morning to the extent of $100,000. Two men are reported as badly hurt.

Gen. Fremont died in New York on Sunday afternoon, of inflammation of the bowels. He was born in Savannah, Georgia, in 1813, and was 77 years and 6 months old.

Gen. Clinton B. Fiske, who was the national Prohibition candidate for President of the United States in 1888, died at his residence in New York last Tuesday.

Fire on Saturday in the Stamboul quarter, Constantinople, destroyed a thousand houses and ruined 125 timber merchants. It is feared that many lives were lost.

James D. Ward, a drover, lately residing in Chicago, was thrown from a freight train near Witmer, Lancaster county, Monday morning. He was on his way to Philadelphia.

The large seven-story warehouse of the Security Warehouse Company at Minneapolis, Minn., owned by Wood and Moore, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, entailing a loss of nearly a million dollars.

An unknown tramp was found dead in Farmer Ballinger's barn, near Green village, Franklin county, Tuesday. An inquest revealed the fact that death resulted from natural causes.

A riot is reported near Kearsse, in Barnwell county, S. C. Three hundred negroes armed with rifles, are said to confront twenty-five white men. One negro has been killed. Assistance has gone from the neighboring towns.

The government of Salvador has declared the country in a state of siege. War with Guatemala is said to be imminent.

A passenger train from Columbus and a construction train collided near Madisonville, Ill., Monday, owing to a misunderstanding of orders. Five members of the crew were killed.

Flames broke out in the Gould block in Dallas, Tex., and consumed an entire block of fine business houses. The loss is estimated at half a million dollars.

An unknown young man, believed to have been from Buffalo, committed suicide by jumping over the American Falls at Niagara.

Four colored men were killed and eight wounded in a race riot at Starr's Miles' Fayette county, Ga. Two white men were seriously wounded and it is expected that the war will go on.

Andrew Erickson, fell thirty-five feet headforemost into a stone quarry at Rockford, Ill., the other day, and though he landed on his head was not seriously hurt.

George Cunningham, of Millville, and Jacob Cunningham, of Philadelphia, were drowned while swimming in the river near Millville Friday.

The cholera epidemic in Spain has slightly increased. Eleven new cases and three deaths are reported at Rolova and three new cases and three deaths at Candia.

Two hundred and fifty houses have been burned at Maidan, Nizhni Novorod, Russia. Six men and a girl lost their lives.

In the past five days $2,500,000 in gold bars has been shipped from New York to Europe.

Within the past two months there has been 445 cases of cholera in Spain. Of these 251 have been fatal.

Several hundred armed, masked and mounted Mexicans are devastating the country within a radius of thirty miles of Las Vegas, New Mexico, and the Government has been appealed for aid.

A car load of barbed wire has just been unearthed at Johnstown and shipped to its destination.

FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL.—Mr. A. N. Hazen, Washington, D. C., says the famous Red Flag Oil is a perfect family medicine, and has no equal for rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains, cuts, burns and all bodily pain. Price 25c.

Consumption.—Are you troubled with this terrible disease? If so, take healthy exercise, live in open air, use Pan-Tina cough and consumption cure and be cured; don't delay. Price 25 and 50 cents. Trial bottles free at J. W. Barnitz's drug store.

The grippe is now epidemic in Iceland. Many fatal cases are reported.

The floods in Southern Hungary are doing much damage along the Danube. Ten persons have been drowned.

Fire last Tuesday night destroyed a number of buildings along the water front of Seattle, Washington. Loss, $100,000.

A night blooming cerena in bloom at the residence of Mr. Z. H. Cashman, Hanover street, attracted considerable attention Wednesday evening. There were four flowers on the plant.

While a little 3 year-old son of John Cunningham, Springgarden township, York county, was playing in his father's barn yard Sunday morning a colt kicked him in the forehead with both feet, crushing the frontal bone to such an extent that the brain oozed from the wound. Several doctors were summoned, and the little fellow was chloroformed and his skull trepanned, a piece of the skull about the size of a silver half dollar, which had been imbedded in the brain tissue, was removed, the brain which was mutilated was also removed and the pure brain was replaced, the scalp sewed up and the child made as comfortable as possible.

Frederick had a large parade of firemen on the Fourth, and excursion trains were run on all the railroads. The train on the Frederick division, was almost wrecked near Taneytown on the return trip about midnight.

Friday week Hugh Miller, 9 years old, a son of Rev. Simon S. Miller, reformed minister at Boonsboro', fell down and cut his lip while he was running. Although it bled so freely that there was considerable trouble in quieting the flow of blood, no importance was attached to the injury. The cut opened on Sunday night, and from that time on it was found impossible to stop the bleeding, which continued until Monday, when the boy died from exhaustion.

George Wallace Delamater, Louis A. Watres, Chauncey F. Black and W. H. Barclay have notified Col. R. H. Thomas that they will be on hand on the respective political days during the great interstate exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry, which will open at Williams' Grove on Monday, August 25th, and continue six days.

MARRIED.

June 20th, by Rev. J. A. Metzger, Mr. Edmund F. Little, of Berwick township, this county, to Miss Lillie A. Rudisill, of Penn township, York county.

July 12, at Conowago Chapel, by Rev. Thos. W. Hayes, S. J., Mr. Charles Hombach to Miss Ella Elino, both of Mcherrystown.

DIED.

Deaths free,—tributes, verses, &c., 5 cents a line

June 19th, in St. Louis, Mo., Mr. James Felix, a brother of Mr. Henry Felix, of this place, aged about 65 years.

July 10, in Gettysburg, Mr. John Hoffman, aged 49 years, 8 months and 23 days.

July 6, near Emmitsburg, after a severe and lingering illness, Mrs. Annie M., wife of Mr. Daniel A. Hartman, aged 43 years 10 months and 14 days.

July 6, in Liberty township, Mr. Jacob Martin, aged 81 years.

July 9, in Littlestown, C. Wade Erb, aged 22 years, 3 months and 16 days.

July 9, in Highland township, Mrs. Annie M., wife of Thomas Newman, aged 31 years, 9 months and 22 days.

HERE IS SOMETHING YOU OUGHTN'T MISS!

In all our great Clearing Out Sales of our summer stock of Shoes and Slippers, we never put prices down as low as now. So be on hand this week. Ladies button shoes at $1, always sold for $1.60. Ladies fine lace shoes at $1; you never bought them for less than $1.35. Ladies fine button shoes at $1.25, we have only a few pair of them left; they are worth $2 if they are worth anything. Ladies fine shoes, kid and Dongola, at $1.50; you would be glad to get them at any other store for $2.25. Ladies fine shoes at $1.75 and $2; they are hand sewed. These shoes we always considered our leaders at $2.75 and $3. Look at the reduction. Our $3.50 hand-sewed shoes at $2.50. Our $4.50 hand sewed shoes at $3.50, &c. Misses' heel and spring heel shoes (Hanover make) at $1; they cost more to make. You may not think this is true. Go and ask at the factory what they cost. Misses fine shoes (same make) at $1.25. Others will ask you $1.75 and $2 for them. Misses hand sewed shoes at $1.75 and $2 for them. These shoes are cheap at $2.50 and $3. Boys shoes from 90c. up. They have all been reduced from 25 to 33 per ct. Infants' shoes from 25c. up. Children's spring heel shoes from 40c. up, all Hanover make and are sold for less than they cost to make. They're a job. Ladies fine slippers at 60c., worth $1. Ladies slippers at 75c., worth $1.25, and so on up. All are reduced from higher prices. Men's fine shoes at $1.15, worth $1.75. Men's fine shoes at $1.50, worth $2. Men's fine hand-sewed shoes from $2 up to $5, in calf and kangaroo. Every pair warranted. Farmers heavy plow shoes at $1.

D. MYERS.

At And'w Dellone & Bro.'s Old Stand Broadway, Hanover, Pa.

Trespass Notice.

The undersigned hereby gives notice to all persons not to trespass on his land in Oxford township, either for hunting, gathering fruit or berries. Any parties so offending will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. JACOB SMITH.

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Azener, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

THIS CASTORIA COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

WE ARE BOUND TO DO IT!

TO PLEASE
TO SUIT
TO FIT TO SELL TO EVERYBODY.

FROM OUR IMMENSE STOCK OF

SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING!

for Men, Boys and Children, which we have just received. Our styles and patterns of suits cannot be equaled by any other merchant in town. We manufacture all our own clothing and know that our goods are sewed never to rip.

If you have not been to see us, it will pay you to come and take a look at our fine clothing before you intend to purchase. No charges are made for that. If you are not convinced that we will sell you better goods for less money than anybody else we don't want you to buy.

Men's suits at $3 to $4; Men's all wool suits at $5 to $6; Men's fine Worsteds suits at $7; Men's fancy cheviot suits at $7.50; Men's Prince Albert suits at $12 to $15; Men's imported worsteds suits, with sack or frock coats at $8; Men's extra fine worsteds suits, with sack or frock coats at $10 and up; Boys' suits $3 to $5; Boys' fine cheviot suits, all colors, at $5.50; Boys' black worsteds suits at $6 and upwards; Child's suit at $1.25, from 5 to 14 years; Child's suits at $1.50, $1.75, $2 and up.

Enough HATS to fit everybody, and to suit anybody in style and price. The largest and finest line of Neckwear in town. Give me a call.

D. MYERS, The Reliable CLOTHIER.

And'w. Dellone & Bro.'s Old Stand, next to Shirk's Hardware, HAOVER, Pa.

READY WITH OUR SPRING BARGAINS!

We will commence the season with Bargains!

We will continue the season with Bargains!

We will end the season with Bargains!

Fine goods and plenty of them! All the leading and representative styles for Spring and Summer! Dry goods, Groceries, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Paints and Oils, &c. Ladies' Fine Dress Goods and Fine Shoes are specialties. Every department full of new novelties—rich in Quality and Style.

—YOU ARE SURE TO FIND WHAT YOU WANT.—

Our Aim—to keep the best.
Our Principle—fair dealing.

Our Ambition—to please our trade.
Our Price—the lowest.

OUR WELCOME WORD FOR ALL—BARGAINS!

Very truly,

S. A. SLAYBAUGH, Hampton, Pa.

GEO. H. HEPLER,

—DEALER IN—

Tin Plate and Sheet-Iron, Russian Sheet Iron and Zinc, Japanned and Stamped Ware, Pieced Tinware, &c., &c.

A specialty with me is first-class made TINWARE—Wash Boilers, Buckets, Coffee Pots, &c., &c. I have also a lot of CHEAP TINWARE from which to make selections. Special attention to mail order business. Roofing and Spouting a specialty.

GEO. H. HEPLER,
Carlisle street, New Oxford, Pa.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease CONSUMPTION, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is available. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings county, New York.

SALES MEN WANTED.

LOCAL OR TRAVELING!

To sell our nursery stock, salary, expenses and steady employment guaranteed.

Chase Brothers Company,
Rochester, N. Y.

G. A. KLINGL, F.
—FASHIONABLE—
BARBER AND HAIR DRESSER

Shampooing and dyeing done in the finest styles. Razors honed and put in order at lowest rates. Saloon next door to the IREM office Centre Square, New Oxford, Pa.

The IREM Job Printing Department turns out handsome work—cheap.

Enjoyable Trip

W. M. R. R. EMPLOYEES'

Annual Excursion

JULY 19. SATURDAY! JULY 19.

BAY RIDGE!

Steamer Columbia

4 Hours at the Beach 4

PROF. ZEIGLER'S ORCHESTRA!

6 UNIFORMED BANDS 6

$1.50 —FARE— $1.50
Train leaves New Oxford at 6.12 a. m.

No intoxicants on the boat or grounds.

TERMS—ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM, in advance—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid within year. No subscription discontinued unless at the option of the publisher, until all arrearages are paid. A failure to order a discontinuance at the expiration of the time subscribed for, will be considered a new engagement.

ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at the usual rates—large reductions to those who advertise by the year.

JOB PRINTING of every description—from the smallest table or card to the largest hand bill or poster—done with dispatch, at the lowest rates.

OFFICE on Centre Square, near Noel's grocery.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1890.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

A Hanover young lady ate two qts. of sour cherries one afternoon, last week.

The annual Conewago picnic will be held in the grove at the Chapel, on Tuesday, July 29th.

Watermelons are getting plentiful and a little cheaper. Cantaloupes are here but a little steep in price yet.

Mr. Samuel Hoffheims, of Church street, this place, is suffering from a large carbuncle on his right ankle.

Rena, the seven-months old daughter of Mr. Ed. Bond, of high street, badly sprained her left arm in some manner.

Court on Saturday appointed David H. Myers guardian of Miles A. Keasy, minor child of Maria Myers, deceased.

Geo. S. Emig, Esq., formerly District Attorney of Cumberland county, was drowned at San Francisco on Friday morning.

A new organ will be erected in the Reformed church of Littlestown, this week. The organ is to be an imitation of a pipe organ.

On Sunday while driving a colt, Mr. Edward Pfeiffer, Gettysburg, was thrown out of a sulky and had his left wrist badly sprained.

The salary of the postmaster of Gettysburg has been raised from $1,700 to $1,800 owing to an increase in the amount of mail handled.

We hear that there is a movement on foot backed with plenty of brains capital, for the establishment of a new Democratic paper in Hanover.

Mr. Noah Sheely, in Franklin township, has 40 acres in flax growing finely. The seed only is utilized, and amounts to more than a crop of oats.

A new organ will be erected in the Reformed church of Littlestown, this week. The organ is to be an imitation of a pipe organ, and is very handsome.

The census figures for Gettysburg, as furnished by Mr. Adler, Supervisor of this district, foot up 3,051, an increase of 237 over the enumeration of 1880.

A fine horse belonging to W. E. Brough, of Latimore township, dropped over dead one evening last week after doing a hard day's work in a grain binder.

All humors of the scalp, tetter, sores, and dandruff cured, and falling hair checked; hence, baldness prevented by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

The census of Hanover reaches 3,760, an increase of 1,443, which is due to the enlarged borough limits. The Herald says the actual gain is about 20 to 25 per cent.

Saturday evening, July 19th, a dancing picnic will be held in Kellenberger's grove at the cross pikes, 1½ miles northeast of this place; the last of the season. All are invited.

Mr. Henry Gitt, of Philadelphia street, reports thirty potatoes from three eyes planted in the spring. Two specimens exhibited at this office weighed 19 ounces. A remarkably large yield.

If James Howard Brown, Councilman and Sanitary Commissioner, would exercise the energy displayed by James Howard Brown, fisherman, &c., &c., what a clean, progressive borough New Oxford would be!

The iron fence formerly surrounding Lafayette square, Washington, and which was donated by Congress to the Battlefield Memorial Association is now being erected. It will be placed along East Cemetery Hill and Slocum avenue to the first gate. Parts will be used at other points.

July 26th, a dancing picnic will be held in Heltzel's grove, along the Gettysburg pike, near Brush Run Station. All are invited.

The arrangements for the reunion of Reformed churches of Southern Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia at Pen-Mar, on the 31st day of July, been fully consummated by the committee, says a Baltimore exchange.

On last Saturday evening, the following teachers were elected to the schools of Berwick Township:—Green Springs school, Miss Mattie Schoil; Walnut Grove school, Miss Dora Gilbert; Beaver Creek school, Miss Florence Richter.

While R. F. Sauders and H. L. Harbaugh, of Fairfield, were out riding on Thursday evening the cart struck a rock in the road which overturned it and threw the young men out, but they both escaped with a few slight cuts and bruises.

On last Thursday, while Mr. Joseph Kuhn was helping Mr. A. Riffe to haul hay, near Littlestown, bumble bees got after the horses and caused them to run off. Mr. K. had the misfortune of being run over by the horses and wagon, but fortunately was not hurt.

A scheme is now on foot in various parts of the state for naming the country roads and numbering the farm houses as houses are numbered in the city, putting up sign boards at the corners, and in fact making it very easy to find a given point in the rural districts.

While Mr. Joseph Shultz, of Mountpleasant township, was driving on his way home from Hanover, Monday last, his horse became frightened and, running to the side of the road, sprained its leg so badly that the animal cannot be used. Two weeks ago Mr. Shultz refused $150 for the animal.

John B. Kuhn, son of the late Judge Kuhn, of this place, is the editor and proprietor of The Record of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, published monthly at Brooklyn, N. Y. The July number contains a cut and sketch of Dr. Geo. R. Kuhn brother of the editor and founder of the order.

A newspaper man is generally expected to be everywhere, see everything, and catch every item afloat, simply because it is his profession. But he can't do it. His friends can help him, though, by sending or bringing such items as are of interest. Incidents of an acceptable nature are always gladly received. All manner of legitimate local news go to make an interesting paper, and will be received with thanks by the publisher.

There is some uneasiness in regard to the cholera, which now in France, Spain and Russia, appears to be gaining in spite of all the efforts made to stamp it out. It may or may not reach this country, but the Government will doubtless do all it can to prevent it reaching our shores. We read only a few days ago of a supposed case in Pittsburgh, and this should be a warning to all other cities and towns and to the individual inhabitants. Keep your premises clean, sweeten and purify them with disinfectants, see that there are no foul places or disease breeding spots about and use plenty of lime if you can get it. The Sanitary Commissioners should keep their eyes open now. The very hot weather is still to come and the necessity of the hour demands cleanliness everywhere, in streets and alleys as well as around private premises. Get the town into a thoroughly good sanitary condition and thus we will be prepared against the worst that may happen. There are other diseases that are almost as bad as cholera, and just as liable to come in an unkempt or filthy condition of the town. Let every one, therefore, do his best to aid the general cleanliness.

County Convention.

The Republican county convention will be held in Gettysburg on Monday, July 28th, when a full county ticket will be nominated. Delegates will be chosen on the Saturday previous.

Change of Name.

The Star says: Mr. Simon Diller, the owner and proprietor of the McClellan House has decided to change the name of the house to Hotel Gettysburg. When that change is made the name of the late Colonel McClellan will have been dropped from all his property in Gettysburg.

By Mistake.

On Sunday Mrs. E. K. Eichelberger, one of the Hanover camping party at the railroad bridge, near this place, took Fl. Ext. Belladonna by mistake for other medicine, and suffered intensely for several hours. Drs. J. L. Sheetz, of this place, and Bittinger, of Hanover, were in attendance and at last accounts the lady was improving.

Personal.
Miss Laura Shearer, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Nettie Swartz, Philadelphia street.
Mr. Shenk and wife, of Annville, Lebanon county, is the guest of H. M. Swartz, Philadelphia street.
Miss Bertha Jacobs, of Abilene, Kans., is visiting in the family of Z. H. Cashman, Hanover street.
Miss Mamie Heltzel, of Baltimore, is visiting her father, Mr. Charles Heltzel, High street.
Mrs. Holiday, of Baltimore, is visiting H. J. Myers, Pitt street.
Misses Emma Durkee and Mamie Timmins, of McSherrystown, spent this week among friends in this place.
Misses Effie M. and Lillian M. Palmer, of Baughman Valley, and Miss Doose, of Silver Run, were guests of Mrs. G. N. Warner, Hanover street, this week.

No Damage for Vacated Streets.

An opinion was handed down by Judge Smout at Harrisburg Tuesday in the cases of three or four citizens of Middletown against the borough which enunciates a principle of much importance to the municipalities of the State. These cases were for the assessment of damages claimed by reason of the vacation of certain streets in Middletown and the viewers had awarded damages in each case, in all amounting to many thousands of dollars. Exceptions were filed to these reports, which were sustained, the Court holding that the vacation of a street did not entitle an abutting owner to damages, and much less could a party recover damages for property which did not abut on the street vacated.

The Wheat Crop.

The wheat crop has been harvested and it is said the crop is disappointing in the yield. The grain stood well and promised good results, but the heads are not well filled. In some places not more than half a crop has been harvested. The failure is attributed to the hot days in May which followed the heavy rains earlier in the month when the grain was in a milky condition.

Sudden Death.

John A. Hoffman, for a long time one of the repair hands on the W. M. R. R. and later hostler at the City Hotel, died suddenly on Thursday morning. He had been feeling unwell for almost a week but his death was sudden and was probably caused by a stroke of paralysis. He was a soldier and was buried in the National Cemetery, the G. A. R. Post having charge of the ceremonies.—Star.

The Pipe Line.

The Standard Oil Company's pipe line seems to be an assured thing. Its agents have been securing releases from farmers in Franklin county over whose land the line runs. The release calls for a six or eight inch pipe to be laid at a depth of three feet. It contains a clause in which the company agrees to pay for all damages to soil or crops which may result from leakage, etc.

It is said work will be begun in the fall. Pumps will be placed at intervals along the line to force the oil through the pipes and over the hills. A large number of men will be employed when work commences.

Bear Killed.

A huge black bear, seen in the mountain near the Blue Mountain House, on the W. M. R. R., on Saturday, created intense excitement among the guests. The animal was brought to bay by dogs on Sunday and killed by a large party of hunters. It is reported to have weighed 800 pounds, and the skin will likely be stuffed and placed on exhibition at the hotel.

Death's Doings.

Mrs. Anna Mary Weaver, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Hezekiah C. Hagerman, in Bonneauville, Mountpleasant township, on the 8th inst., aged 98 years, 4 months and 23 days.

She had 3 children, two living and one dead; 13 grand-children living and 8 dead; 52 great-grand-children living and 17 dead; and 16 great-great-grand-children living and 6 dead.

Lutheran Reunion.

The fifth annual Lutheran Reunion at Pen Mar, will be held Sept. 3rd. The exercises will be interesting. A number of short addresses will be made by able speakers, which will be interspersed with instrumental and vocal music. Excursions from West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington city are being formed.

Our New Cruiser "Bravo."
Oh, Bravo! My Bravo!
You're the pride of my heart
So perfect in construction—
Though the express was right smart.
Now from more until night
We will fish just the same
Though people do sneer at
We'll catch fish that are game.
Our laws are imperfect,
But who is to blame?
We make no transgression
Since they are so lame.
With the Eagle and Duck Pond
You in glory will shine,
And the Slaughter House near High St.,
Will be disinfected with line.
In times that are past
We acted rather indiscreet,
But with you for protection
We will open every street.
So, come on you wise-acres!
Toss out your protest!
See whether Brown and the Buzzard
Won't come out best!

Apprehensive of an early and rigid enforcement of the law regarding the destruction of game fish within the borders of this commonwealth by unlawful means, viz: seines, gill nets, trotters, &c., Capt. James H. Brown, "Christy" Lawrence, (his man "Friday") reinforced by that sturdy band of pirates who infest the shores of the Conewago, have determined to defend their rights, which they aver are inalienable, to fish in whatever manner they choose, even though the Conewago becomes depleted from its source to its mouth, by having had built in Baltimore, out of the rough wood, in one day, a miniature man-of-war, which they have had painted red, white and blue, reminding of the penalty inflicted upon anyone who may prove so disloyal and unpatriotic as to fire upon the national colors. We would warn those who are envious of Capt. Brown's record as a fisherman, who are seeking to dispute him of his well-earned laurels, to go slow. Capt. Brown will get there, even though he did bore a hole in the bottom of a boat lately in order to let the water out!

BUZZARD.

A Worthy Project.

An effort is being made to establish a "Building and Loan Association" in this place. Already a large number of shares are disposed of by the projectors of the Association. It is a worthy object and should be made successful by our citizens.

The Cost of Our Roads.

There is a law providing that all township and school district reports be filed with the Clerk of the Courts within a specified time. Heretofore this provision of the statute has met with little attention in Adams county, but this year Clerk Stahle has notified all delinquent township officials and the result is that only two townships have failed to report—Hamiltonban and Tyrone. The others have all made proper returns, and from the figures of the reports, the Gettysburg Truth has gathered the cost of maintaining the public roads of Adams county for 1889.

The total expense, outside of Hamiltonban and Tyrone townships, was just $26,961.38. Of that sum $1,997.21 was expended by Butler, $310.49 by Berwick, $703.63 by Conewago, $2,489.58 by Cumberland, $2,521.02 by Franklin, $689.34 by Freedom, $531.70 by Germany, $915.37 by Hamilton, $841.91 by Highland, $1,921.26 Huntington, $1,940.81 by Littlemore, $983.15 by Liberty, $2,771.62 by Menallen, $1,128.50 by Mountjoy, $1,791.86 by Mountpleasant, $1,129.35 by Oxford, $1,785.37 by Reading, $1,901.33 by Straban and $599.88 by Union. When Hamiltonban and Tyrone townships make their returns and are included in the sum total, the cost for the year will be found little short of $30,000—enough surely to have given us better roads.

A Singular Accident.

York Springs Comet.

Mr. George M. Smith, of Heidlersburg, met with a singular accident one day last week. He was on his way down to see his son William on the old homestead farm in Huntington township, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Amos Hartman, and was leading a horse behind the buggy. On the way, he met his son Calvin, and whilst stopping for a few moments to talk, the horse tied behind caught its bridle rein on the hub of the wheel, upturning the buggy like a flash and throwing the occupants out with great force. Mrs. Hartman, who has been in failing health for some months past, fainted from the effects of the sudden shock, but fortunately escaped any serious injury. Mr. Smith, however, did not get off so fortunately, for in his descent he struck his breast with great force against the rim of Calvin's buggy, from the effects of which he suffered great pain for several days, requiring the services of a physician to give him relief.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

This being between seasons we are selling very many things in order to stimulate business, at a great reduction on regular prices. This is especially noticeable in our Carpet and Lace Curtain departments. All our Ingrain Carpets are now offering at from 15 to 20 per cent. less than regular prices. We bought a great many more straw mattings than we were able to sell—we are determined not to carry any over—the prices clear them. Lace Curtains will be sold at a heavy reduction, and those persons who may be in need of those goods this fall will make the difference in price by buying these goods now. Call early for choice.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

GUARANTEED

Dress Silks!

These silks are now so well known that in and around Gettysb'g they need no mention. Black Selvidges, Gros Grains, Failles, Royal Almas are the popular weaves. We guarantee them over our own name not to cut. No one else does it.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

The New Oxford Item.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

BY H. I. SMITH.

TERMS—ONE DOLLAR per annum, in advance—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid within Year. No subscription discontinued unless at the option of the publisher, until all arrearages are paid. A failure to order a discontinuance at the expiration of the time subscribed for, will be considered a new engagement.

ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at the usual rates—large reductions to those who advertise by the year.

JOB PRINTING of every description—from the smallest label or card to the largest hand bill or poster—done with dispatch, at the lowest rates.

OFFICE on Centre Square, near Noel's grocery.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1890.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

A Hanover young lady ate two qts. of sour cherries one afternoon, last week.

The annual Conewago picnic will be held in the grove at the Chapel, on Tuesday, July 29th.

Watermelons are getting plentiful and a little cheaper. Cantaloupes are here but a little steep in price yet.

Mr. Samuel Hoffheins, of Church street, this place, is suffering from a large carbuncle on his right ankle.

Rena, the seven-months old daughter of Mr. Ed. Bond, of high street, badly sprained her left arm in some manner.

Court on Saturday appointed David H. Myers guardian of Miles A. Keasy, minor child of Maria Myers, deceased.

Geo. S. Emig, Esq., formerly District Attorney of Cumberland county, was drowned at San Francisco on Friday morning.

A new organ will be erected in the Reformed church of Littlestown, this week. The organ is to be an imitation of a pipe organ.

On Sunday while driving a colt, Mr. Edward Pfister, Gettysburg, was thrown out of a sulky and had his left wrist badly sprained.

The salary of the postmaster of Gettysburg has been raised from $1,700 to $1,800 owing to an increase in the amount of mail handled.

We hear that there is a movement on foot backed with plenty of brains capital, for the establishment of a new Democratic paper in Hanover.

Mr. Noah Sheely, in Franklin township, has 40 acres in flax growing finely. The seed only is utilized, and amounts to more than a crop of oats.

A new organ will be erected in the Reformed church of Littlestown, this week. The organ is to be an imitation of a pipe organ, and is very handsome.

The census figures for Gettysburg, as furnished by Mr. Adler, Supervisor of this district, foot up 3,051, an increase of 237 over the enumeration of 1880.

A fine horse belonging to W. E. Brough, of Latimore township, dropped over dead one evening last week after doing a hard day's work in a grain binder.

All humors of the scalp, tetter, sores, and dandruff cured, and falling hair checked; hence, baldness prevented by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

The census of Hanover reaches 3,760, an increase of 1,443, which is due to the enlarged borough limits. The Herald says the actual gain is about 20 to 25 per cent.

Saturday evening, July 19th, a dancing picnic will be held in Kellenberger's grove at the cross pikes, 1½ miles northeast of this place; the last of the season. All are invited.

Mr. Henry Gitt, of Philadelphia street, reports thirty potatoes from three eyes planted in the spring. Two specimens exhibited at this office weighed 19 ounces. A remarkably large yield.

If James Howard Brown, Councilman and Sanitary Commissioner, would exercise the energy displayed by James Howard Brown, fisherman, &c., &c., what a clean, progressive borough New Oxford would be!

The iron fence formerly surrounding Lafayette square, Washington, and which was donated by Congress to the Battlefield Memorial Association is now being erected. It will be placed along East Cemetery Hill and Slocum avenue to the first gate. Parts will be used at other points.

July 26th, a dancing picnic will be held in Heltzel's grove, along the Gettysburg pike, near Brush Run Station. All are invited.

The arrangements for the reunion of Reformed churches of Southern Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia at Pen-Mar, on the 31st day of July, been fully consummated by the committee, says a Baltimore exchange.

On last Saturday evening, the following teachers were elected to the schools of Berwick Township:—Green Springs school, Miss Mattie Scholl; Walnut Grove school, Miss Dora Gilbert; Beaver Creek school, Miss Florence Richter.

While R. F. Sauders and H. L. Harbaugh, of Fairfield, were out riding on Thursday evening the cart struck a rock in the road which overturned it and threw the young men out, but they both escaped with a few slight cuts and bruises.

On last Thursday, while Mr. Joseph Kuhn was helping Mr. A. Rifle to haul hay, near Littlestown, bumble bees got after the horses and caused them to run off. Mr. K. had the misfortune of being run over by the horses and wagon, but fortunately was not hurt.

A scheme is now on foot in various parts of the state for naming the country roads and numbering the farm houses as houses are numbered in the city, putting up sign boards at the corners, and in fact making it very easy to find a given point in the rural districts.

While Mr. Joseph Shultz, of Mountpleasant township, was driving on his way home from Hanover, Monday last, his horse became frightened and, running to the side of the road, sprained its leg so badly that the animal cannot be used. Two weeks ago Mr. Shultz refused $150 for the animal.

John B. Kuhn, son of the late Judge Kuhn, of this place, is the editor and proprietor of The Record of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, published monthly at Brooklyn, N. Y. The July number contains a cut and sketch of Dr. Geo. R. Kuhn brother of the editor and founder of the order.

A newspaper man is generally expected to be everywhere, see everything, and catch every item afloat, simply because it is his profession. But he can't do it. His friends can help him, though, by sending or bringing such items as are of interest.—Incidents of an acceptable nature are always gladly received. All manner of legitimate local news go to make an interesting paper, and will be received with thanks by the publisher.

There is some uneasiness in regard to the cholera, which now in France, Spain and Russia, appears to be gaining in spite of all the efforts made to stamp it out. It may or may not reach this country, but the Government will doubtless do all it can to prevent it reaching our shores. We read only a few days ago of a supposed case in Pittsburgh, and this should be a warning to all other cities and towns and to the individual inhabitants. Keep your premises clean, sweeten and purify them with disinfectants, see that there are no foul places or disease breeding spots about and use plenty of lime if you can get it. The Sanitary Commissioners should keep his eyes open now. The very hot weather is still to come and the necessity of the hour demands cleanliness everywhere, in streets and alleys as well as around private premises. Get the town into a thoroughly good sanitary condition and thus we will be prepared against the worst that may happen. There are other diseases that are almost as bad as cholera, and just as liable to come in an unkept or filthy condition of the town. Let every one, therefore, do his best to aid the general cleanliness.

County Convention.

The Republican county convention will be held in Gettysburg on Monday, July 28th, when a full county ticket will be nominated. Delegates will be chosen on the Saturday previous.

Change of Name.

The Star says: Mr. Simon Diller, the owner and proprietor of the McClellan House has decided to change the name of the house to Hotel Gettysburg. When that change is made the name of the late Colonel McClellan will have been dropped from all his property in Gettysburg.

By Mistake.

On Sunday Mrs. E. K. Eichelberger, one of the Hanover camping party at the railroad bridge, near this place, took Fl. Ext. Belladonna by mistake for other medicine, and suffered intensely for several hours. Drs. J. L. Sheetz, of this place, and Bittinger, of Hanover, were in attendance and at last accounts the lady was improving.

Personal.

Miss Laura Shearer, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Nettie Swartz, Philadelphia street.

Mr. Shenk and wife, of Annville, Lebanon county, is the guest of H. M. Swartz, Philadelphia street.

Miss Bertha Jacobs, of Abilene, Kans., is visiting in the family of Z. H. Cashman, Hanover street.

Miss Mamie Heltzel, of Baltimore, is visiting her father, Mr. Charles Heltzel, High street.

Mrs. Holiday, of Baltimore, is visiting H. J. Myers, Pitt street.

Misses Emma Burkee and Mamie Timmins, of McSherrystown, spent this week among friends in this place.

Misses Effie M. and Lillian M. Palmer, of Baughman Valley, and Miss Boose, of Silver Run, were guests of Mrs. G. N. Warner, Hanover street, this week.

No Damage for Vacated Streets.

An opinion was handed down by Judge Simonton at Harrisburg Tuesday in the cases of three or four citizens of Middletown against the borough which enunciates a principle of much importance to the municipalities of the State. These cases were for the assessment of damages claimed by reason of the vacation of certain streets in Middletown and the viewers had awarded damages in each case, in all amounting to many thousands of dollars. Exceptions were filed to these reports, which were sustained, the Court holding that the vacation of a street did not entitle an abutting owner to damages, and much less could a party recover damages for property which did not abut on the street vacated.

The Wheat Crop.

The wheat crop has been harvested and it is said the crop is disappointing in the yield. The grain stood well and promised good results, but the heads are not well filled. In some places not more than half a crop has been harvested. The failure is attributed to the hot days in May which followed the heavy rains earlier in the month when the grain was in a milky condition.

Sudden Death.

John A. Hoffman, for a long time one of the repair hands on the W. M. R. R. and later hostler at the City Hotel, died suddenly on Thursday morning. He had been feeling unwell for almost a week but his death was sudden and was probably caused by a stroke of paralysis. He was a soldier and was buried in the National Cemetery, the G. A. R. Post having charge of the ceremonies.—Star.

The Pipe Line.

The Standard Oil Company's pipe line seems to be an assured thing. Its agents have been securing releases from farmers in Franklin county over whose land the line runs. The release calls for a six or eight inch pipe to be laid at a depth of three feet. It contains a clause in which the company agrees to pay for all damages to soil or crops which may result from leakage, etc.

It is said work will be begun in the fall. Pumps will be placed at intervals along the line to force the oil through the pipes and over the hills. A large number of men will be employed when work commences.

Bear Killed.

A huge black bear, seen in the mountain near the Blue Mountain House, on the W. M. R. R., on Saturday, created intense excitement among the guests. The animal was brought to bay by dogs on Sunday and killed by a large party of hunters. It is reported to have weighed 800 pounds, and the skin will likely be stuffed and placed on exhibition at the hotel.

Death's Doings.

Mrs. Anna Mary Weaver, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Hezekiah C. Hagerman, in Bonneauville, Mountpleasant township, on the 8th inst., aged 98 years, 4 months and 23 days.

She had 3 children, two living and one dead; 13 grand-children living and 8 dead; 52 great-grand-children living and 17 dead; and 16 great-great-grand-children living and 6 dead.

Lutheran Reunion.

The fifth annual Lutheran Reunion at Pen Mar, will be held Sept. 3rd. The exercises will be interesting. A number of short addresses will be made by able speakers, which will be interspersed with instrumental and vocal music. Excursions from West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington city are being formed.

Our New Cruiser "Bruno."

Oh, Bruno! My Bruno!
You're the pride of my heart!
So perfect in construction—
Though the express was right smart.
Now from morn until night
We will fish just the same;
Though people do threat,
We'll catch fish that are game.
Our laws are imperfect,
But who is to blame?
We make no transgression
Since they are so lame.
With the Eagle and Duck Pond
You in glory will shine,
And the Slaughter House near High St.,
Will be disinfected with lime.
In times that are past
We acted rather indiscreet,
But with you for protection
We will open every street.
So, come on you wise-ones!
Trot out your protest!
See whether Bruno and the Buzzard
Won't come out best!

Apprehensive of an early and rigid enforcement of the law regarding the destruction of game fish within the borders of this commonwealth by unlawful means, viz: seines, gill nets, trotters, &c., Capt. James H. Brown, "Christy" Lawrence, (his man "Friday," reinforced by that sturdy band of pirates who infest the shores of the Conewago, have determined to defend their rights, which they aver are inalienable, to fish in whatever manner they choose, even though the Conewago becomes depleted from its source to its mouth, by having had built in Baltimore, out of the rough wood, in one day, a miniature man-of-war, which they have had painted red, white and blue, reminding of the penalty inflicted upon anyone who may prove so disloyal and unpatriotic as to fire upon the national colors. We would warn those who are envious of Capt. Brown's record as a fisherman, who are seeking to dispute him of his well-earned laurels, to go slow. Capt. Brown will get there, even though he did bore a hole in the bottom of a boat lately in order to let the water out!

BUZZARD.

A Worthy Project.

An effort is being made to establish a "Building and Loan Association" in this place. Already a large number of shares are disposed of by the projectors of the Association. It is a worthy object and should be made successful by our citizens.

The Cost of Our Roads.

There is a law providing that all township and school district reports be filed with the Clerk of the Courts within a specified time. Heretofore this provision of the statute has met with little attention in Adams county, but this year Clerk Stable has notified all delinquent township officials and the result is that only two townships have failed to report—Hamiltonban and Tyrone. The others have all made proper returns, and from the figures of the reports, the Gettysburg Truth has gathered the cost of maintaining the public roads of Adams county for 1889.

The total expense, outside of Hamiltonban and Tyrone townships, was just $26,961.38. Of that sum $1,997.21 was expended by Butler, $310.49 by Berwick, $703.63 by Conewago, $2,489.58 by Cumberland, $2,521.02 by Franklin, $689.34 by Freedom, $531.70 by Germany, $915.37 by Hamilton, $841.91 by Highland, $1,921.26 by Huntingdon, $1,940.81 by Latimore, $983.15 by Liberty, $2,771.62 by Mennallen, $1,138.50 by Mountjoy, $1,791.86 by Mountpleasant, $1,129.35 by Oxford, $1,785.37 by Reading, $1,901.33 by Straban and $599.88 by Union. When Hamiltonban and Tyrone townships make their returns and are included in the sum total, the cost for the year will be found little short of $30,000—enough surely to have given us better roads.

A Singular Accident.

York Springs Comet.

Mr. George M. Smith, of Heidlersburg, met with a singular accident one day last week. He was on his way down to see his son William on the old homestead farm in Huntingdon township, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Amos Hartman, and was leading a horse behind the buggy. On the way, he met his son Calvin, and whilst stopping for a few moments to talk, the horse tied behind caught its bridle rein on the hub of the wheel, upturning the buggy like a flash and throwing the occupants out with great force. Mrs. Hartman, who has been in failing health for some months past, fainted from the effects of the sudden shock, but fortunately escaped any serious injury. Mr. Smith, however, did not get off so fortunately, for in his descent he struck his breast with great force against the rim of Calvin's buggy, from the effects of which he suffered great pain for several days, requiring the services of a physician to give him relief.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

This being between seasons we are selling very many things in order to stimulate business, at a great reduction on regular prices. This is especially noticeable in our Carpet and Lace Curtain departments. All our Ingrain Carpets are now offering at from 15 to 20 per cent. less than regular prices. We bought a great many more straw mattings than we were able to sell—we are determined not to carry any over—the prices clear them. Lace Curtains will be sold at a heavy reduction, and those persons who may be in need of those goods this fall will make the difference in price by buying these goods now. Call early for choice.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

GUARANTEED
Dress Silks!

These silks are now so well known that in and around Gettysb'g they need no mention. Black Selvidges, Gros Grains, Failles, Royal Almas are the popular weaves. We guarantee them over our own name not to cut. No one else does it.

G. W. WEAVER & SON,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

A whaling captain who has been among the Eskimos says that all the children are now taught to speak English as soon as they can talk.

The American Dairyman asserts that no organizations in the United States have multiplied more rapidly in the past ten years than the sick-benefit, funeral-aid, death-benefit and other kindred societies.

An official report shows that there are 283 Indian schools in the Dominion of Canada. Of this number 84 are managed by the Church of England, 80 Roman Catholic, 33 Methodist, 10 Presbyterian and 6 undenominational.

A numismatist suggests that a certain coin—say the fifty-cent piece—issued during any administration be stamped with the head of the President of that date. They will thus serve as an aid to history, as do the coins of ancient days.

Von Moltke, whom the Atlanta Constitution calls the greatest soldier in Europe, says that the long-predicted war is bound to come. He thinks that it will be a war of the masses against the classes. If such a war comes, it will be short, cruel and bloody.

Northern lumbermen are picking up all the Southern timber land they can get, as they figure out a general advance in Southern timber within a few years. Heavy shipments of Southern hardwoods are being made into Michigan and other Northern States.

An anti-gambling league is announced as forming in England, the Earl of Aberdeen to be the first President. The qualifications for membership will be an agreement for the annual payment of a shilling and the signing of a pledge "to abstain from betting."

A Pennsylvanian drove a lot of boys who were teasing his mule out of his field. He then returned to console with the mule, when the animal kicked him once, killing him instantly. "Gratitude," sagely comments the Chicago Herald, "is not the mule's redeeming trait."

The farmers of Ottawa and Cloud Counties, Kansas, have adopted resolutions asking the Government to lend them money at two and a half per cent. to the amount of one-half the value of their farms, and declaring that if this request is not granted they will pay no taxes or interest after December 1, 1890.

A Hoosier maiden sued Charles Johnson for breach of promise. Charles acknowledged the engagement, but proved that he broke it only after seeing the plaintiff knock her father down because he asked her not to go barefooted around the house. The jury were only five minutes returning a verdict in his favor.

The New York Times observes that the old fashion of working out the road tax has become a mere farce in most rural regions. The only rational plan is to have highways made and repaired by contract under the supervision and after the plans of a competent engineer. The taxes paid for this purpose will be far more than repaid to every farmer by the improvements to the roads.

Some strange judicial proceedings are reported from Queensland, Australia. The presiding judge was in a hurry to get away, and tried cases continuously for thirty-six hours. At one stage all the available jurors were occupied considering verdicts, and, not to lose time, the judge ordered the doors of the courtroom to be locked, and then impounded every person in the audience qualified to serve. Many of the jurors were so exhausted by continuous service that they fell asleep in their seats, but the trials went on.

General Verdy Duvernois, the German Minister of War and one of the ablest of the younger Generals of the German army, is, as his name implies, of French descent. He is descended from a Huguenot family expelled from France by Louis XIV.'s revocation of the edict of Nantes. It is a striking example of the folly of religious and political proscriptions, remarks the Chicago Herald, that the descendant of one of the French exiles should be the man destined to prepare the plans for the next German invasion of France. It is also singular that two of the foremost men in the German army to-day should be of foreign birth. Von Caprivi comes of an Italian family.

To-day.
You ask me why my face is bright
To-day?
What can put my gloom to flight
To-day?
Why is my heart so free from care?
Why do I tread as if on air?
Oh, mother mine, the earth is fair—
To-day.
Three little words have made me glad,
To-day.
Nothing in life can make me sad
To-day.
Place your dear hands upon my head,
Bless me and kiss me. Grief has fled.
My darling loves me—so he said.
To-day.

—Henry F. Godden, in Beyford's Magazine.

SPRIGGS'S INVENTIONS.

"Spriggs is to work now on something fur weavin' silk, they say," remarked Jim Bates, as he cut a fresh quid of tobacco. "That's the tenth machine he's invented that I can think of, to say nothin' of the cyclometer and boss-rake that didn't work, an' the wagon-jack most of us was fools enough to lend him money on. I hain't had any faith in inventions since then, I can tell you."

"'Twas that trick of flyin' up an' hitting you in the face as soon as it got out of order killed that," reflected the storekeeper. "He'd ought to be'n made to pay damages fur putting the thing on market. An' that powder-and-shot rat-trap that fired off into Charlie Smith's leg when he forgot it and went into the buttry in the dark was just as bad. They can talk about 'Spriggs's inventiveness'; it's my opinion a man that'll spend his time fur twenty years putterin' over things that never bring him in a cent ain't any more or less than a crank."

"That's so," assented several in the crowd, recollections of the various times when they, too, had been victims of "Spriggs's inventiveness," lending emphasis to their words. But old, bleary-eyed Jerry Tolles, seated in the farthest corner of the store, roused up to shake his head with a confidence that all the defective wagon-jacks and rat-traps in the world could not unsettle. He believed in the inventions. He always had believed in them since the days when he was hired man for John Spriggs's father, and John himself played truant from school to stay all day in the shop and study out wonderful contrivances of wood and wire. He had been hit in the face with the wagon-jack, and cut with the can-opener, and "kicked" with the new kind of gun; he had given ten dollars for John's rat-trap, and used the alarm clock till it burst; but his faith in their final success never wavered. "The boy'll mount to somethin' yet," he muttered, feeling in his pocket for the old clay pipe. "He'll make his way in the world."

"If he does 'twill be Polly that pints it out for him," grunted Jim Bates.

Polly was John Spriggs's daughter, and, in the vernacular of the village, "had common sense fur her an' him both." Scrogsville was proud of Polly. Not only was she the handsomest girl around, the smartest and the best cook, but she was city educated. At least she had spent six months at the home of her uncle in New York, and that amounted to the same thing. There had been fabulous stories of Polly's success in society during that stay in the metropolis; and though some of the more skeptical in Scrogsville affected disbelief on the subject of her being introduced to the Mayor and participating in the Charity ball, it was the recollection of the season in New York, even more than her black eyes and stirring ways, that inspired the neighbors with pride and admiration.

"If it wasn't for her father's being what he is, and every dollar she earns going to help him along, I wouldn't say a word against Charlie's taking such a fancy to her," declared Mrs. Smith that evening, when her husband recounted the conversation at the store. "But whoever marries her will have to marry him, too; an' the way things are—" and the good woman ended her sentence with a sigh, and firmly resolved not to have Polly stay at her house again, even if she never had any sewing done. Mrs. Smith was not the only careful mother who had deemed it prudent to resort to this extreme measure; and it is highly probable she would have held to the resolution had it not been for the unexpected arrival, one washing-day afternoon, a few weeks later, of Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Latham's little girl. Mrs. Latham was Mrs. Smith's cousin, and lived in the city. Her husband was foreman in a shop, and Mrs. Smith had planned to have baked chicken and cream pies, and the front parlor open every day, when they came to visit her. No wonder that now, with both visitors to entertain—Daniel coming on a later train—and cake and biscuit to be baked for tea, Mrs. Smith forgot her fear lest "Charlie should make a fool of himself," and sent down for Polly Spriggs. "Though I don't know what you'll think of my wanting you to do housework," she said, anxiously, upon that young lady's arrival, "and if you're going to take it amiss, just tell me; but with that child, who's enough to try the patience of a saint, unless she changed from what she was last time, and her mother so easy she'd let her burn the house down without saying a word, I don't see what I can do."

Polly had taken off her hat.

"I had as soon do housework as to sew," she replied, cheerfully. "And it's only two o'clock now; plenty of time to put things in order and have something baked for tea. You stay in the other room, Mrs. Smith, and leave the kitchen work for me."

And Mrs. Smith left the kitchen with the serene consciousness that the biscuits would be as light, and the tea-cakes as delicately flavored, as if she herself had made them. So heartfelt was her gratitude, that half an hour later, when they had exhausted the subject of city life, the neighbors, and piecing bed quilts, she surprised her cousin by waxing eloquent over Polly, Polly's father and Polly's wrongs. It took nearly an hour to tell the story, allowing for the interruptions occasioned by little Effie, who was of an inquiring disposition; but Mrs. Latham was interested, and listened delightedly.

"And wouldn't it be a surprise to everybody if her father's inventions did turn out to be worth something, after all?" she exclaimed. "Things like that have happened. I read of a man of that kind getting twenty-five thousand dollars for a patent once."

"He won't," declared Mrs. Smith, shortly. "We used to think about it at first (look out, child, don't drop that vase); but there's be'n more than a dozen come to look at his inventions, different times, and they all agreed they wa'n't worth the stuff that was put in them."

"I suppose they ought to know," reluctantly admitted Daniel's wife. ("Effie, dear, don't cut holes in the sofa. I'm afraid Cousin Ann won't like it.") And Daniel says that there isn't one thing out of a thousand like that that pays. But I always think of what might happen. And you know there is a chance."

Mrs. Smith tiptoed to the kitchen door. "Polly's a good girl to work, if nothing else," she declared, coming back well pleased with the look of the creamy custard and nicely browned biscuit. "She's as quick as a flash of lightning."

"Yes, and so handsome," chirruped Mrs. Latham. "If she was only as rich as some of the girls that—"

"Mamma!" it was a wild shriek of terror and pain. Effie, in her endeavor to find out where the smoke went, had stood too close to the open fireplace, and her thin muslin apron was in a blaze.

"Help! Save her! Water! Where's the water? Oh, my baby, my baby!" shrieked the frantic mother, at that instant hardly less sane than the child, who was running wildly about the room. Mrs. Smith rushed into the kitchen, screaming as she went: "Fire! Help! Fire! She's burning to death!"

"Who?" gasped Polly, dropping her armful of wood with a crash. The next instant, before Mrs. Smith had time to realize her purpose, she had rushed into the other room, caught the frantic child, and wrapped her in her woolen dress skirt. It was only for one minute. In the next, Mrs. Smith had deluged them with water, Polly was usefully regarding her burned hands, and the fire was out. But that minute made the inventor's daughter the heroine of Scrogsville.

They talked about it at the store, and the sewing society, and on their way to church. The weekly paper devoted half a column to a description of the incident, and the H. S. S. Association presented her with a copy of "Les Miserables" as a testimonial of her valor and courage. As for Effie's father—"I'm not a rich man," the big, broad-shouldered mechanic declared, when his wife, with the tears running down her cheeks, told him the story, "but some way or other I'll try to make up to that girl for what she's done for us. If there's anything in her father's inventing that any amount of my work can fix into paying him ordinary day wages for the time he's spent on it, I'll find it. And what's more, he won't have to reckon with anything but the gross proceeds. The expenses I'll pay out of my own pocket."

And that was how the investigation commenced. From the first Scrogsville people did not put much faith in it. It was a very thorough one. All John Spriggs's inventions, brought from garret, storeroom and barn, were examined, taken to pieces, studied, put together again, turned this way and that, and experimented with in every possible combination. But the more Mr. Latham worked the less hopeful he became. And after a week of patient labor he was forced to agree with the others who had tried that "the inventions wa'n't worth the stuff they were made off." He came into the Spriggs's kitchen that day looking rather crestfallen.

"No; there's nothing in them," he said, in answer to Polly's inquiring glance. "Nothing that I can find, and I used to call myself a good hand at that sort of thing. It can't be helped. But I wish I hadn't said anything about it now."

John Spriggs looked up from his work with a reassuring smile. He had been the least interested of any in the investigation. "Oh, you needn't be," he responded, cheerfully. "It was very kind of you, very kind of you; but it's hardly to be expected you'd find anything of consequence in these old contrivances of mine. Now, this weaving machine, when I get the idea worked out, Mr. Latham, I wouldn't take twenty-five thousand dollars for the patent."

Daniel rubbed his head. "I s'pose not, sir. You—you won't mind acceptin' a little money from me, Miss Polly, for the time you couldn't work on account of your hands? But I'm sorry—what are you doing?"

Polly was unfastening a jar of pickles. She turned around. "It is a cover father fixed for me because it was such hard work to unscrew the others. You press on this spring, you see, and it slips right off.

It's ever so much easier than the old way. Why, what's the matter?"

She was hardly prepared for the excitement with which Mr. Latham sprang to his feet. "My land! my land!" he exclaimed. "Here you and your father have been puttering along for months, not knowing from one day to another where the next meal was to come from, and right here using an invention worth a whole fortune in itself. Heavens and earth! wa'n't there anybody to tell you about it?"

Mr. Spriggs laid down the wrench he had been using. "Do you mean the can cover?" he asked, calmly. "I did think of it, but it wouldn't be good for anything you wanted to keep air tight. You—"

"Air tight?" interrupted the mechanic. "Air tight? And do you mean to say a man who's got such a taste for inventin' machines with one thousand five hundred parts to them didn't know enough to put a rubber around and make it air tight? That's the invention, Miss Polly, and I bet my bottom dollar it makes your fortune!"

"Wa-a! it does beat all what luck some people have," observed Jim Bates to the usual audience at the store, a few months later. "Now, there's John Spriggs, be'n workin' fur years at sewin'-machines, an' cyclometers, an' half a dozen other inventions that never brought him a cent, and when he hit on a can cover, that any of us could have fixed if we'd only thought on't, he's offered six thousand dollars for the patent the first thing. Six thousand dollars! I wouldn't believe it if he hadn't told me so himself. 'Spriggs's Patent Cans,' they're going to call them."

"Polly's Patent Cans, it ought to be," piped the storekeeper. "They say he'd never done a thing about it if it hadn't be'n fur Latham's thinking of the rubber, an' if it hadn't be'n fur Polly he'd never hever concerned himself with Spriggs's inventions, or Spriggs either. They're going into partnership now, he an' Latham, an' cackelate to make a mint of money. But 'twas Polly started it in the first place."

"An' it's my opinion Polly had the biggest interest in it," grinned the postmaster. "Her father's provided fur now, an' nothin' to hinder her marryin' when she wants to; an' you can't make me believe they're movin' into the city just to be near Dan'l Latham. Not so long as Polly's be'n writin' letters to 'George Remington, New York City,' ever since she come from there in the spring. Wa-a!," reflectively, "it ain't much to invent a can cover anyway; but I guess what credit there is to it belongs more to Polly than it does to Spriggs."

"That's so," assented the crowd. But Jerry Tolles, seated in the corner, paid no attention to these derogatory comments. "I allers said the boy would 'mount to somethin' yet," he chuckled, fumbling for his pipe.—Frank Leslie's.

"Mustang Tom's" Life in a Wagon.

There is hardly a more curious character in all this big city full of queer people than is "Mustang Tom," who makes New York his home for about one week every three years.

Tom Stewart was born in Pennsylvania "nigh onto sixty-four years ago," as he phrases it. He has crossed the plains three times each way, and has never ridden on a boat or car. His first trip westward was in 1849, the next ten years later, and he has just completed the third, reaching San Francisco the other day. "Mustang Tom," as he is called, left New York city to begin his last journey eighteen months ago. His outfit consisted of a wagon drawn by a pair of small, brown mules, and large enough to hold Tom, his water spaniel Boston, a rusty army musket, some cooking utensils and blankets. He shaped his course southwest, visited friends in Missouri, passed through Salt Lake City, halted awhile at Tombstone, Ariz., struck north to Idaho, went through Montana, Eastern Oregon and Northern California, drifted down to Nevada, and then made for San Francisco. His first night in the city was passed at a cheap lodging house. He had not slept in a bed before for fifteen years, and announced on rising that he "didn't want no more of it." Two days in the California metropolis satisfied him, and the morning of the third he hitched up his mules and started for Arizona.—New York Press.

The Champion Tramp.

The champion tramp would seem to be one Folkers. He belongs to Portland, Maine, and is a shoemaker by trade. For ten years he has been roaming the country, and he declares that not once during this time has he paid a railroad fare, though on all his trips he patronizes the "iron horse." He says he has a craze for traveling, which seems very evident from his statement that he rides about 20,000 miles per year. Altogether he has traveled 200,000 miles.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Organized Beggars.

A society in Paris, organized to prevent the trade in children by professional beggars, has made its first report in which it gives the names and addresses of several establishments which employ children as flower girls and as beggars. One of these employs 120 girls from eight to eleven years old to sell flowers on the streets. They are required to bring in a profit of sixty cents each or receive nothing for their day's work.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

NEWS AND NOTES FOR WOMEN.

Women's sphere broadens daily. Colored mantles are very stylish.

Black with pale colors is regarded with favor by milliners.

Chocolate goat button shoes are much affected by young misses.

In perfumes just now Chinese scents are said to be especially prized.

Amber is replacing tortoise shell as an ornament for the hair in England.

Venetian lace for summer toilets will be largely used as an ornamentation.

Mrs. John A. Logan intends to found a training school for female servants.

The Empress of Austria is known as the best royal housekeeper in Europe.

Waterproofs now have two immense-envelope pockets, an idea welcomed by all.

Parasols are being made very large, to relieve the immense dimensions of straw hats.

The garden hat of the moment delights in a garniture of freshly plucked blossoms.

The seven hundredth female physician in Russia has just passed her examination.

Ouida, the novelist, uses on her hair and eyebrows scent that costs $30 an ounce.

Miss Catharine Bruce has given $20,000 to the New York Free Circulating Library.

Miss Mary Howe, of Brattleboro, Vt., is spoken of by a Boston journal as another Gerster.

Plain toilets call for a plaid parasol, and so a great many are now seen upon the promenade.

A great many half-shoes of lilac suede-kid are worn at pates, musicales and daylight-at-homes.

Bead embroidery and passanterie are again finding favor as trimming for evening toilets.

Fine frillings of tulle and crepe are worn about the neck and sleeves of the Heary II. gowns.

The tendency to close clinging skirts becomes more and more apparent as the season advances.

A woman laid the corner stone for the Monticello Seminary for girls, at Godfrey, Ill., recently.

Mary Schenley, of Pittsburgh, Penn., has given a site for the Western Pennsylvania Blind Asylum.

Mattiline, a new fabric of fine matting, wears well and comes in pretty patterns. It is popular.

Ivory belts are the very newest whims of fashion; they are both an expensive and elegant ornament.

A young woman in San Francisco recently died of erysipelas superinduced by the piercing of the ears.

Beautiful indeed are the newest parasols. They are painted and represent scenes and a variety of flowers.

The low-cut necks of last season will not obtain this year. We have gone back again to very high collars.

In the use of gilt and silver passementerie medallions of embroidery are used to finish the ends that hook or turn over.

Miss Jennie Clarke, of Casey, Texas, has just received the first check in her career. It was for $1,000,000 left by an uncle.

Steel braiding and steel embroidery are even more popular than gold or silver, showing the popularity of gray shades in everything.

A young Southern woman who is attaining some prominence as a writer, is Miss Louise Meyer, a daughter of General Adolph Meyer.

A good plan to cure frowning is to tie a tight, smooth band or broad ribbon about the forehead when writing, studying or sewing.

Combination gowns are to be seen in tan and brown, green and gray, green and pink, and gold and white. The latter are dazzling.

When Mrs. Harrison is in evening dress she arranges her hair in a very high twist and powders it, which is wonderfully becoming to her.

Mme. Carnot, wife of the President of France, gave each of four hundred children a savings bank book with $10 deposit on Christmas Day.

A new idea in hose is to make them wide at the toes instead of narrow. This shape conforms to the natural foot and gives ease and comfort.

The leg-of-mutton sleeves are la mode with heavy materials. Gauzes, crepe and spangled net are prettier puffed with bands of pearl or ribbon between.

If you want a dress bonnet buy a fillet of velvet bands, two or three in number, with a bunch of flowers on top and a swarm of butterflies hovering over it.

The Princess Bismarck is described as the model of a practical, methodical German matron, with an eye to every detail of household management and economy.

It is said Mrs. Langtry is making a vigorous attempt to bring in the Jersey again, but so far without success. Jerseys may be comfortable, but have long ceased to be stylish.

A fashionable visiting card in Berlin is an African importation. It is a leaf of the silver poplar, which keeps its color when dried and can be easily written upon. It delights fashionable Berlin under the name of "Emin Pasha's visiting card."

A whaling captain who has been up among the Eskimos says that all the children are now taught to speak English as soon as they can talk.

The American Dairyman asserts that no organizations in the United States have multiplied more rapidly in the past ten years than the sick-benefit, funeral-aid, death-benefit and other kindred societies.

An official report shows that there are 283 Indian schools in the Dominion of Canada. Of this number 84 are managed by the Church of England, 80 Roman Catholic, 33 Methodist, 10 Presbyterian and 6 undenominational.

A numismatist suggests that a certain coin—say the fifty-cent piece—issued during any administration be stamped with the head of the President of that date. They will thus serve as an aid to history, as do the coins of ancient days.

Von Moltke, whom the Atlanta Constitution calls the greatest soldier in Europe, says that the long-predicted war is bound to come. He thinks that it will be a war of the masses against the classes. If such a war comes, it will be short, cruel and bloody.

Northern lumbermen are picking up all the Southern timber land they can get, as they figure out a general advance in Southern timber within a few years. Heavy shipments of Southern hardwoods are being made into Michigan and other Northern States.

An anti-gambling league is announced as forming in England, the Earl of Aberdeen to be the first President. The qualifications for membership will be an agreement for the annual payment of a shilling and the signing of a pledge "to abstain from betting."

A Pennsylvanian drove a lot of boys who were teasing his mule out of his field. He then returned to condole with the mule, when the animal kicked him once, killing him instantly. "Gratitude," sagely comments the Chicago Herald, "is not the mule's redeeming trait."

The farmers of Ottawa and Cloud Counties, Kansas, have adopted resolutions asking the Government to lend them money at two and a half per cent. to the amount of one-half the value of their farms, and declaring that if this request is not granted they will pay no taxes or interest after December 1, 1890.

A Hoosier maiden sued Charles Johnson for breach of promise. Charles acknowledged the engagement, but proved that he broke it only after seeing the plaintiff knock her father down because he asked her not to go barefooted around the house. The jury were only five minutes returning a verdict in his favor.

The New York Times observes that the old fashion of working out the road tax has become a mere farce in most rural regions. The only rational plan is to have highways made and repaired by contract under the supervision and after the plans of a competent engineer. The taxes paid for this purpose will be far more than repaid to every farmer by the improvements to the roads.

Some strange judicial proceedings are reported from Queensland, Australia. The presiding judge was in a hurry to get away, and tried cases continuously for thirty-six hours. At one stage all the available jurors were occupied considering verdicts, and, not to lose time, the judge ordered the doors of the courtroom to be locked, and then impounded every person in the audience qualified to serve. Many of the jurors were so exhausted by continuous service that they fell asleep in their seats, but the trials went on.

General Verdy Duvernois, the German Minister of War and one of the ablest of the younger Generals of the German army, is, as his name implies, of French descent. He is descended from a Huguenot family expelled from France by Louis XIV's revocation of the edict of Nantes. It is a striking example of the folly of religious and political proscriptions, remarks the Chicago Herald, that the descendant of one of the French exiles should be the man destined to prepare the plans for the next German invasion of France. It is also singular that two of the foremost men in the German army to-day should be of foreign birth. Von Caprivi comes of an Italian family.

TO-DAY.

You ask me why my face is bright
To-day?
What can put my gloom to flight
To-day?
Why is my heart so free from care?
To-day?
Why do I tread as if on air?
To-day?
Oh, mother mine, the earth is fair—
To-day.
Three little words have made me glad,
To-day.
Nothing in life can make me sad
To-day.
Place your dear hands upon my head,
To-day.
Bless me and kiss me. Grief has fled.
To-day.
My darling loves me—so he said.
To-day.

—Henry F. Godden, in Belford's Magazine.

SPRIGGS'S INVENTIONS.

"Spriggs is to work now on something fur weavin' silk, they say," remarked Jim Bates, as he cut a fresh quid of tobacco. "That's the tenth machine he's invented that I can think of, to say nothing of the cyclometer and horse-rake that didn't work, an' the wagon-jack most of us was fools enough to lend him money on. I hain't had any faith in inventions since then, I can tell you."

"'Twas that trick of flyin' up an' hitting you in the face as soon as it got out of order killed that," reflected the storekeeper. "He'd ought to be made to pay damages fur puttin' the thing on market. An' that powder-and-shot rat-trap that fired off into Charlie Smith's leg when he forgot it and went into the buttry in the dark was just as bad. They can talk about 'Spriggs's inventions,' it's my opinion a man that'll spend his time fur twenty years puttin' over things that never bring him in a cent ain't any more or less than a crank."

"That's so," assented several in the crowd, recollections of the various times when they, too, had been victims of "Spriggs's inventions," lending emphasis to their words. But old, bearded Jerry Tolles, seated in the farthest corner of the store, roused up to shake his head with a confidence that all the defective wagon-jacks and rat-traps in the world could not unsettle. He believed in the inventions. He always had believed in them since the days when he was hired man for John Spriggs's father, and John himself played truant from school to stay all day in the shop and study out wonderful contrivances of wood and wire. He had been hit in the face with the wagon-jack, and cut with the can-opener, and "kicked" with the new kind of gun; he had given ten dollars for John's rat-trap, and used the alarm clock till it burst; but his faith in their final success never wavered. "The boy'll mount to somethin' yit," he muttered, feeling in his pocket for the old clay pipe. "He'll make his way in the world."

"If he does 'twill be Polly that pints it out for him," grunted Jim Bates.

Polly was John Spriggs's daughter, and, in the vernacular of the village, "had common sense fur her an' him both." Scrogsville was proud of Polly. Not only was she the handsomest girl around, the smartest and the best cook, but she was city educated. At least she had spent six months at the home of her uncle in New York, and that amounted to the something. There had been fabulous stories of Polly's success in society during that stay in the metropolis; and though some of the more skeptical in Scrogsville affected disbelief on the subject of her being introduced to the Mayor and participating in the Charity ball, it was the recollection of the season in New York, even more than her black eyes and stirring ways, that inspired the neighbors with pride and admiration.

"If it wasn't for her father's being what he is, and every dollar she earns going to help him along, I wouldn't say a word against Charlie's taking such a fancy to her," declared Mrs. Smith that evening, when her husband recounted the conversation at the store. "But whoever marries her will have to marry him, too; an' the way things are—" and the good woman ended her sentence with a sigh, and firmly resolved not to have Polly stay at her house again, even if she never had any sewing done. Mrs. Smith was not the only careful mother who had deemed it prudent to resort to this extreme measure; and it is highly probable she would have held to the resolution had it not been for the unexpected arrival, one washing-day afternoon, a few weeks later, of Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Latham's little girl. Mrs. Latham was Mrs. Smith's cousin, and lived in the city. Her husband was foreman in a shop, and Mrs. Smith had planned to have baked chicken and cream pies, and the front parlor open every day, when they came to visit her. No wonder that now, with both visitors to entertain—Daniel coming on a later train—and cake and biscuit to be baked for tea, Mrs. Smith forgot her fear lest "Charlie should make a fool of himself," and sent down for Polly Spriggs. "Though I don't know what you'll think of my wanting you to do housework," she said, anxiously, upon that young lady's arrival, "and if you're going to take it amiss, just tell me; but with that child, who's enough to try the patience of a saint, unless she changed from what she was last time, and her mother so easy she'd let her burn the house down without saying a word, I don't see what I can do."

Polly had taken off her hat. "I had as soon do housework as to sew," she replied, cheerfully. "And it's only two o'clock now; plenty of time to put things in order and have something baked for tea. You stay in the other room, Mrs. Smith, and leave the kitchen work for me."

And Mrs. Smith left the kitchen with the serene consciousness that the biscuits would be as light, and the tea-cakes as delicately flavored, as if she herself had made them. So heartily was her gratitude, that half an hour later, when they had exhausted the subject of city life, the neighbors, and piecing bed quilts, she surprised her cousin by waxing eloquent over Polly's father and Polly's wrongs. It took nearly an hour to tell the story, allowing for the interruptions occasioned by little Effie, who was of an inquiring disposition; but Mrs. Latham was interested, and listened delightedly.

"And wouldn't it be a surprise to everybody if her father's inventions did turn out to be worth something, after all?" she exclaimed. "Things like that have happened. I read of a man of that kind getting twenty-five thousand dollars for a patent once."

"He won't," declared Mrs. Smith, shortly. "We used to think about it at first (look out, child, don't drop that vase); but there's be'n more than a dozen come to look at his inventions, different times, and they all agreed they wa'n't worth the stuff that was put in them."

"I suppose they ought to know," reluctantly admitted Daniel's wife. ("Effie, dear, don't cut holes in the sofa. I'm afraid Cousin Ann won't like it.") And Daniel says that there isn't one thing out of a thousand like that that pays. But I always think of what might happen. And you know there is a chance."

Mrs. Smith tiptoed to the kitchen door.

"Polly's a good girl to work, if nothing else," she declared, coming back well pleased with the look of the creamy custard and nicely browned biscuit. "She's as quick as a flash of lightning."

"Yes, and so handsome," chirruped Mrs. Latham. "If she was only as rich as some of the girls that—"

"Mamma!" it was a wild shriek of terror and pain. Effie, in her endeavor to find out where the smoke went, had stood too close to the open fireplace, and her thin muslin apron was in a blaze.

"Help! Save her! Water! Where's the water? Oh, my baby, my baby!" shrieked the frantic mother, at that instant hardly less sane than the child, who was running wildly about the room. Mrs. Smith rushed into the kitchen, screaming as she went: "Fire! Help! Fire! She's burning to death!"

"Who?" gasped Polly, dropping her armful of wood with a crash. The next instant, before Mrs. Smith had time to realize her purpose, she had rushed into the other room, caught the frantic child, and wrapped her in her woolen dress skirt. It was only for one minute. In the next, Mrs. Smith had deluged them with water, Polly was ruefully regarding her burned hands, and the fire was out. But that minute made the inventor's daughter the heroine of Scrogsville.

They talked about it at the store, and the sewing society, and on their way to church. The weekly paper devoted half a column to a description of the incident, and the H. S. S. Association presented her with a copy of "Les Misérables" as a testimonial of her valor and courage. As for Effie's father—"I'm not a rich man," the big, broad shouldered mechanic declared, when his wife, with the tears running down her cheeks, told him the story, "but some way or other I'll try to make up to that girl for what she's done for us. If there's anything in her father's inventing that any amount of my work can fix into paying him ordinary day wages for the time he's spent on it, I'll find it. And what's more, he won't have to reckon with anything but the gross proceeds. The expenses I'll pay out of my own pocket."

And that was how the investigation commenced. From the first Scrogsville people did not put much faith in it. It was a very thorough one. All John Spriggs's inventions, brought from garret, storeroom and barn, were examined, taken to pieces, studied, put together again, turned this way and that, and experimented with in every possible combination. But the more Mr. Latham worked the less hopeful he became. And after a week of patient labor he was forced to agree with the others who had tried that "the inventions wa'n't worth the stuff they were made of." He came into the Spriggs's kitchen that day looking rather crestfallen.

"No; there's nothing in them," he said, in answer to Polly's inquiring glance. "Nothing that I can find, and I used to call myself a good hand at that sort of thing. It can't be helped. But I wish I hadn't said anything about it now."

John Spriggs looked up from his work with a reassuring smile. He had been the least interested of any in the investigation. "Oh, you needn't be," he responded, cheerfully. "It was very kind of you, very kind of you; but it's hardly to be expected you'd find anything of consequence in these old contrivances of mine. Now, this weaving machine, when I get the idea worked out, Mr. Latham, I wouldn't take twenty-five thousand dollars for the patent."

Daniel rubbed his head. "I s'pose not, sir. You—you won't mind accepting a little money from me, Miss Polly, for the time you couldn't work on account of your hands? But I'm sorry—what are you doing?"

Polly was unfestering a jar of pickles. She turned around. "It's a cover father fixed for me because it was such hard work to unscrew the others. You press on this spring, you see, and it slips right off.

It's ever so much easier than the old way. Why, what's the matter?"

She was hardly prepared for the excitement with which Mr. Latham sprang to his feet. "My land! my land!" he exclaimed. "Here you and your father have been puttering along for months, not knowing from one day to another where the next meal was to come from, and right here using an invention worth a whole fortune in itself. Heavens and earth! wa'n't there anybody to tell you about it?"

Mr. Spriggs laid down the wrench he had been using. "Do you mean the can cover?" he asked, calmly. "I did think of it, but it wouldn't be good for anything you wanted to keep air tight. You—"

"Air tight?" interrupted the mechanic. "Air tight? And do you mean to say a man who's got such a taste for inventing machines with one thousand five hundred parts to them didn't know enough to put a rubber around and make it air tight? That's the invention, Miss Polly, and I bet my bottom dollar it makes your fortune!"

"Wa-al, it does beat all what luck some people have," observed Jim Bates to the usual audience at the store, a few months later. "Now, there's John Spriggs, be'n workin' fur years at sewing-machines, an' cyclometers, an' half a dozen other inventions that never brought him a cent, and when he hit on a can cover, that any of us could have fixed if we'd only thought on't, he's offered six thousand dollars fur the patent the first thing. Six thousand dollars! I wouldn't believe it if he hadn't told me so himself. 'Spriggs's Patent Cans,' they're going to call them."

"Polly's Patent Cans, it ought to be," piped the storekeeper. "They say he'd never done a thing about it if it hadn't be'n fur Latham's thinking of the rubber, an' if it hadn't be'n fur Polly he'd never hev concerned himself with Spriggs's inventions, or Spriggs either. They're going into partnership now, he an' Latham, an' cackelate to make a mint of money. But 'twas Polly started it in the first place."

"An' it's my opinion Polly had the biggest interest in it," grinned the postmaster. "Her father's provided fur now, an' nothin' to hinder her marryin' when she wants to; an' you can't make me believe they're movin' into the city jest to be near Dan'l Latham. Not so long as Polly's be'n writin' letters to 'George Remington, New York City,' ever since she come from there in the spring. Wa-al," reflectively, "it ain't much to invent a can cover anyway; but I guess what credit there is to it belongs more to Polly than it does to Spriggs."

"That's so," assented the crowd. But Jerry Tolles, seated in the corner, paid no attention to these derogatory comments. "I allers said the boy would 'mount to somethin' yit," he chuckled, fumbling for his pipe. —Frank Leslie's.

"Mustang Tom's" Life in a Wagon.

There is hardly a more curious character in all this big city full of queer people than is "Mustang Tom," who makes New York his home for about one week every three years.

Tom Stewart was born in Pennsylvania "nigh onto sixty-four years ago," as he phrases it. He has crossed the plains three times each way, and has never ridden on a boat or car. His first trip westward was in 1849, the next ten years later, and he has just completed the third, reaching San Francisco the other day. "Mustang Tom," as he is called, left New York City to begin his last journey eighteen months ago. His outfit consisted of a wagon drawn by a pair of small, brown mules, and large enough to hold Tom, his water spaniel Boston, a rusty army musket, some cooking utensils and blankets. He shaped his course southwest, visited friends in Missouri, passed through Salt Lake City, halted awhile at Tombstone, Ariz., struck north to Idaho, went through Montana, Eastern Oregon and Northern California, drifted down to Nevada, and then made for San Francisco. His first night in the city was passed at a cheap lodging house. He had not slept in a bed before for fifteen years, and announced on rising that he "didn't want no more of it." Two days in the California metropolis satisfied him, and the morning of the third he hitched up his mules and started for Arizona. —New York Press.

The Champion Tramp.

The champion tramp would seem to be one Polkers. He belongs to Portland, Maine, and is a shoemaker by trade. For ten years he has been roaming the country, and he declares that not once during this time has he paid a railroad fare, though on all his trips he patronizes the "iron horse." He says he has a craze for traveling, which seems very evident from his statement that he rides about 20,000 miles per year. Altogether he has traveled 200,000 miles. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Organized Beggars.

A society in Paris, organized to prevent the trade in children by professional beggars, has made its first report in which it gives the names and addresses of several establishments which employ children as flower girls and as beggars. One of these employs 120 girls from eight to eleven years old to sell flowers on the streets. They are required to bring in a profit of sixty cents each or receive nothing for their day's work. —Chicago Inter-Ocean.

NEWS AND NOTES FOR WOMEN.

Women's sphere broadens daily. Colored mantles are very stylish. Black with pale colors is regarded with favor by milliners.

Chocolate goat button shoes are much affected by young misses.

In perfumes just now Chinese scents are said to be especially prized.

Amber is replacing tortoise shell as an ornament for the hair in England.

Venetian lace for summer toilets will be largely used as an ornamentation.

Mrs. John A. Logan intends to found a training school for female servants.

The Empress of Austria is known as the best royal housekeeper in Europe.

Waterproofs now have two immense envelope pockets, an idea welcomed by all.

Parasols are being made very large, to relieve the immense dimensions of straw-hats.

The garden hat of the moment delights in a garniture of freshly plucked blossoms.

The seven hundredth female physician in Russia has just passed her examination.

Ouida, the novelist, uses on her hair and eyebrows scent that costs $30 an ounce.

Miss Catharine Bruce has given $20,000 to the New York Free Circulating Library.

Miss Mary Howe, of Brattleboro, Vt., is spoken of by a Boston journal as another Gerster.

Plain toilets call for a plaid parasol, and so a great many are now seen upon the promenade.

A great many half-shoes of lilac suedekid are worn at pates, musicales and daylight-at-homes.

Bead embroidery and passamenterie are again finding favor as trimming for evening toilets.

Fine frillings of tulle and crepe are worn about the neck and sleeves of the Henry II. gowns.

The tendency to close clinging skirts becomes more and more apparent as the season advances.

A woman laid the corner stone for the Monticello Seminary for girls, at Godfrey, Ill., recently.

Mary Schenley, of Pittsburgh, Penn., has given a site for the Western Pennsylvania Blind Asylum.

Mattiline, a new fabric of fine matting, wears well and comes in pretty patterns. It is popular.

Ivory belts are the very newest whims of fashion; they are both an expensive and elegant ornament.

A young woman in San Francisco recently died of erysipelas superinduced by the piercing of the ears.

Beautiful indeed are the newest parasols. They are painted and represent scenes and a variety of flowers.

The low-cut necks of last season will not obtain this year. We have gone back again to very high collars.

In the use of gilt and silver passementerie medallions of embroidery are used to finish the ends that hook or turn over.

Miss Jennie Clarke, of Casey, Texas, has just received the first check in her career. It was for $1,000,000 left by an uncle.

Steel braiding and steel embroidery are even more popular than gold or silver, showing the popularity of gray shades in everything.

A young Southern woman who is attaining some prominence as a writer, is Miss Louise Meyer, a daughter of General Adolph Meyer.

A good plan to cure frowning is to tie a tight, smooth band or broad ribbon about the forehead when writing, studying or sewing.

Combination gowns are to be seen in tan and brown, green and gray, green and pink, and gold and white. The latter are dazzling.

When Mrs. Harrison is in evening dress she arranges her hair in a very high twist and powders it, which is wonderfully becoming to her.

Mme. Carnot, wife of the President of France, gave each of four hundred children a savings bank book with $10 deposit on Christmas Day.

A new idea in hose is to make them wide at the toes instead of narrow. This shape conforms to the natural foot and gives ease and comfort.

The leg-of-mutton sleeves are a mode with heavy materials. Gauzes, crapes and spangled net are prettier puffed with bands of pearl or ribbon between.

If you want a dress bonnet buy a fillet of velvet bands, two or three in number, with a bunch of flowers on top and a swarm of butterflies hovering over it.

The Princess Bismarck is described as the model of a practical, methodical German matron, with an eye to every detail of household management and economy.

It is said Mrs. Langtry is making a vigorous attempt to bring in the Jersey again, but so far without success. Jerseys may be comfortable, but have long ceased to be stylish.

A fashionable visiting card in Berlin is an African importation. It is a leaf of the silver poplar, which keeps its color when dried and can be easily written upon. It delights fashionable Berlin under the name of "Emin Pasha's visiting card."

BLIND CHILDREN.

THE GAMES THAT SIGHTLESS LITTLE ONES CAN PLAY.

Before Blind Children Can Play Indoor Games They Must Be Educated—Chess and Checkers—An Alphabet.

The amusements of blind children are necessarily limited in character and few in number. Most outdoor sports cannot be enjoyed by them, and those games that are played indoors differ largely from those of seeing children, either in their construction or in their use.

One reason, perhaps, that there are so few games for blind children lies in the fact that there are very few blind children to play games. Those who see have an idea that all blind persons have been accustomed to the loss of their eyesight all their lives. This is in reality very far from being the case. Superintendent William B. Wait, who has been in charge of the New York State Institution for the Blind for over thirty years, told me the other day that only five per cent. of the blind are born without eyesight. Seven per cent. lose their sight under the age of ten years. Thirteen per cent. become blind between the ages of ten and twenty. Thirty per cent. meet their affliction between the ages of twenty and fifty, and forty-five per cent. or nearly half the blind persons in the world, reach the age of fifty years before they lose their sight.

BLIND BOYS PLAYING LEAP FROG.

Consequently, among the blind, children are in a very great minority. There is another reason why there are few games that blind children can play. With the blind any movement of the hands or feet that is not perfectly natural is an effort. A seeing child, for instance, does a thousand things he has not been taught by imitation. He sees his brother dress himself, and imitates him without any conscious effort on his part. He watches other children at their work and in their play, and without knowing how he acquires the knowledge, he learns to do as they are doing.

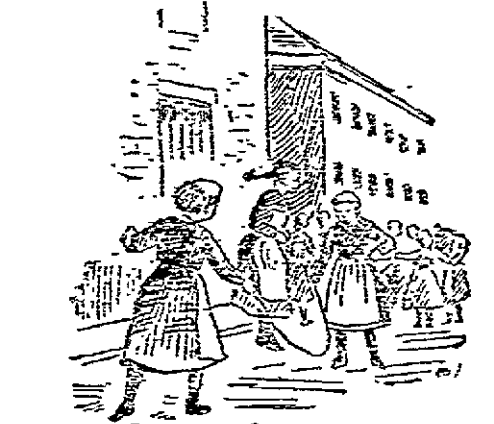

The little blind boy has not this faculty. He cannot dress himself until he has been taught by many patient lessons how it shall be done. Learning to button his shirt up in front is the work of days and perhaps of weeks. He cannot even eat as other children can without going through a long and tedious period of instruction. And some blind children whose parents are over-indulgent to them do not learn to walk until they are five or six years old.

Several years ago a pupil was brought to Mr. Wait who was eight years old and could not walk a single step. He could not read or write and his hands were of little more use to him than the chubby fingers of a baby. Mr. Wait declined to receive the helpless boy, and told his father to bring him back when he could walk. It was two years before he saw the child again, and even then, in spite of the careful training he had received during that time, the little fellow was only able to toddle a few steps at a time. This time, however, he was received, and in the course of years he learned to walk and run, but he never played as other children do.

This is an unusual case, but there are instances almost as painful every year, and even where the blind children are given every advantage of training their parents can afford they are very far from being self-helpful when they are admitted to the institution.

One can readily understand that such children cannot share the amusements of seeing children, and you can realize how difficult it has been to devise any games for them that do not tire them to learn more than they amuse them.

Still blind children are no less fond of sports than children who can see, and those games that they can play are enjoyed equally as much as you enjoyed your game of ball or checkers.

BLIND GIRLS PLAYING

The simplest forms of amusement among the blind are skipping the rope, playing tag and walking. All of these sports are easily learned, and they are a means of working off the superfluous, the animal activity, that children, whether blind or seeing, always possess.

The playground of the New York institution is admirably adapted for its purpose. It is a square, paved enclosure, surrounded by a high brick wall, and containing nothing to stumble against. If one wants to see how blind children play he should visit this yard some day during the recess hour.

At the tap of the bell the junior classes are dismissed, and with a whoop and a hurrah and a tremendous scuffling of feet, the youngsters rush pell-mell out of doors. If one had never seen them before he could hardly believe they were blind.

Greater confusion one never saw. At once they are tangled in knots that seem as if they never could be unravelled, and no sooner are they out of one jumble than they are in another. Finally their exuberance is expended and the games begin. The most muscular boys prefer leapfrog, and woe be it to the unlucky chap who stands too near the living post the human frog vaults over. He is fortunate if he is not rolled over on the ground and flattened out beneath the falling weight.

Hide and seek is another popular sport. The boy who is "it" doesn't cover his face while the other boys are hiding themselves, and those who are sought make no effort to conceal themselves. They are found by the sense of touch after a search that seems as hopeless to the looker on as the finding of a needle in a haystack.

Tag and skipping the rope are played the same way that seeing persons are accustomed to play them, and barring the accidental knocks the players get they are highly enjoyed.

The girls find pleasure in walking around their yard and talking and in skipping the rope and playing tag. However, in this yard the sports are gentler and knocks and bruises are the exception and not the rule.

The older boys take their exercise in walking or in the gymnasium. You would be surprised to know how wonderfully well some blind persons can pilot themselves around this busy town. There are students in this institution who walk for miles around the city, board street cars, cross crowded streets, ride on the elevated roads and ferries and even make short journeys into the country almost as well as if they were gifted with eyesight.

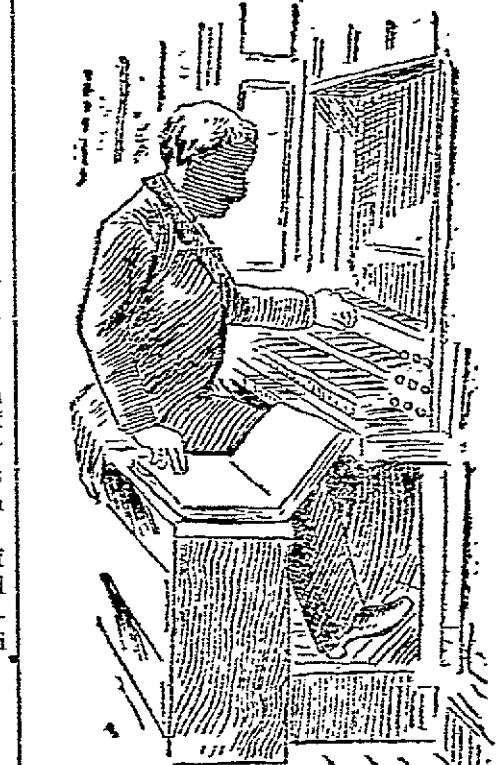

One of the former students goes every day from New Jersey, where he lives, to Harlem and also to Columbia College on foot and without a guide, and sometimes when he has time he walks down town on the crowded West Side with no more fear of accident than he would have in his own room.

In the gymnasium the would-be athlete confines himself to dumbbell exercises, swinging the clubs and work on the bars, pulleys and swing. He can never box or fence, of course, but he frequently becomes an expert wrestler.

As I have explained before, there must be a certain amount of education before a blind child can enjoy indoor sports. The first step in this training is learning to read and write.

Superintendent Wait says that while the old alphabet was in use not more than one person out of ten could read without great difficulty. This state of affairs led to the creation of the present point alphabet. The letters are made of points, and a page of a book does not look unlike a page written in the Morse telegraphic alphabet.

This alphabet is very easily learned and not easily forgotten. Some of the boys in the institution have been known to memorize it in less than an hour of study. The capital letters are derived from the small letters by affixing to each of them as many points as will form a new character, four points in length, in the following manner—

A BLIND ORGANIST LEARNING.

First—When the letter ends with a point in the upper row, as in the letter "s," add the suffix in the lower row.

Second—When the small letter ends with a point in the lower row, as in "c," or in both upper and lower rows, as in "d," add the suffix in the upper row.

The writing tablet and guide are ingeniously devised, and consist of a wooden frame lined with punctured brass. Over this frame the writing paper, a sheet of heavy brown paper, is placed, and over that the guide is fastened. This is made of brass, in which the word "Institution" has been written, or rather punctured with a small awl or style, which is the blind writer's pen. The writing is done from right to left.

When a sheet of paper is turned over the reader can easily feel the points that have been made with the tips of his fingers, and the writing is as plain to him as print is to us. With a little practice the blind become wonderfully expert, not only in reading but writing, and a bright student can make notes of a lecture with his machine almost as rapidly as a reporter can with his pencil.

This same system in the main has been adapted by Superintendent Wait for the notation of music. But writing music is much more difficult than writing letters. A great many new characters have to be used to indicate the notes and their time value.

In studying music the pupil is trained by ear at first. The difference in the notes and their time, the flats and sharps, rests and intervals, are all mastered before the work of reading and writing music is taken up. After that the task is not so hard as it looks. When a blind person comes across a new piece of music he must learn it note by note. There is no such thing as playing at sight, of course, and the work is very slow, but it can be accomplished, and among the pupils in the advanced classes there are several boys who can master a new and difficult selection almost as rapidly as some boys can who are gifted with seeing eyes.

In the chapel the Herald artist found one of the advanced pupils studying a new composition for the organ. His right hand he used instead of his eyes, feeling the sheet of music that lay beside him, while with his left hand he played the various notes until he had memorized them.

There is a peculiar printing establishment in this city where very little ink and hardly any type, as most printers know type are used. It is here that the music books and the school books for the blind are printed. There are square blocks with points on them to correspond with the points in letters that are used, which take the place of common type. These are set up from the "copy" and printed on heavy paper. This paper is afterward varnished so that the points will not be worn down by constant use, as would be the case were nothing of that sort done.

After a pupil has learned to read and write and to play the piano or organ or some other musical instrument he is ready for games. His hands have been trained so that he can do mechanically what at first would have been the hardest kind of work for him. Now he can play checkers.

The checker board has every alternate square raised, and the men fit into the depressed squares. One side of each man has a hole in it, and when it is crowned king this side is turned uppermost. The white "men" are round and the black are square.

The same sort of a board is used for backgammon, and the dice all have sharp points on them, instead of black dots, to mark their values.

Chess is a difficult game to learn, but when it is once mastered the blind player can enjoy it as well as one who sees, and some of the pupils are remarkably brilliant players. The chessmen have little pins on the bottom of each piece which fit into a hole in the square, so that they are held in place until they are moved by the contestant.

Although the blind play cards they do not as a rule take much pleasure in this kind of amusement. Each card, of course, is marked so that the player can tell its value, but in a game each player must call out the card as he plays it so that his opponent can tell what has been played. This makes the game a trifle slow and monotonous.

In conclusion, let me call attention to something that most Herald readers have probably noticed and have never heard explained. If one has ever been near a blind asylum in the evening he must have noticed that the building is always illuminated. Why do the blind need lights? It is because very few so-called blind persons are really blind. While they may not be able to distinguish objects, they can, as a rule, distinguish between light and darkness, and the gas-light makes their rooms and halls much easier for them to find their way in than darkness would.—New York Herald.

The Hon. Mrs. Watkins left Swansea in her 109th year, says a Bristol paper printed in 1879, for London, for the express purpose of seeing Mrs. Siddons. She saw her act nine times, and during her stay she mounted to the whispering gallery, at St. Paul's. She returned to Glamorganshire accompanied by three of her grandchildren.

A Russian Uprising

—Pack.

VIBRATOR HARROW.

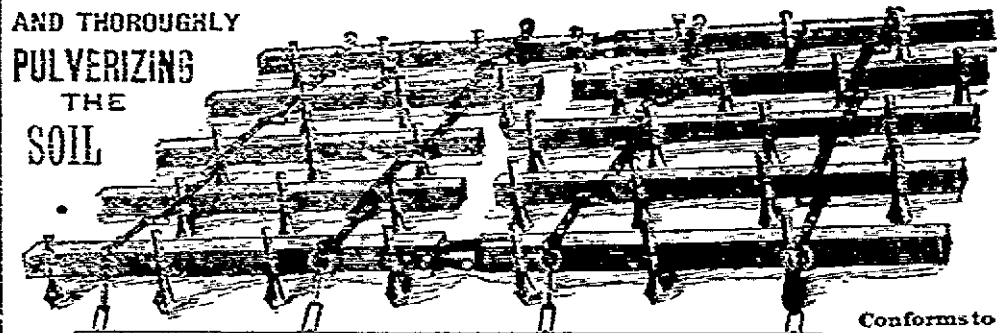

TRIUMPHS OVER ALL COMPETITORS

FOR SIMPLICITY, DURABILITY,

AND THOROUGHLY

PULVERIZING

THE SOIL

EACH BAR WORKS INDEPENDENTLY

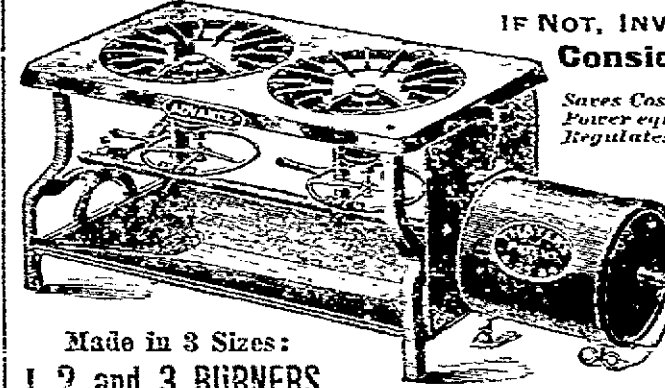

DO NOT FAIL TO SEND FOR CIRCULAR AND PRICES.

VIBRATOR HARROW CO., NEW CASTLE, PA.

The "Advance" Safety Vapor Stove.

DID YOU EVER SEE ONE?

IF NOT, INVESTIGATE IT AT ONCE! Consider the Advantages.

Made in 3 Sizes: 1, 2 and 3 BURNERS.

For Simplicity, Convenience, and Rapidity of Work it stands without a rival.

The THAYER OVEN

we make it a wonderful accompaniment to our Stove, Compact but immense capacity.

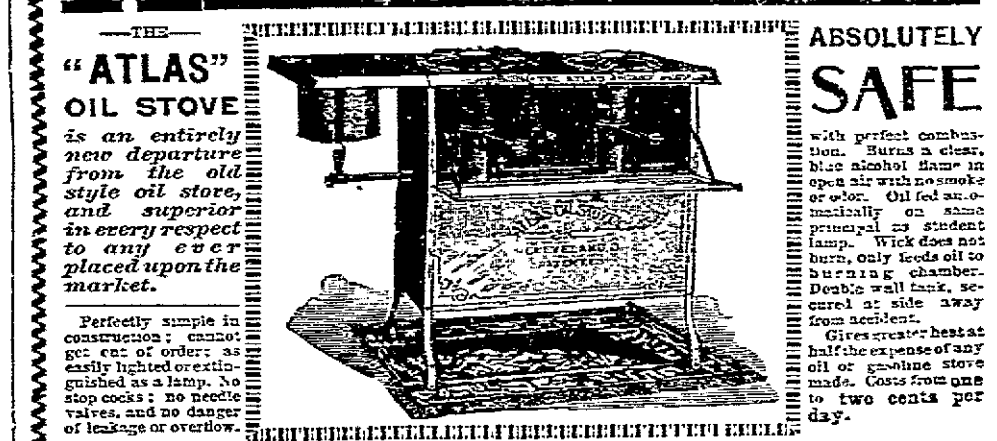

Thayer's Automatic Safety Can.

Only absolutely Safe Can for filling Gasoline Stoves. An Invaluable Necessity.

SEND FOR CIRCULARS AND PRICES. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

Boston Safety Vapor Stove Co., 146 HIGH ST., BOSTON, MASS.

A PERFECT OIL STOVE.

"ATLAS" OIL STOVE is an entirely new departure from the old style oil stove, and superior in every respect to any ever placed upon the market.

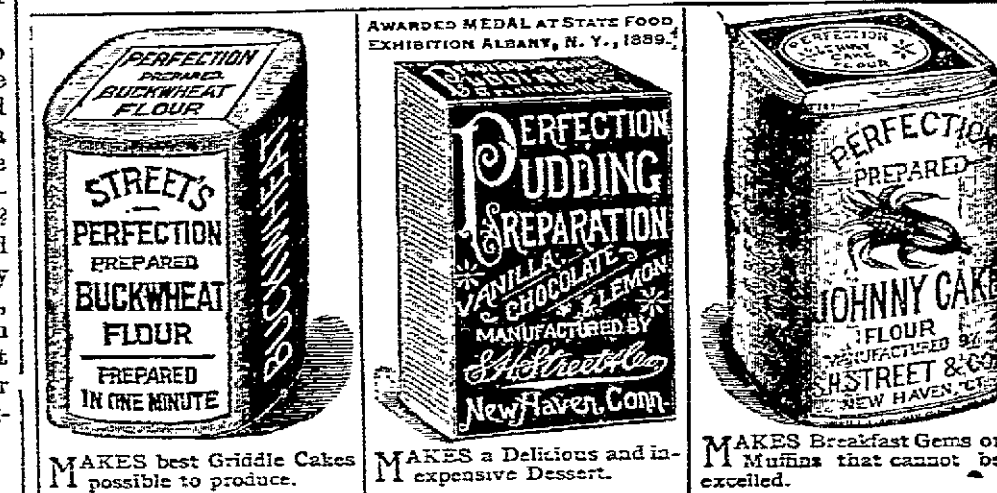

Perfectly simple in construction; cannot get out of order; as easily lighted or extinguished as a lamp. No stop cocks; no needle valves; and no danger of leakage or overflow.

For Safety, Cleanliness, Simplicity, Durability, Efficiency and Economy it has no equal. Don't buy a cooking or heating stove until you see the "ATLAS." Circulars and further information on application to

ATLAS MANUFACTURING CO., 251 Arcade Bldg., Euclid Ave., Cleveland, O.

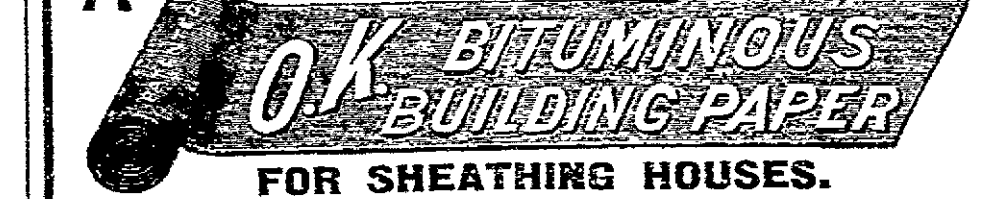

STREET'S PERFECTION FOODS. New Haven, Conn.

AWARDED MEDAL AT PARIS EXPOSITION, 1889.

Every Package Guaranteed and if not satisfactory may be returned to Grocer.

ABSOLUTELY WATER-PROOF

We call attention to the novelty of its construction, it being composed of two sheets of paper with an interposed layer of water-proof bitumen or asphalt, the whole united under pressure, making a sanitary midweek-proof sheathing for the sides and floors of houses, that will last as long as the building upon which it is applied.

Experience has shown that the cheap papers commonly used for sheathing houses do not protect a building for any length of time, but soon midweek and fall to pieces, making the house drafty and damp; these defects can then only be remedied at great expense.

A Good Sheathing like the O. K. Building Paper, can be obtained at a trifling cost, and it is a waste of money to use an inferior article.

Put up in rolls 36 inches wide, containing 1,000 square feet.

SAMPLE, CIRCULAR AND PRICES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION. MICA ROOFING CO., 73 Maiden Lane, NEW YORK.

BLIND CHILDREN.

THE GAMES THAT SIGHTLESS LITTLE ONES CAN PLAY.

Before Blind Children Can Play Indoor Games They Must Be Educated—Chess and Checkers—An Alphabet.

The amusements of blind children are necessarily limited in character and few in number. Most outdoor sports cannot be enjoyed by them, and those games that are played indoors differ largely from those of seeing children, either in their construction or in their use.

One reason, perhaps, that there are so few games for blind children lies in the fact that there are very few blind children to play games. Those who see have an idea that all blind persons have been accustomed to the loss of their eyesight all their lives. This is in reality very far from being the case. Superintendent William B. Wait, who has been in charge of the New York State Institution for the Blind for over thirty years, told me the other day that only five per cent. of the blind are born without eyesight. Seven per cent. lose their sight under the age of ten years. Thirteen per cent. become blind between the ages of ten and twenty. Thirty per cent. meet their affliction between the ages of twenty and fifty, and forty-five per cent. or nearly half the blind persons in the world, reach the age of fifty years before they lose their sight.

BLIND BOYS PLAYING LEAP FROG.

Consequently, among the blind, children are in a very great minority. There is another reason why there are few games that blind children can play. With the blind any movement of the hands or feet that is not perfectly natural is an effort. A seeing child, for instance, does a thousand things he has not been taught by imitation. He sees his brother dress himself, and imitates him without any conscious effort on his part. He watches other children at their work and in their play, and without knowing how he acquires the knowledge, he learns to do as they are doing.

The little blind boy has not this faculty. He cannot dress himself until he has been taught by many patient lessons how it shall be done. Learning to button his shirt up in front is the work of days and perhaps of weeks. He cannot even eat as other children can without going through a long and tedious period of instruction. And some blind children whose parents are over-indulgent to them do not learn to walk until they are five or six years old.

Several years ago a pupil was brought to Mr. Wait who was eight years old and could not walk a single step. He could not read or write and his hands were of little more use to him than the chubby fingers of a baby. Mr. Wait declined to receive the helpless boy, and told his father to bring him back when he could walk. It was two years before he saw the child again, and even then, in spite of the careful training he had received during that time, the little fellow was only able to toddle a few steps at a time. This time, however, he was received, and in the course of years he learned to walk and run, but he never played as other children do.

This is an unusual case, but there are instances almost as painful every year, and even where the blind children are given every advantage of training their parents can afford they are very far from being self-helpful when they are admitted to the institution.

One can readily understand that such children cannot share the amusements of seeing children, and you can realize how difficult it has been to devise any games for them that do not tire them to learn more than they amuse them.

Still blind children are no less fond of sports than children who can see, and those games that they can play are enjoyed equally as much as you enjoyed your game of ball or checkers.

BLIND GIRLS PLAYING.

The simplest forms of amusement among the blind are skipping the rope, playing tag and walking. All of these sports are easily learned, and they are a means of working off the superfluous, the animal activity, that children, whether blind or seeing, always possess.

The playground of the New York institution is admirably adapted for its purpose. It is a square, paved enclosure, surrounded by a high brick wall, and containing nothing to stumble against. If one wants to see how blind children play he should visit this yard some day during the recess hour.

At the tap of the bell the junior classes are dismissed, and with a whoop and a hurrah and a tremendous scuffling of feet, the youngsters rush pell-mell out of doors. If one had never seen them before he could hardly believe they were blind.

Greater confusion one never saw. At once they are tangled in knots that seem as if they never could be unravelled, and no sooner are they out of one jumble than they are in another. Finally their exuberance is expended and the games begin. The most muscular boys prefer leapfrog, and woe be it to the unlucky chap who stood too near the living post the human frog vaults over. He is fortunate if he is not rolled over on the ground and flattened out beneath the falling weight.

Hide and seek is another popular sport. The boy who is "it" doesn't cover his face while the other boys are hiding themselves, and those who are sought make no effort to conceal themselves. They are found by the sense of touch after a search that seems as hopeless to the looker on as the finding of a needle in a haystack.

Tag and skipping the rope are played the same way that seeing persons are accustomed to play them, and barring the accidental knocks the players get they are highly enjoyed.

The girls find pleasure in walking around their yard and talking and in skipping the rope and playing tag. However, in this yard the sports are gentler and knocks and bruises are the exception and not the rule.

The older boys take their exercise in walking or in the gymnasium. You would be surprised to know how wonderfully well some blind persons can pilot themselves around this busy town. There are students in this institution who walk for miles around the city, board street cars, cross crowded streets, ride on the elevated roads and ferries and even make short journeys into the country almost as well as if they were gifted with eyesight.

One of the former students goes every day from New Jersey, where he lives, to Harlem and also to Columbia College on foot and without a guide, and sometimes when he has time he walks down town on the crowded West Side with no more fear of accident than he would have in his own room.

In the gymnasium the would-be athlete confines himself to dumbbell exercises, swinging the clubs and work on the bars, pulleys and swing. He can never box or fence, of course, but he frequently becomes an expert wrestler.

As I have explained before, there must be a certain amount of education before a blind child can enjoy indoor sports. The first step in this training is learning to read and write.

Superintendent Wait says that while the old alphabet was in use not more than one person out of ten could read without great difficulty. This state of affairs led to the creation of the present point alphabet. The letters are made of points, and a page of a book does not look unlike a page written in the Morse telegraphic alphabet.

This alphabet is very easily learned and not easily forgotten. Some of the boys in the institution have been known to memorize it in less than an hour of study. The capital letters are derived from the small letters by affixing to each of them as many points as will form a new character, four points in length, in the following manner—

A BLIND ORGANIST LEARNING.

First—When the letter ends with a point in the upper row, as in the letter "s," add the suffix in the lower row.

Second—When the small letter ends with a point in the lower row, as in "c," or in both upper and lower rows, as in "d," add the suffix in the upper row.

The writing tablet and guide are ingeniously devised, and consist of a wooden frame lined with punctured brass. Over this frame the writing paper, a sheet of heavy brown paper, is placed, and over that the guide is fastened.

This is made of brass, in which the word "Institution" has been written, or rather punctured with a small awl or style, which is the blind writer's pen. The writing is done from right to left.

When a sheet of paper is turned over the reader can easily feel the points that have been made with the tips of his fingers, and the writing is as plain to him as print is to us. With a little practice the blind become wonderfully expert, not only in reading but writing, and a bright student can make notes of a lecture with his machine almost as rapidly as a reporter can with his pencil.

This same system in the main has been adapted by Superintendent Wait for the notation of music. But writing music is much more difficult than writing letters. A great many new characters have to be used to indicate the notes and their time value.

In studying music the pupil is trained by ear at first. The difference in the notes and their time, the flats and sharps, rests and intervals, are all mastered before the work of reading and writing music is taken up. After that the task is not so hard as it looks. When a blind person comes across a new piece of music he must learn it note by note. There is no such thing as playing at sight, of course, and the work is very slow, but it can be accomplished, and among the pupils in the advanced classes there are several boys who can master a new and difficult selection almost as rapidly as some boys can who are gifted with seeing eyes.

In the chapel the Herald artist found one of the advanced pupils studying a new composition for the organ. His right hand he used instead of his eyes, feeling the sheet of music that lay beside him, while with his left hand he played the various notes until he had memorized them.

There is a peculiar printing establishment in this city where very little ink and hardly any type, as most printers know type are used. It is here that the music books and the school books for the blind are printed. There are square blocks with points on them to correspond with the points in letters that are used, which take the place of common type. These are set up from the "copy" and printed on heavy paper. This paper is afterward varnished so that the points will not be worn down by constant use, as would be the case were nothing of that sort done.

After a pupil has learned to read and write and to play the piano or organ or some other musical instrument he is ready for games. His hands have been trained so that he can do mechanically what at first would have been the hardest kind of work for him. Now he can play checkers.

The checker board has every alternate square raised, and the men fit into the depressed squares. One side of each man has a hole in it, and when it is crowned king this side is turned uppermost. The white "men" are round and the black are square.

The same sort of a board is used for backgammon, and the dice all have sharp points on them, instead of black dots, to mark their values.

Chess is a difficult game to learn, but when it is once mastered the blind player can enjoy it as well as one who sees, and some of the pupils are remarkably brilliant players. The chessmen have little pins on the bottom of each piece which fit into a hole in the square, so that they are held in place until they are moved by the contestant.

Although the blind play cards they do not as a rule take much pleasure in this kind of amusement. Each card, of course, is marked so that the player can tell its value, but in a game each player must call out the card as he plays it so that his opponent can tell what has been played. This makes the game a trifle slow and monotonous.

In conclusion, let me call attention to something that most Herald readers have probably noticed and have never heard explained. If one has ever been near a blind asylum in the evening he must have noticed that the building is always illuminated. Why do the blind need lights? It is because very few so-called blind persons are really blind. While they may not be able to distinguish objects, they can, as a rule, distinguish between light and darkness, and the gas-light makes their rooms and halls much easier for them to find their way in than darkness would. —New York Herald.

The Hon. Mrs. Watkins left Swansea in her 109th year, says a Bristol paper printed in 1879, for London, for the express purpose of seeing Mrs. Siddons. She saw her act nine times, and during her stay she mounted to the whispering gallery, at St. Paul's. She returned to Glamorganshire accompanied by three of her grandchildren.

A Russian Uprising

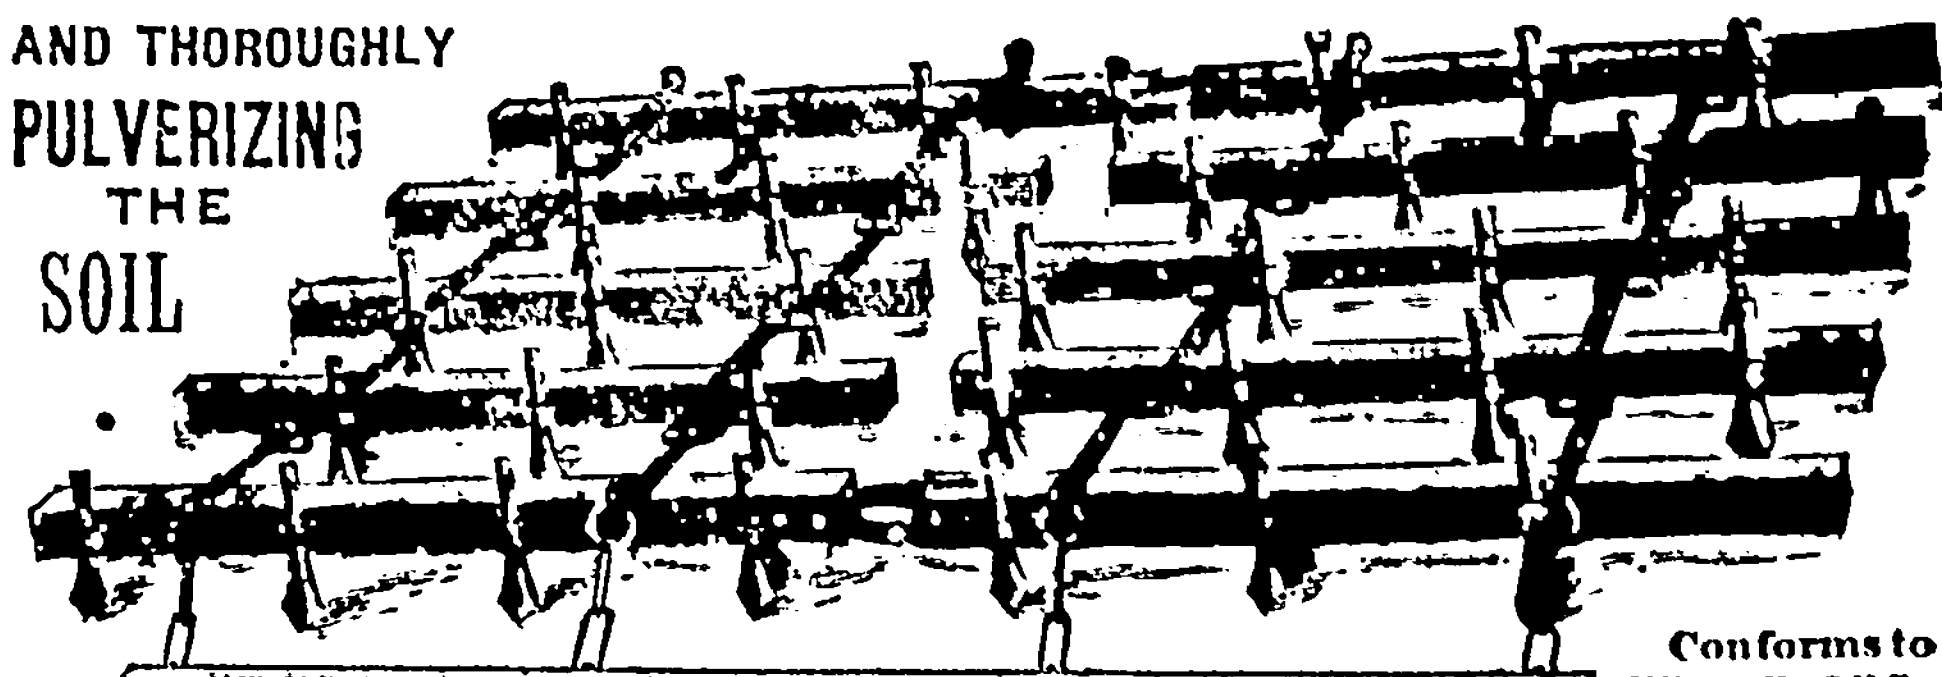

—Puck.

VIBRATOR HARROW.

TRIUMPHS OVER ALL COMPETITORS FOR SIMPLICITY, DURABILITY,

AND THOROUGHLY

PULVERIZING THE SOIL

EACH BAR WORKS INDEPENDENTLY obstacles and frees itself from cornstalks etc., better than any Harrow made.

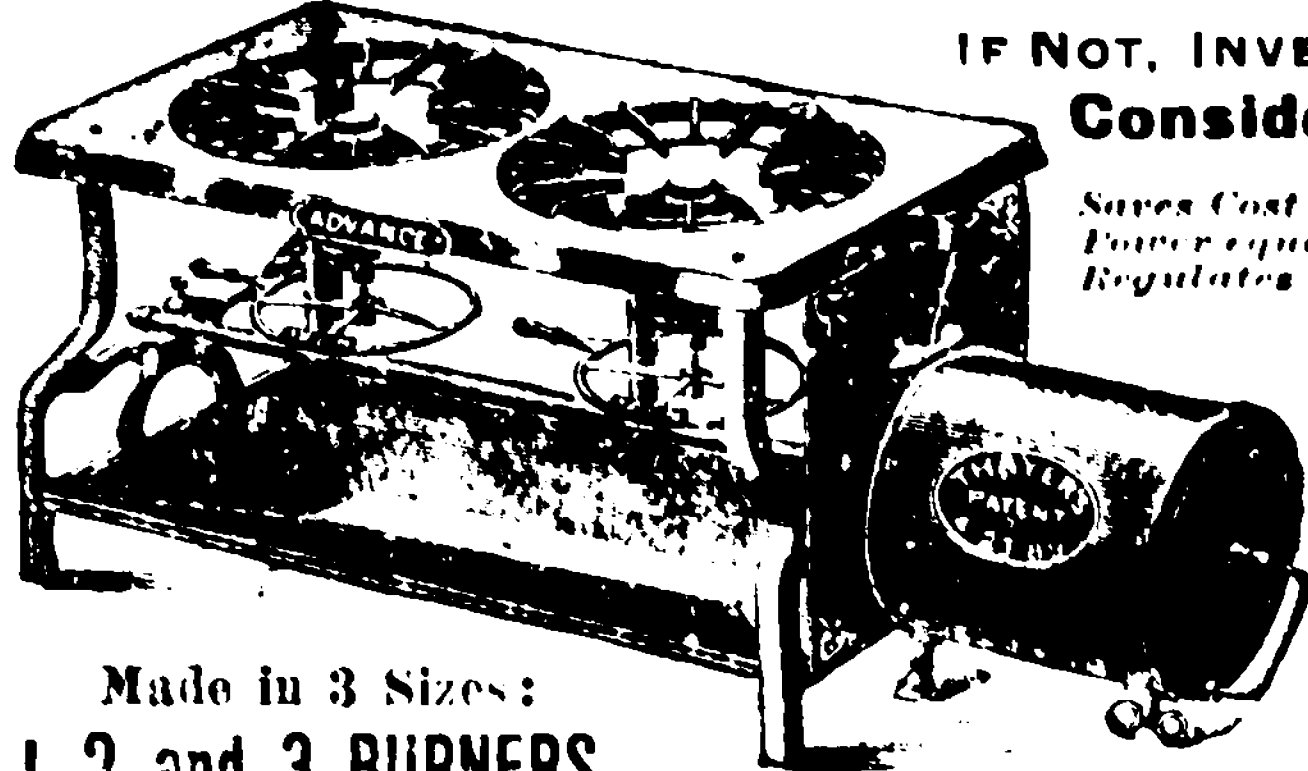

DO NOT FAIL TO SEND FOR CIRCULAR AND PRICES. Its construction is unsurpassed; best seasoned oak and oil tempered, Brainerd Steel Teeth. Adjustable with ordinary wrench to cut from 2 to 6 inches adapted to all kinds of work and soil; can be drawn backwards for covering fluted and smoothing ground.

VIBRATOR HARROW CO., NEW CASTLE, PA.

The "Advance" Safety Vapor Stove.

DID YOU EVER SEE ONE?

IF NOT, INVESTIGATE IT AT ONCE! Consider the Advantages.

Made in 3 Sizes: 1, 2 and 3 BURNERS.

For Simplicity, Convenience, and Rapidity of Work it stands without a rival.

The THAYER OVEN we make is a wonderful accompaniment to our stove, Compact but immense capacity.

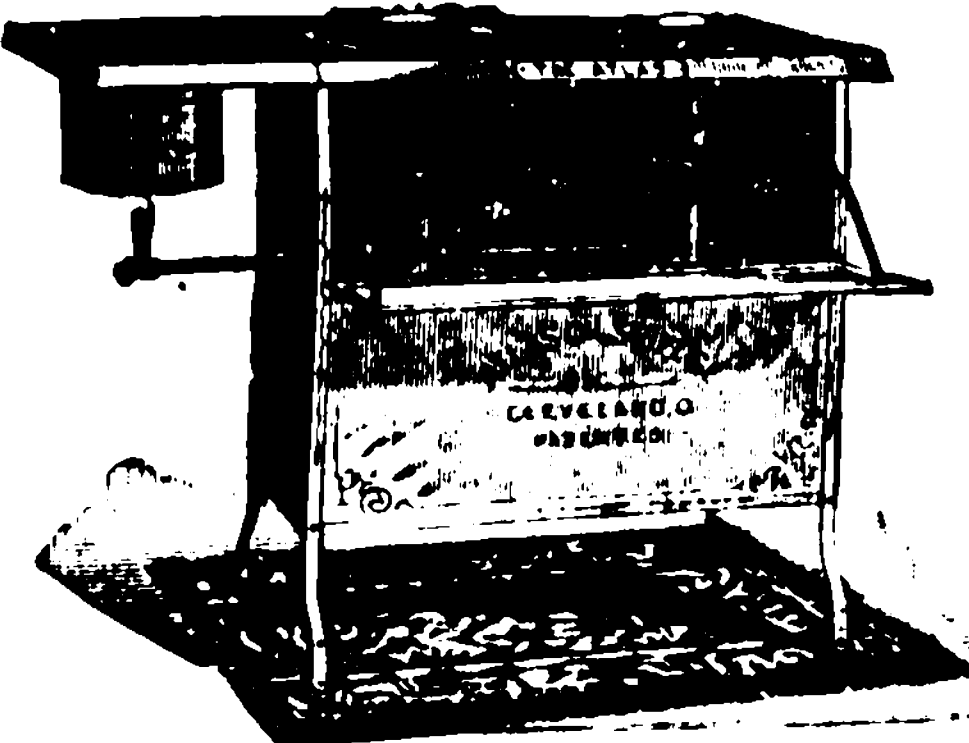

Thayer's Automatic Safety Can. Only absolutely Safe Can for filling Gasoline Stoves. An Invaluable Necessity.

SEND FOR CIRCULARS AND PRICES. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

Boston Safety Vapor Stove Co., 146 HIGH ST., BOSTON, MASS.

A PERFECT OIL STOVE.

THE "ATLAS" OIL STOVE is an entirely new departure from the old style oil stove, and superior in every respect to any ever placed upon the market.

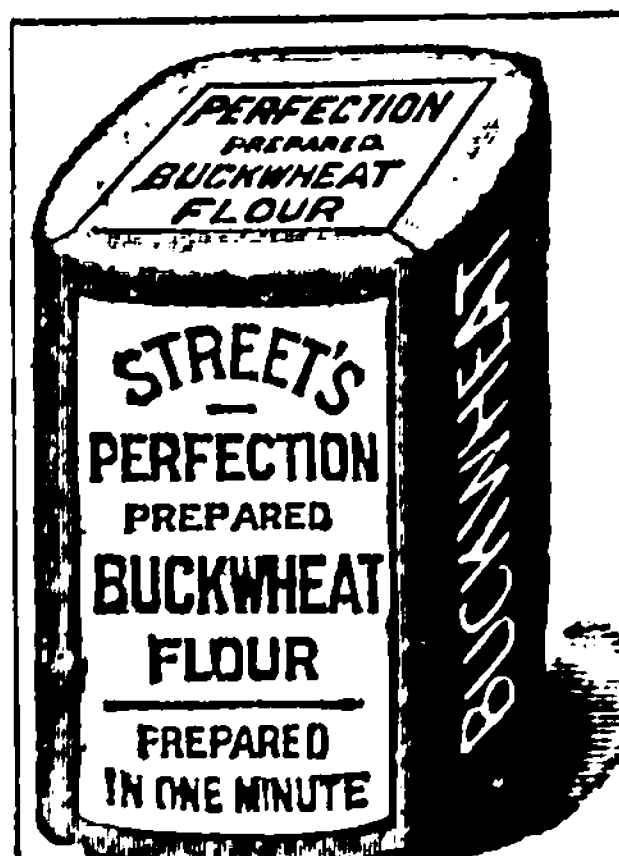

ABSOLUTELY SAFE

with perfect combustion. Burns clear, blue alcohol flame in open air with no smoke or odor. Oil used economically. No principal as student lamp. Wick does not burn, only feeds oil to burning chamber. Double wall tank, secured at side away from accident. Gives greater heat at half the expense of any oil or gas stove made. Cost from one to two cents per day.

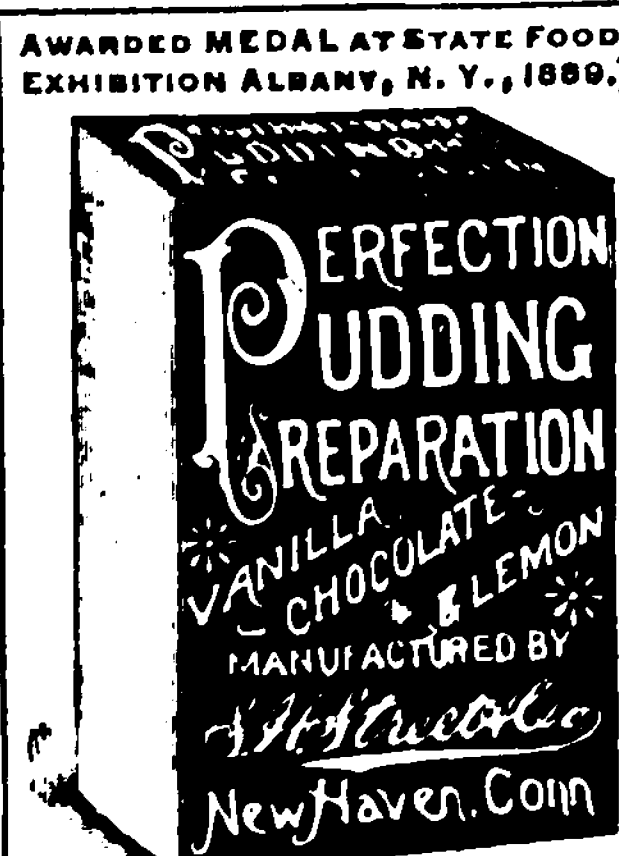

For Safety, Cleanliness, Simplicity, Durability, Efficiency and Economy it has no equal. Don't buy a cooking or heating stove until you see the "ATLAS." Circulars and further information on application to ATLAS MANUFACTURING CO., 251 Arcade Bldg., Euclid Ave., Cleveland, O.

STREET'S PERFECTION FOODS. New Haven, Conn.

AWARDED MEDAL AT PARIS EXPOSITION, 1889.

MAKES best Griddle Cakes possible to produce.

MAKES a Delicious and inexpensive Dessert.

MAKES Breakfast Cakes or Muffins that cannot be excelled.

Every Package Guaranteed and if not satisfactory may be returned to Grocer.

ABSOLUTELY WATER-PROOF

O.K. BITUMINOUS BUILDING PAPER FOR SHEATHING HOUSES.

We call attention to the novelty of its construction, it being composed of two sheets of paper with an interposed layer of water-proof bitumen or asphalt, the whole united under pressure, making a sanitary mildew-proof sheathing for the sides and floors of houses, that will last as long as the building upon which it is applied.

Experience has shown that the cheap papers commonly used for sheathing houses do not protect a building for any length of time, but soon mildew and fall to pieces, making the house drafty and damp; these defects can then only be remedied at great expense.

A Good Sheathing like the O. K. Building Paper, can be obtained at a trifling cost, and it is a waste of money to use an inferior article.

Put up in rolls 36 inches wide, containing 1,000 square feet.

SAMPLE, CIRCULAR AND PRICES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION. MICA ROOFING CO., 73 Maiden Lane, NEW YORK.

A FORTUNATE WOMAN.—Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., has reason to be very thankful. She was a great sufferer from heart disease for years. Was short of breath, had hungry spells, pain in side, fluttering, faintness, etc. After taking two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, she says, "I am better than for years. My mind and eyesight have improved wonderfully. I advise all persons thus afflicted to use this great remedy. J. W. Dicks druggist, recommends and guarantees it. Dr. Miles' work on heart disease, containing marvelous testimonials; free.

James Melvin, a war veteran, portions of whose body had become ossified within a few years, and for whom a pension of $100 a month specially passed Congress last month, died on Saturday, in Concord Massachusetts. His sufferings for several years past were excruciating.

A SAFE INVESTMENT.—Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case when used for any affection of throat, lungs or chest, such as consumption, inflammation of lungs, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at Dicks' drug store.

Rev. Daniel B. Martin, a Methodist preacher, of Birmingham, Ala., killed Samuel Walker, a rival in love affairs, by splitting his head open with an axe.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.—Druggists everywhere report that the sales of the Restorative Nerve—a nerve food and medicine—are astonishing; exceeding anything they ever had, while it gives universal satisfaction in headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, sexual debility, headache, poor memory, fits, dizziness, etc. L. Burton & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Ambury & Murphy, of Battle Creek, Mich.; C. B. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., and hundreds of others state that they never handled any medicine which sold so rapidly, or gave such satisfaction. Trial bottles of this great medicine and book on nervous diseases, free at J. W. Dicks' who guarantees and recommends it.

William Brown, a maniac killed Chas. Robinson, of near Gravelhurst, Ont., because he refused to go out in the rain and wash himself.

MERIT WINS.—We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. W. Dicks, druggist.

The Guion Line steamship Wisconsin brought 126 converts to Mormonism to New York. They were allowed to land and started for the West.

EVERY HOME SHOULD HAVE IT.—It is not always convenient to call a physician for every little ailment. Having Red Flag Oil in the house you have a physician always at hand. It kills rheumatism, neuralgia, burns, bruises, and all aches and pains. Price 25 cents.

There are few things in this life of which we may be certain, but this is one of them. Pan Tula cough and consumption cure has no equal for coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 and 50 cents, at Barnitz's drug store.

It is estimated that about 30,000 applications for pensions under the disability pension act have thus far been received at the Pension Office.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Wm. Cramp & Sons, the shipbuilders, have purchased land near Philadelphia for the erection of the largest shipbuilding works in the world.

Words cannot express the gratitude which people feel for the benefit done them by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Long standing cases of rheumatism yield to this remedy. This medicine thoroughly expels the poison from the blood.

Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, who was the national prohibition candidate for President of the United States in 1888, died at his residence in New York city on Tuesday.

MILES' NERVE & LIVER PILLS.—An important discovery. They act on the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new principle. They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women children. Smallest, mildest, safest. 30 doses for 25 cents. Sent free at Dicks' drug store.

Baltimore ranks seventh among the cities of the United States in population according to the census reports.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.—The Best Salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, tetter, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, ulcers, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. W. Dicks.

Burglars secured $1700 in stamps and some little money from registered letters at Millville, N. J.

Twenty-eight divorces were granted in Philadelphia Saturday.

A syndicate of English and Dutch capitalists have purchased five million acres of land and 75,000 head of cattle in Texas.

China intends to borrow a great quantity of American silver to build strategic railways.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has long held the first place, as a hair-dressing, in the estimation of the public. Ladies find that this preparation gives a beautiful gloss to the hair, and gentlemen use it to prevent baldness and cure humors in the scalp.

By the collision of two trains at Birmingham, Ala., Thursday, six persons were badly hurt.

DRUG AND JEWELRY STORE!
N. E. Cor. Diamond, New Oxford.

-J. W. DICKS-

—DEALER IN—
Pure Drugs,
Medicines,
Chemicals,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Articles,
Choice Perfumery,
Fancy Goods,
Fine Stationery,
Notions, &c.,
Cigars & Tobacco,
Choice Wines and Liquors,
for medicinal use only.
Careful Preparation of Prescriptions
our specialty.

Also, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc., for Sale. Repairing done, and work guaranteed.
All goods in either department warranted as represented.

We are prepared to do
All Kinds of Job Work!

E. G. LOUGH'S MARBLE YARD
opposite the Reformed church,
New Oxford, - Penn'a.

All kinds of Grave Work furnished as cheap as the cheapest, in the latest styles and of the best material. Monuments made a specialty. Persons wishing anything in this line are invited to call and examine his samples before purchasing elsewhere.

J. M. MARTIN,

IRISTOWN, PA.,

—DEALER IN—
All kinds of groceries,
sugars, teas, coffee,
ices, syrups,
spices.
Canned goods: corn, peas,
tomatoes, peaches,
oysters.
Dried Fruit: apples, peaches, prunes, blackberries, corn,
currants, raisins, figs,
dates, etc.
Oranges, apples, rice, hominy, beans, corn starch, buckwheat flour, oat and corn meal, feed, etc., etc.
Cheese, soaps, a full line of notions, toys, fancy goods, queensware, glassware, etc., etc., etc.

I. A. NOEL,

BONNEAUVILLE, PA.

—DEALER IN—Ribbons,
Pushes,
Window Shades,
Table Covers,
Lambrequins,
Linen,
Shoes,
Oil Cloths,
Hats,
Cashmeres,
Satinets,
Shally,
Be Begg,
Ginghams,
Notions,
Groceries,
&c., &c., &c.,
at the lowest possible prices.

J. S. Weaver. N. Linn.

WEAVER & LINCO,

MANUFACTURERS OF

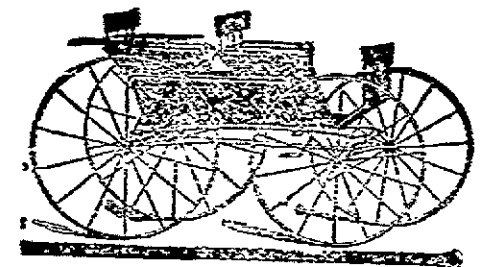

Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, and Farm Machinery generally; AGENTS for Whiteley Binder and Mower, and Farming Implements of every description.

Having purchased the well-known Foundry and Machine Shops of Diehl Co., the subscribers are prepared to build Threshers! Horse Powers, and Farm Machinery generally. They have all the Diehl patterns and are prepared to build new machines and repair Traction Engines and Separators and Machinery of all kinds, or furnish castings for same, at short notice.

Mill Work by experienced workmen. Pulleys, Shafting, and Hangers to order. Castings to order at the lowest market prices. General machine repairing promptly done at moderate charges. Satisfaction always guaranteed. Stores, Stove Grates, Cellar Grates, Bath Stoves, Kettles, Hog Troughs, repairs for all kinds of Pumps, and a large lot of Machine Castings always in stock for sale. Horse Shoeing & General Blacksmithing promptly attended to. Shops on Hanover St., New Oxford, Pa.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE!

Z. H. CASHMAN,
having leased the Brick Warehouse on Hanover street, New Oxford, Pa., will buy and sell all kinds of grain and country produce, such as Wheat, Hay Straw, Rye, Corn, Oats, Potatoes, Bran, Middlings, Chop, &c.; Also
THE BEST BRANDS OF FLOUR,
Coarse and Fine Salt, &c.,
and solicits a liberal share of public patronage. Sellers and buyers will find it to their advantage to give him a visit. Free delivery to any part of the borough. Car leaves New Oxford every Thursday afternoon for Baltimore; returning, leaves New Oxford every Friday at 1 o'clock, p. m. All orders left with him will receive prompt attention.

CARRIAGES & BUGGIES!

BOND & CO.

(successors to Weaver Co.)
Manufacturers of

Light Carriages!

of every description.

Every vehicle turned out of our Works is made throughout—wood work, ironing, trimming, painting, in our own shops, under our own supervision; and we are thus enabled to guarantee full satisfaction in every particular. Top and No-Top Buggies, Jump Seats, for and 1 passenger, Extension-Top Phaetons, Brewster, Ide-Bar Buggies, Plant Box Buggies, 2 and 3 spring Phaetons, Dayton Wagons, &c.

We are prepared to do all kinds of repairing such as Painting, Smithing, Trimming, and Wood-work. All work done in the best manner and at reasonable prices. Call and see our stock. BOND CO., Corner of High and Lotonts, New Oxford, Pa.

—GO TO—

John H. Nau

Littlestown, Pa., for your

TOMBSTONES

As my business has been greatly increased on account of cheap and substantial work, I have been compelled to get additional hands who are killed in fine work. I am at all times prepared to furnish the most beautiful

Monuments, Tombstones, Lintels, Door Sills, &c., at Bargains.

My work extends all through Carroll and Frederick counties, Md., and Adams and York counties, Pa. I guarantee my prices and work to suit all persons making purchases from me. Call and examine and satisfy yourself. All orders promptly attended to. Work delivered free of charge. Yards on Frederick street, Littlestown, Pa.

PHELPS PLOWS
—CHILLED—

Have taken First Prize over all the

LEADING PLOWS

—MANUFACTURED—

WHAT MORE CAN YOU ASK?

Send to us for Prices, Testimonials, and Illustrated Circular.

OUR GANG PLOWS

For FALLOW or STUBBLE, VINEYARD, HOPS or SMALL FRUIT CULTURE.

DITCHING and SUB-SOIL PLOWS.

Best, Cheapest, and Most Durable.

Enquire of Dealers, or send to us before Purchasing.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS to farmers where we have no agents.

Phelps Chilled Plow Works,

PHELPS, N. Y.

27 STYLES

BICYCLES

$10 TO $135

FINEST LINE, LARGEST STOCK

BETWEEN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO.

SEND FOR CATALOGUES OR CALL AND SEE OUR MACHINES.

AGENTS WANTED in every town where we are not represented.

THE MERRITT TYPE WRITER $15

EVERYBODY'S TYPE WRITER.

STANDS AT HEAD OF ALL LOW PRICED MACHINES.

DOES WORK EQUAL TO $100 MACHINE.

Send for Circular. YOU WANT ONE.

STANDARD CYCLE CO.,

588 Main St., BUFFALO, N. Y.

We do job work of all kinds cheap and at the shortest notice.

CARVER & LITTLE,
Merchant Tailors. Ready-made Clothing

Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Dry Goods, Notions, Carpets, Feathers, &c., &c.

Full line of Spring Dress Goods, Plaids, Stripes and Plain Shades, Brocade Silk Dress Trimmings in all the leading shades, Gros-grain and Surah Silks in black and all shades. 18 shades Silk Velvet, good quality, at $1.25 a yard. Big assortment of Hamburg Edging and Inserting, many new styles. Best XXX selected Live Geese Feathers. Big lot of CARPETS and Oil Carpets at lowest prices. Rag and Jute Carpets made to order. Job lot of ladies' Jersey Vests at 10 cents each. OUR MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT is better stocked than ever. We have the finest line of Suitings and Trouserings ever shown in Hanover. A first-class Cutter, and good workmen, enables us to guarantee a perfect fit in every case. Examine our stock before buying.

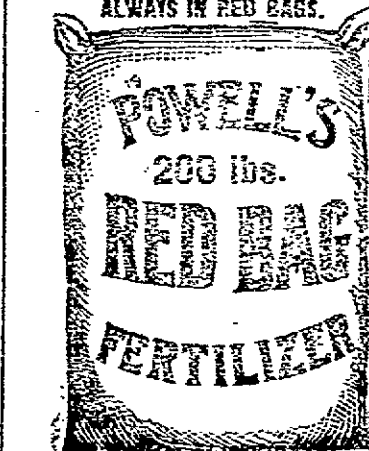

CARVER & LITTLE.
Cor. Broadway and Fountain Sq., HANOVER, PA.

FOR RYE, WHEAT, GRASS
And Permanent

Pure ANIMAL BONE, Dissolved ANIMAL BONE, and ANIMAL BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

Valuable Circulars and Samples Free on application.

JOSHUA HORNER, JR., & CO., Bowly's Wharf Baltimore, Md.

—POWELL'S—
RED BAG FERTILIZER

A First-class Fertilizer, containing PLANT FOOD in a concentrated form, which not only produces large crops, but permanently improves the land. Descriptive pamphlet free.

AGENTS WANTED.

W. S. POWELL, FERTILIZER MANUFACTURER,

And dealer in all kinds of Fertilizer Material.

BALTIMORE, MD.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

The undersigned having purchased the Warehouse recently occupied by H. J. Myers, on Pitt street, New Oxford, Pa., will buy all kinds of grain such as

Wheat, Rye, Oats, Corn, Clover and Timothy Seed, Hay and Straw.

Will also keep on hand and for sale,

FLOUR AND FEEDS, SALT, &c.

LUMBER AND COAL!

The Lumber and Coal business will be continued as heretofore, with a full stock of all kinds of Lumber and Coal, which will be sold at bottom prices. Thankful for the liberal patronage extended to me in the past, I will endeavor to merit a continuance of the same.

A. SHEELY.

THE CELEBRATED
NEW OXFORD ICE CREAM!

The undersigned wishes to announce to the public that he is giving his entire personal attention to the manufacturing of ICE CREAM, having an engine to run his machinery, and with his long and extended experience in the business, is now more fully prepared to furnish

PIC-NICS,

CELEBRATIONS,

RETAILERS and FAMILIES

at the shortest notice with the best of ice cream, well packed in ice, delivered at a low price, or delivered elsewhere and sent by SPECIAL RATES.

He returns his thanks to his many patrons and kindly requesting them as well as all others who may become his patrons to return cards and stands as soon as supplied. All Cream guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. Blue Front, on Pitt Street, near the H. R. Depot, New Oxford, Adams county, Pa.

D. J. A. Melhorn.

NEW OXFORD
Mounting Mills!

John Sealt, Proprietor.

CHOICE FAMILY FLOUR AND PURE FLOUR! This flour is put up in 1/2 and 1/4 bbl. sacks, and will make Nicer, Sweeter and More Nutritious Bread than any other flour in the country. For sale in New Oxford by Geo. N. Warner and Z. H. Cashman.

All kinds of grinding done at short notice. Bran, Chop and all other kinds of feeds for sale at the lowest cash prices. Call over wagon to New Oxford, etc. Monday and Tuesday. Postoffice address New Oxford, Pa.

NEW OXFORD

AUCTIONEERING!

GEORGE L. COLESTOCK, offers his service to the public as Auctioneer. Charges moderate and satisfaction guaranteed. Postoffice address New Oxford, Adams county, Pa.

16

SPLENDID PLANTS FOR

blooming, bedding, trailing, foliage, etc.—Vigorous growers—warranted.

$1

14

WELL KNOWN APPLE TREES

of the BEST and most productive varieties, such as Golden Wonder, Red Delicious, etc., etc., for sale at the lowest cash prices. Call over wagon to New Oxford, etc. Monday and Tuesday. Postoffice address New Oxford, Pa.

$1.25

FERN CLIFF GREENHOUSES,

P. O. Box 522. SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

25 Cts. will pay for the ITEM for three months. Send in your names. All the latest new

ROTARY SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE

RADICAL DEPARTURE FROM OLD STYLE MACHINES.

Shuttle Wheel-shaped.

Shuttle moves continuously in one direction.

FRICION NEARLY ABOLISHED.

Runs one-half faster—with same motion of foot.

Runs One-Half Easier.

Makes less than one-half the noise.

Rotary Motion is the Only True Method of Driving a Sewing Machine. Be not Behind the Times, but call on our agent and examine the "STANDARD," or send to us for circulars, etc.

CHARLES C. BEMONS, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gen'l. Agt. for Western Pennsylvania and Western Maryland.

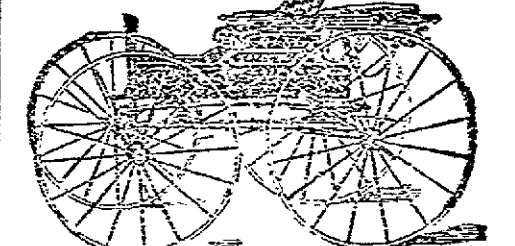

BEST COUGH MEDICINE,

PISO'S CURE
FOR CONSUMPTION.

It has permanently cured THOUSANDS of cases pronounced by doctors hopeless. If you have promontory symptoms, such as Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, &c., don't delay, but use PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION immediately. By Druggists. 25 cents.

NEW OXFORD COACH FACTORY!

Jos. H. LAWRENCE, Proprietor.

—ALL KINDS OF—

CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, &c.,

always on hand or built at short notice.

Every vehicle manufactured is made throughout in my own shops, by competent mechanics, every one of whom has served a regular apprenticeship at his trade; I am thus enabled to guarantee satisfaction in every particular.

—REPAIRING—

of all kinds done promptly, at reasonable prices. Works and office on Hanover street, New Oxford, Pa.

Jos. H. LAWRENCE.

Subscribe for the ITEM, only $1.

The New Oxford Item.

NEW OXFORD, PA.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1890.

A FORTUNATE WOMAN.—Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., has reason to be very thankful. She was a great sufferer from heart disease for years. Was short of breath, had hungry spells, pain in side, fluttering, faintness, etc. After taking two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, she says, "I am better than for years. My mind and eyesight have improved wonderfully. I advise all persons thus afflicted to use this great remedy. J. W. Dicks, druggist, recommends and guarantees it. Dr. Miles' work on heart disease, containing marvelous testimonials, free.

James Melvin, a war veteran, portions of whose body had become ossified within a few years, and for whom a pension of $100 a month specially passed Congress last month, died on Saturday, in Concord Massachusetts. His sufferings for several years past were excruciating.

A SAFE INVESTMENT.—Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case when used for any affection of throat, lungs or chest, such as consumption, inflammation of lungs, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at Dicks' drug store.

Rev. Daniel B. Martin, a Methodist preacher, of Birmingham, Ala., killed Samuel Walker, a rival in love affairs, by splitting his head open with an axe.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.—Druggists everywhere report that the sales of the Restorative Nervine—a nerve food and medicine—are astonishing; exceeding anything they ever had, while it gives universal satisfaction in headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, sexual debility, headache, poor memory, fits, dizziness, etc. L. Burton & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Ambrey & Murphy, of Battle Creek, Mich.; C. B. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., and hundreds of others state that they never handled any medicine which sold so rapidly, or gave such satisfaction. Trial bottles of this great medicine and book on nervous diseases, free at J. W. Dicks' who guarantees and recommends it.

William Brown, a maniac killed Chas. Robinson, of near Gravelhurst, Ont., because he refused to go out in the rain and wash himself.

MERIT WINS.—We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. W. Dicks, druggist.

The Guion Line steamship Wisconsin brought 126 converts to Mormonism to New York. They were allowed to land and started for the West.

EVERY HOME SHOULD HAVE IT.—It is not always convenient to call a physician for every little ailment. Having Red Flag Oil in the house you have a physician always at hand. It kills rheumatism, neuralgia, bruises, and all aches and pains. Price 25 cents.

There are few things in this life of which we may be certain, but this is one of them, Pan Tina cough and consumption cure has no equal for coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 and 50 cents, at Barnitz's drug store.

It is estimated that about 30,000 applications for pensions under the disability pension act have thus far been received at the Pension Office.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Wm. Cramp & Sons, the shipbuilders, have purchased land near Philadelphia for the erection of the largest shipbuilding works in the world.

Words cannot express the gratitude which people feel for the benefit done them by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Long standing cases of rheumatism yield to this remedy. This medicine thoroughly expels the poison from the blood.

Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, who was the national prohibition candidate for President of the United States in 1888, died at his residence in New York city on Tuesday.

MILES' NERVE & LIVER PILLS.—An important discovery. They act on the liver stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new principle. They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women children. Smallest, mildest, surest. 30 doses for 25 cents. Samples free at Dicks' drug store.

Baltimore ranks seventh among the cities of the United States in population according to the census reports.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.—The Best Salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, tetter, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, ulcers, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. W. Dicks.

Burglars secured $1700 in stamps and some little money from registered letters at Millville, N. J.

Twenty-eight divorces were granted in Philadelphia Saturday.

A syndicate of English and Dutch capitalists have purchased five million acres of land and 75,000 head of cattle in Texas.

China intends to borrow a great quantity of American silver to build strategic railroads.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has long held the first place, as a hair-dressing, in the estimation of the public. Ladies find that this preparation gives a beautiful gloss to the hair, and gentlemen use it to prevent baldness and cure humors in the scalp.

By the collision of two trains at Birmingham, Ala., Thursday, six persons were badly hurt.

DRUG
—AND—
JEWELRY STORE!
N. E. Cor. Diamond, New Oxford.

-J. W. DICKS-

—DEALER IN—
Pure Drugs,
Medicines,
Chemicals,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Articles,
Choice Perfumery,
Fancy Goods,
Fine Stationery,
Notions, &c.,
Cigars & Tobacco,
Choice Wines and Liquors,
for medical use only.

Careful Preparation of Prescriptions our specialty.

Also, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc., for sale. Repairing done, and work guaranteed. All goods in either department warranted as represented.

We are prepared to do
All Kinds of Job Work!

E. G. LOUGH'S
MARBLE YARD
opposite the Reformed church,
New Oxford, - Penn'a.

All kinds of Grave Work furnished as cheap as the cheapest, in the latest styles and of the best material. Monuments made a specialty. Persons wishing anything in his line are invited to call and examine his samples before purchasing elsewhere.

J. M. MARTIN,

IRISTOWN, PA.,
—DEALER IN—
All kinds of groceries,
sugars, teas, coffee, syrups, spices.
Canned goods: corn, peas, tomatoes, peaches, oysters.
Dried Fruit: apples, peaches, prunes, blackberries, corn, currants, raisins, figs, dates, etc.
Oranges, apples, rice, hominy, beans, corn starch, buckwheat flour, oat and corn meal, feed, etc., etc.
Cheese, soaps, a full line of notions, toys, fancy goods, queensware, glassware, etc., etc., etc.

I. A. NOEL,
BONNEAUVILLE, PA.

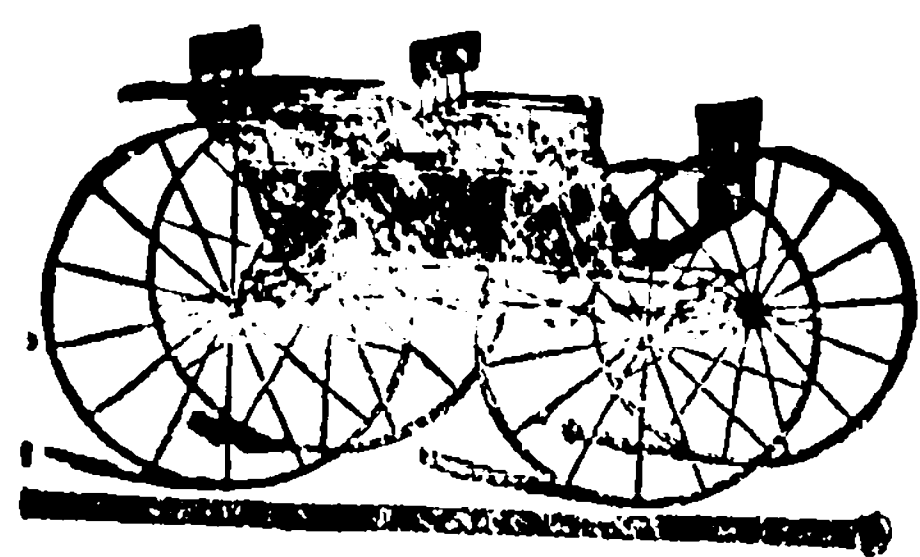

—DEALER IN—
Ribbons,
Plushes,
Window Shades,
Table Covers,
Lambrequins,
Linens,
Shoes,
Oil Cloths,
Hats,
Cashmeres,
Satines,
Shally,
Be Bege, Gingham, Notions,
Groceries,
&c., &c., &c.,
at the lowest possible prices.

J. S. Weaver. N. Lugg.
WEAVER & LINCK,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, and Farm Machinery generally. AGENTS for Whiteley Binder and Mower, and Farming Implements of every description.

Having purchased the well-known Foundry and Machine Shops of Diehl Co., the subscribers are prepared to build Threshers! Horse Powers, and Farm Machinery generally. They have all the Diehl patterns and are prepared to build new machines and repair Tractor Engines and Separators and Machinery of all kinds, or furnish castings for same, at short notice. Mill Work by experienced workmen. Pulleys, shafting, and hangers to order. Castings to order at the lowest market prices. General machine repairing promptly done at moderate charges. Satisfaction always guaranteed. Stoves, Grates, Cellar Grates, Sash Stoves, Weights, Kettles, Hog Troughs, repairs for all kinds of Pumps, and a large lot of Machine Castings always in stock for sale. Horse Shoeing & General Blacksmithing promptly attended to. Shops on Hanover St., New Oxford, Pa.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE!

Z. H. CASHMAN,
having leased the Brick Warehouse on Hanover Street, New Oxford, Pa., will buy and sell all kinds of grain and country produce, such as Wheat, Hay Straw, Rye, Corn, Oats, Potatoes, Bran, Middlings, Chop, &c., Also
THE BEST BRANDS OF FLOUR,
Coarse and Fine Salt, &c., and solicits a liberal share of public patronage. Sellers and buyers will find it to their advantage to give him a trial. Free delivery to any part of the borough. Car leaves New Oxford every Thursday afternoon for Baltimore, returning, leaves Hanover Station every Friday at 4 o'clock, p. m. All orders left with him will receive prompt attention.

CARRIAGES & BUGGIES!
BOND & CO.
(successors to Weaver Co.)
Manufacturers of Light Carriages!

of every description

Every vehicle turned out of our Works is made throughout—wood work, ironing, trimming, painting, in our own shops, under our own supervision; and we are thus enabled to guarantee full satisfaction in every particular. Top and No-Top Buggies, Jump Seats, for Wood work, Extension Top Phaetons, Brewster, Ide-Bar Buggies, Plain Box Buggies, 2 and 3 spring Phaetons, Dayton Wagons, &c.

We are prepared to do all kinds of repairing such as Painting, Smithing, Trimming, and Wood work. All work done in the best manner and at reasonable prices. Call and see our stock. BOND CO. Corner of High and Lollons St., New Oxford, Pa.

—GO TO—
John H. Nau
Littlestown, Pa., for your
TOMBSTONES

As my business has been greatly increased on account of my cheap and substantial work, I have been compelled to get additional hands who are killed in fine work. I am at all times prepared to furnish the most beautiful

Monuments, Tombstones, Lintels, Door Sills, &c., at Bargains.

My work extends all through Carroll and Frederick counties, Md., Adams and York counties, Pa. I guarantee my prices and work to suit all persons making purchases from me. Call and examine and satisfy yourself. All orders promptly attended to. Work delivered free of charge. Yards on Frederick street, Littlestown, Pa.

PHELPS
—CHILLED—PLOWS

Have taken First Prize over all the LEADING PLOWS
—MANUFACTURED—
WHAT MORE CAN YOU ASK?

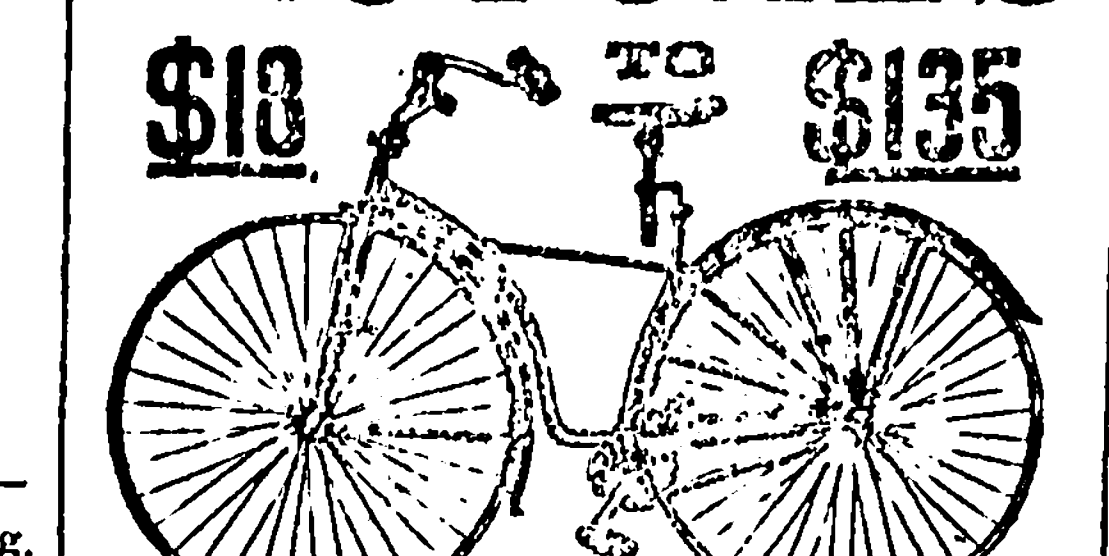

Send to us for Prices, Testimonials, and Illustrated Circular.

OUR GANG PLOWS
For FALLOW or STURGE, VINEYARD, HOES or SMALL FRUIT CULTURE.
DITCHING and SUB-SOIL PLOWS.
Best, Cheapest, and Most Durable.

Enquire of Dealers, or send to us before Purchasing. SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS to farmers where we have no agents.

Phelps Chilled Plow Works,
PHELPS, N. Y.

27 STYLES
—OF—
BICYCLES

FINEST LINE, LARGEST STOCK
BETWEEN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO.

SEND FOR CATALOGUES OR CALL AND SEE OUR MACHINES.

AGENTS WANTED in every town where we are not represented.

THE MERRITT TYPE WRITER $15
EVERYBODY'S TYPE WRITER.

STANDS AT HEAD OF ALL LOW PRICED MACHINES. DOES WORK EQUAL TO $100 MACHINE.

Send for Circular, YOU WANT ONE.

STANDARD CYCLE CO., 588 Main St., BUFFALO, N. Y.

We do job work of all kinds cheap and at the shortest notice.

CARVER & LITTLE, Merchant Tailors.

Ready-made Clothing
Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Dry Goods, Notions, Carpets, Feathers, &c., &c.

Full line of Spring Dress Goods, Plaids, Stripes and Plain Shades, Brocade Silk Dress Trimmings in all the leading shades, Gros-grain and Surah Silks in black and all shades. 18 shades Silk Velvet, good quality, at $1.25 a yard. Big assortment of Hamburg Edging and Inserting, many new styles. Best XXX selected Live Geese Feathers. Big lot of CARPETS and Oil Carpets at lowest prices. Rag and Jute Carpets made to order. Job lot of ladies' Jersey Vests at 10 cents each. OUR MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT is better stocked than ever. We have the finest line of Suitings and Trouserings ever shown in Hanover. A first-class Cutter, and good workmen, enables us to guarantee a perfect fit in every case. Examine our stock before buying.

CARVER & LITTLE.
Cor. Broadway and Fountain Sq., HANOVER, PA.

FOR RYE, WHEAT, GRASS
And Permanent

Pure ANIMAL BONE, Dissolved ANIMAL BONE, and ANIMAL BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

Valuable Circulars and Samples Free on application,
JOSHUA HORNER, JR., & CO., Bowly's Wharf, Baltimore, Md.

ALWAYS IN RED BAGS.
POWELL'S RED BAG FERTILIZER
200 lbs.
A First-class Fertilizer, containing PLANT FOOD in a concentrated form, which not only produces large crops, but permanently improves the land. Descriptive pamphlet free.
AGENTS WANTED.
W. S. POWELL, FERTILIZER MANUFACTURER,
And dealer in all kinds of Fertilizer Material.
—BALTIMORE, MD.—

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

The undersigned having purchased the Warehouse recently occupied by H. J. Myers, on Pitt Street, New Oxford, Pa., will buy all kinds of grain such as
Wheat, Rye, Oats, Corn, Clover and Timothy Seed, Hay and Straw.

Will also keep on hand and for sale,
FLOUR AND FEEDS, SALT, &c.

LUMBER AND COAL!

The Lumber and Coal business will be continued as heretofore, with a full stock of all kinds of Lumber and Coal, which will be sold at bottom prices. Thankful for the liberal patronage extended to me in the past, I will endeavor to merit a continuance of the same.

A. SHEELY.

THE CELEBRATED
NEW OXFORD ICE CREAM!

The undersigned wishes to announce to the public that he is giving his entire personal attention to the manufacturing of ICE CREAM, having an engine to run his machinery, and with his long and extended experience in the business, is now more fully prepared to furnish

PIC-NICS, CELEBRATIONS,

RETAILERS and FAMILIES

at the shortest notice with the best of ice cream, well packed in ice, delivered at a liberal rate or delivered elsewhere and sent in SPECIAL CARTS. He returns his thanks to his many patrons, and kindly requesting them as well as all others who may be desiring to patronize him to return orders and stand as soon as possible. All cream guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. Blue Front, on Pitt Street, near the H. B. Depot, New Oxford, Adams county, Pa.

D. J. A. Melhorn.

NEW OXFORD
Flouring Mills!

John Seuff, Proprietor.

CHOICE FAMILY ROLLER AND PURE FLOUR! This flour is put up in 2 and 4 bbl. sacks, and will make White, Sweet and More Nutritious Bread than any other flour in the country. For sale in New Oxford by Geo. N. Warner and Z. H. Cashman. All kinds of grinding done at short notice. Bran, chop and all other kinds of feeds for sale at the lowest cash prices. Delivery wagon to New Oxford every Monday and Thursday. Postoffice address New Oxford, Pa.

AUCTIONEERING!

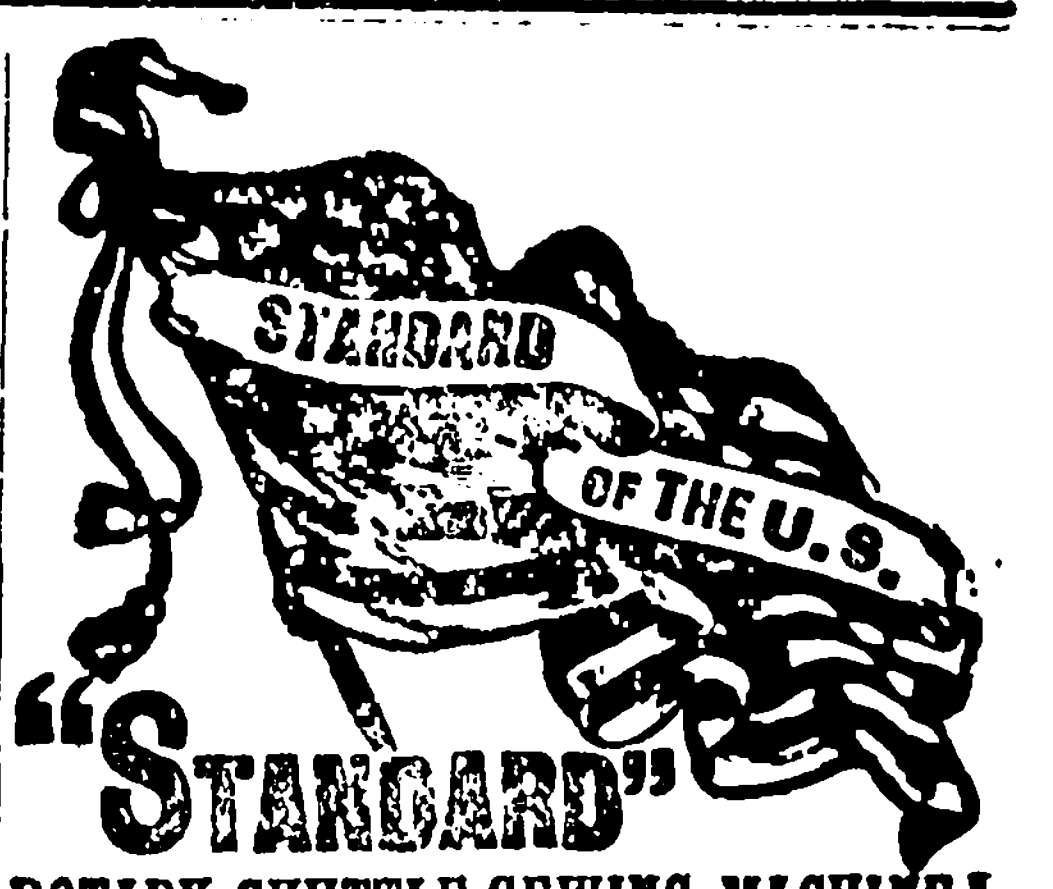

GEORGE L. COLESTOCK, offers his services to the public as Auctioneer. Charges moderate and satisfaction guaranteed. Postoffice address: New Oxford, Adams county, Pa.

16 SPLENDID PLANTS FOR blooming, bedding, trailing, foliage, etc.—Vigorous growth—warranted. $1

14 WELL KNOWN APPLE TREES, including HESLON and other varieties, all kinds of Flowering Shrubs, Roses, etc., &c. $1.25

FERN CLIFF GREENHOUSES, P. O. Box 522, SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

25 Cts. will pay for the ITEM for three months. Send in your names. All the latest new

ROTARY SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE!

RADICAL DEPARTURE FROM OLD STYLE MACHINES.

Shuttle Wheel-Shaped. The "Standard" is not classed with the old style machines. It is the FRICITION NEARLY ABOLISHED. Runs one-half faster with same motion of foot.

Runs One-Half Easier. Makes less than one-half the noise.

BUY THE BEST!

Rotary Motion is the Only True Method of Driving a Sewing Machine. It does not hold the time, as the old style machines do, but it is true economy to buy the BEST!

CHARLES C. EMMONS, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Gen'l Agt. for Western Pennsylvania and Western Maryland.

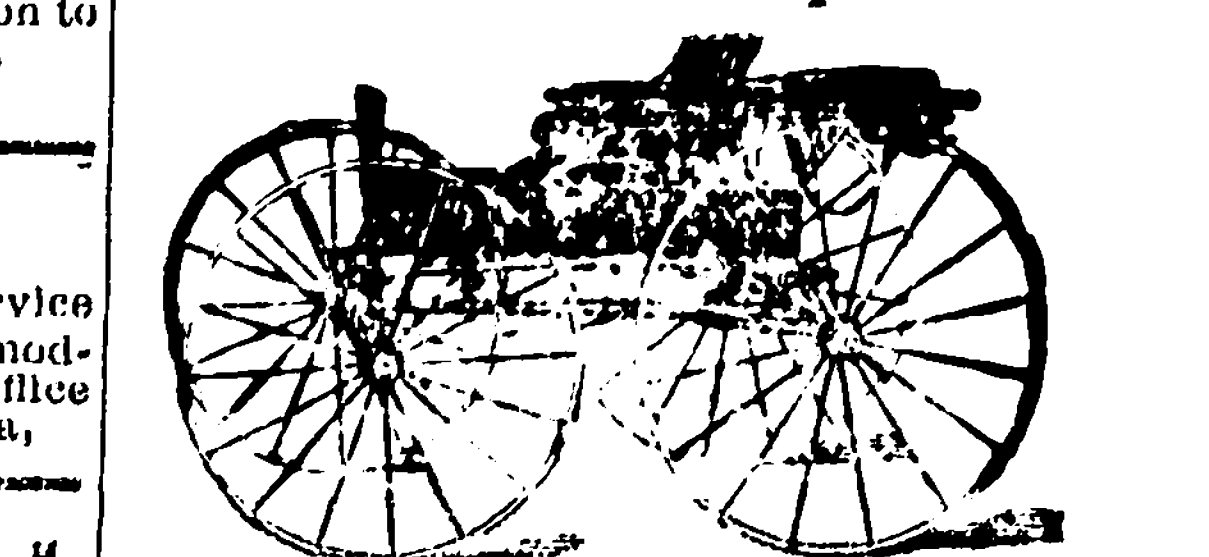

BEST COUGH MEDICINE,

PISO'S CURE
FOR CONSUMPTION.

It has permanently cured THOUSANDS of cases pronounced by doctors hopeless. If you have premonitory symptoms, such as Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, &c., don't delay, but use PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION immediately. By Druggists. 25 cents.

NEW OXFORD COACH FACTORY!

JOS. H. LAWRENCE, Proprietor.

—ALL KINDS OF—
CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, &c.,

always on hand or built at short notice. Every vehicle manufactured is made thorough in my own shops, by competent mechanics, every one of whom has served a regular apprenticeship at his trade. I am thus enabled to guarantee satisfaction in every particular.

—REPAIRING—
of all kinds done promptly, at reasonable prices. Workshops and office on Hanover Street, New Oxford, Pa.

JOS. H. LAWRENCE.
Subscribe for the ITEM, only $1.